BURY U.S. FLAG WITH HANSON, DRY LAW VICTIM

Thousands Pass Bier in Elks' Temple.

BY PHILIP KINSEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 26.—[Special]—The American flag, in the name of which Jacob D. Hanson was killed, was placed across his breast this evening before they closed his casket and started on the journey to his grave. It was not an action of envy or of bitterness. Prohibition was not mentioned at his funeral. But this town saw a demonstration of something today—something bigger than the death of an Elks' secretary and a good fellow.

They came to see his body all yesterday and today, streams of those plain people that Lincoln said God must love, for he made so many of them. It was a funeral almost without tears. It might be compared, not unfavorably, to that demonstration in the capitol at Madison a few years ago, when Fighting Bob La Follette lay dead.

Children Gaze on Dead Face.

They came and looked, held up their children to see the dead face, and passed on. For hours after hours, until late last evening and all day today. They followed him to the train tonight by thousands. Flowers were scattered across his path from airplanes swooping overhead. They gave him a magnificent funeral in the new [illegible] Elks' temple, which stands near the flashing waters that roar over the Niagara cataract. It was such a dedication for this temple as had never dreamed. The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks seems to make a fetish of the American flag, and it was for this reason, a matter of ritual rather than an expression of their sorrow, that such a death could happen under the protection of the flag, that Hanson's body was so decorated today, and these words were read over the body by Exalted Ruler Jim Franklin:

"He who loved his country's flag has not lived in vain. This flag is first in our hearts as loyal Americans and first on our altars as loyal Elks. May its clustering stars and streaming light guide the immortal soul of our departed brother on its journey through eternity."

Written by Wise Man.

They seemed to have been written for this occasion, but were not. The Elks' ritual was written by a wise man. Take, for instance, part of the eulogy.

"He was an American citizen, responsive to every duty of citizenship and brotherhood, within the limitations of the power with which he was endowed. He took the vow beside the altars, he attested his obligation upon the great book of law, he pledged allegiance to the American flag.

"True, our brother has journeyed far from us. His dream ship, frail or staunch, 'night nailed to its leaning mast with mighty stars of hammered gold, has sailed to another shore. The clock of his days has stopped. Upon its dial the motionless shadows mark eleven, with us the golden hour of recollection.

"Whatever may have been his accomplishments, we are his treasurers. As he was true to every one of us, let us be true to him. Thou art I and I am thee, for thy name I have as a talisman upon my heart."

Something to Be Done.

The chief talisman, it would seem from private conversation, that the Elks will wear upon their hearts as a result of this tragic shooting of Hanson by a liquor hunting United States coast guardsman, is that something ought to be done to make such things impossible.

It may take concrete action by the Elks as a national organization, for at their last national convention in July a resolution was adopted to investigate this affair and a special committee was appointed.

Hanson was known to thousands of Elks in this and other states. He had given the best part of his life to building up the order.

Telegrams Pour In.

Telegrams were received from all parts of the country concerning his death. They were from Elks lodges as far away as California. A wreath from the grand exalted ruler rested by the side of the basket. "Jake," as he was known, had had a delight in the charity work of this organization outings for children, and Christmas baskets, and it was his job to take care of the poor. For ten years he had been secretary of the Elks lodge, and for the last three or four years had

OPPOSITION HITS 20 MILLION FISH FANS BOND ISSUE

Publicity Drive for Votes Is Started.

The so-called $20,000,000 fish fans' bond issue, a project calling for the creation of a state wide system of fishing and hunting grounds, was severely criticized yesterday by agencies engaged in protecting the interest of the taxpayers. The criticism followed immediately upon the opening of a publicity campaign urging favorable votes for the issue at the Nov. 6 election.

The vanguard of the publicity consisted of blotters inscribed in red and blue letters urging the approval of the bond issues.

"Vote 'Yes' on 20 million dollar bond issue Nov. 6, 1928," the blotter read. "It will give the people of Illinois an average of 2,500 acres of forest, game and fish preserves, and public shooting, fishing and recreation grounds in every county in Illinois. Entire cost paid by hunting and fishing licenses—no direct tax."

Deception Is Charged.

Shelby M. Singleton, representing both the Citizens' association and the Legislative Voters' league, was one of the first to point out alleged deceptive material in the publicity and to denounce the project. Mr. Singleton unsuccessfully opposed the legislative act authorizing the bond issue, which was approved by the assembly on June 24, 1927.

"The bond issue should be defeated," declared Mr. Singleton. "It was one of the Small administration's measures which was jammed through a supine legislature. It is a wasteful idea."

Analyzing the publicity in its promise that each county in the state would acquire 2,500 acres of fishing and hunting preserve, Mr. Singleton pointed out that this would mean a total of 255,000 acres for the entire state. If the $20,000,000 should be applied only to the purchase of land, the ground would cost less than $80 an acre. In this connection Mr. Singleton asked, "What land could be purchased in Cook county at that price?"

Sees Financial Difficulties.

Further, the critic scouted the contention that the entire cost of retiring the bonds could be met by the revenue from hunting and fishing licenses. He cited the section of the act which authorizes the levying of a direct annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on the bonds as evidence of his petition. He added that the revenue from the licenses is now applied to the maintenance of the state conservation department. Should the license fees be used for the retirement of the bonds, he said, an additional appropriation would be necessary to meet the running expenses of the conservation department.

Mr. Singleton also stated that the Fish Fans' club was one of the principal lobbyists for the act and that the interest of that organization in the measure gave it the popular title, "the Fish Fans' bond issue." Now, he said, with the Fish Fans' club ousted from Lincoln park as a public nuisance, "there can be little justification for such an unnecessary imposition on the tax payers."

A number of the members of the assembly who opposed the measure predicted that the bond issue will travel a rocky road on Nov. 6. And Mr. Singleton said that other organizations devoted to the public welfare are preparing a campaign against approval of the bond issue.

3 DROWN; SAVE 400 FROM FLOODED COUNTRY CLUB

Ellenville, N. Y., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Three persons were reported drowned, and between four and five hundred were rescued by boats, when waters of the Rondout creek engulfed the Napanoch Country club here late today. Two of the drowned were reported to have lost their lives trying to rescue others.

The creek, reported to be running forty feet deep, surrounded many houses to the roofs.

Twenty houses at Napanoch, a village of about 600 residents, were engulfed. The inhabitants fled to higher ground.

Policeman Is Killed Chasing 2 After Fight

Joseph Prihodo, 35 years old, a motorcycle policeman for the village of Stickney, southwest of the city, was killed last evening when his machine crashed at high speed into a hole in the street as he was chasing two men who had fled from the scene of a fight in motor trucks.

Prihodo had come speeding to 39th street and Oak Park avenue, Berwyn, after a woman called the station to say a riot was in progress there between laborers working on the road and a group of strangers who had arrived in an automobile. When the policeman arrived the fight had stopped, but he swerved his machine on to the gravel of 39th street to pursue the two trucks, which were speeding away.

Body Thrown Into Air.

Just as he turned off the concrete of Oak Park avenue, he plunged into the deep hole in the gravel. The impact threw him high in the air. A physician who examined him found him dead from a fractured skull, a broken neck, and broken back.

Chief of Police Charles Novotny of Stickney followed the two trucks and arrested Walter Czarlney and Stanley Jedlowski, the drivers, employés of J. M. Burnsfield, a Stickney contractor. They said they were working on the roadway when the automobile load of strangers started a fight with them. They added they knew the police had been notified and that when the strangers leaped into their automobile and sped away they also tried to escape in the trucks. The two men were booked on charges of disorderly conduct.

Injuries Fatal to Women.

Mrs. Elizabeth Garfield, 4820 North Hermitage avenue, died at the St. James hospital in Chicago Heights last night from injuries received Saturday morning when a car in which she was riding with her husband, Charles Garfield, collided with a car driven by Harry Davis, 5301 Kenwood avenue, at Torrence avenue and the Lincoln highway in Homewood.

The deaths of three other adults and a boy in hospitals from motor accidents during the day brought the Cook county toll for 1928 to 643.

The other victims were Frank Wigawa, 6 years old, struck Saturday while playing in the street near his home, 1411 Elston avenue; Aaron Pearlmutter, 56 years old, 3906 Wellington avenue; Peter Lukosiewicz, 50 years old, 4836 South Crawford avenue, and Bertha Johnson, 50 years old, colored, of 51 East 34th street.

CARNIVAL OWNER SHOT TO DEATH IN AUTO HOLDUP

Ben Benjamin, owner of the Standard Amusement company, was shot and killed last night by two bandits, who robbed him of $725.

Benjamin and two of his associates, Mark Kleiger of 2740 North Spaulding avenue and Sam Gluskin, were returning from their carnival grounds at Central avenue and Diversey parkway to Benjamin's rooms in the North Park hotel, 1927 North Park avenue. At Grand avenue and Leclaire street another auto, containing three men, forced Benjamin to the curb and one of the bandits jumped out, demanding Benjamin's bag.

Benjamin, who had failed to take his car out of gear, lifted his foot unintentionally and the car leaped forward. The bandits fired five shots before the car came to a stop, one bullet fatally wounding Benjamin and another passing through Gluskin's hat. The bandits then grabbed Benjamin's bag and fled.

Motorcycle Policemen Jack Curry and John Ryan, who gave chase, were unable to overtake the bandits.

NEGRO IS CAUGHT SEIZING WOMAN FOR SECOND TIME

Last Friday night Mrs. Zina Chester of 9455 Stony Island avenue, an employé of the Trianon ballroom, was seized by a Negro as she stepped from a street car at 94th street and Stony Island avenue, dragged into a vacant lot, and attacked. He placed his hand over her mouth to check her screaming and she bit him.

Last night as she stepped from the street car at the same place and hour, a Negro attempted to seize her. Her husband, who had come to the car line to meet her, stepped out of the shadows and struck the assailant who ran to a car parked nearby and fled.

A police car from the Hyde Park station came along at that moment and took up the chase. The Negro was captured at 51st street and Harper avenue.

Teeth marks in his hand identified him as the first assailant also and at the police station he confessed.

Wacker Grill Bombed; Windows Shattered

A black powder bomb placed in the doorway of the Wacker Grill, 220 North Clark street, early this morning, shattered the front of the building and broke windows in the neighborhood. Damage was estimated at $1,000. The police learned the place is run by Sam Steffel with Gibby Kaplan as manager. It is under federal injunction for violation of the prohibition law and police attributed the bombing beer peddlers.

Jury to Trace 'Racket' Gifts to Politicians

An inquiry into alleged contributions by racketeers to the "America First" primary election campaign fund will be made this week by the special fraud grand jury. Homer K. Galpin, boss of the Twenty-seventh ward, is expected to be a witness before the grand jury.

Mr. Galpin yesterday was believed to be on his way back to Chicago from a vacation in northern Wisconsin in order to be on hand to testify. He will be required to sign an immunity waiver before taking the stand, it was stated.

Frank J. Loesch, chief special prosecutor, and David D. Stansbury, his first assistant, are expected to resume direct charge this week of the inquiry into primary election funds and violence in the Twentieth, Twenty-seventh, and in other wards.

Leader in Thompson Group.

Mr. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county central committee, is a leader in the political organization of Mayor Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe.

Various acts of violence, including bombings and shootings, in the ranks of the cleaners' and dyers' organization and in the garage owners' association, have come to the attention of the grand jury, it is understood, and the jury desires to ask Mr. Galpin what sums, if any, found their way into the "America First" coffers from those organizations.

Particularly is the jury desirous of inquiring into the friendly relationship existing between the garage owners' association and the Thompson-Crowe leaders. It is recalled that a large "America First" banner suspended across Clark street near the Hotel Sherman bore the legend: "Donated by the Garage Owners' Association."

Seek Sources of Fund.

Mr. Galpin will also be asked to name all the sources by which the Thompson-Crowe primary campaign chest was filled, and the manner in which the money was spent. Information to the effect that large sums flowed to the "America First" leaders from the bosses of gambling, vice and bootlegging rings and syndicates, in addition to amounts coming from the various racketeers, is in the hands of Mr. Loesch and his assistants, it is reported.

A mass of such evidence has already been placed before the grand jury, which, it was learned, is particularly desirous of asking Mr. Galpin what promises may have been made in return for contributions.

Borden Sea Scout Drowns in Lake

Falls to Death Off Yacht of R.H.Donnelley

Johnston Power, 21 years old, member of the John Borden-Field museum Arctic expedition of last year, was drowned yesterday when he fell overboard the yacht Phantom II, owned by Reuben H. Donnelley, millionaire Chicago printer, and of which the young man was captain. The accident happened seven miles off Mackinac island, where Mr. Donnelley has a summer home. The news was telephoned to the victim's family by the printer.

According to Mr. Donnelley, young Power, who was an all around seaman and an expert swimmer, slipped and struck his head on the rail as he was tossing a bucket of water overboard. He was knocked unconscious, fell over the rail and failed to come up after he had gone down. The body, after some hours of diving by other members of the crew, had not been recovered.

Sea Scout on Expedition.

The victim was the son of Joseph J. Power of 25 West 110th place. He was a student at Crane Junior college and last year was chosen as one of seven Chicago Sea Scouts to be taken by the John Borden-Field museum party on the five months' expedition into the Arctic aboard the Borden yacht, the Northern Light.

Mr. Donnelley had only recently employed young Power to captain the Phantom II. He had taken the youth to the east with him to get the yacht and together with a crew they had sailed it to Mackinac.

Two Others Drowned.

Two other Chicago youths were drowned yesterday.

William Breyer, 18 years old, of 3052 Palmer square, was drowned in Stearns lake, near Grand Haven, Mich., when apparently seized with a heart attack while swimming. He, too, was a student at Crane Junior college.

James Kalina, 19, of 5027 South Fairfield avenue, was drowned while swimming in Maple Hill lake in the Forges Wood section of the Forest Preserves. County highway police said he also was the victim of a heart attack.

INSPECTOR JARS HOMECOMING OF MARION TALLEY

New York, Aug. 26.—[U.P.]—The European plumage of Marion Talley, Kansas City song bird, was rudely ruffled today by a customs inspector who went through her twelve pieces of luggage.

Apparently acting on a tipt that the opera star was bringing an excess of articles from abroad, the inspector pried wooden boxes open and broke the lids of cardboard packages in his search.

Little attention was paid to a pile of declared purchases laid out by the singer's mother, Mrs. Helen Talley, and her sister, Florence, soon after the liner Belgenland docked.

Eventually the inspector sighted a Paisley shawl with a declared value of $25. Mrs. Talley said it had been purchased in London as a hand made article. The inspector appraised it as a machine made shawl, value $25.

The inspector assessed the singer's goods at $7.60 duty above the $300 allowance for the three.

15 COUNTRIES TO SIGN KELLOGG PACT IN PARIS

Stresemann Hailed by Frenchmen.

"Most Helpful."

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany, who arrived in Paris today to sign the Kellogg pact to outlaw war, said:

"It would need a pretty severe illness to keep me away from signing this treaty. Mr. Kellogg's signature means to me not only a general condemnation of war but the collaboration of the United States in a powerful move to avert war in Europe. Considering America's aloofness from the league of nations, that is a most powerful development."

Then he added with a smile: "Perhaps we are moving slowly toward a United States of Europe."

PARIS, Aug. 26.—"Vive Stresemann! Vive la paix!" roared 5,000 people jammed in the Gare du Nord this afternoon when the German foreign minister, Dr. Gustav Stresemann, arrived to sign the Kellogg treaty outlawing war. The pact, to which it is hoped all the nations of the world will adhere, will be signed by fifteen countries tomorrow.

Dr. Stresemann's reception marked the first time a German government official has visited Paris for nearly sixty years—since before the war in 1870. Imposing police precautions were taken in case the ultra-nationalists attempted a hostile demonstration.

The spirit of the crowd soon revealed itself as friendly, and when the train rolled into the station the first cheer rang out. The crowd pressed forward as gendarmes linked arms to keep them back. Roars of applause broke out when Minister Stresemann, shaky and a pale yellowish from the serious kidney trouble which has long been bothering him, emerged from his private car, accompanied by the youthful German ambassador, Herr von Hoesch.

French Officials Extend Welcome.

The director of the protocol, Barocq de Fouquières, greeted Minster Stresemann formally on behalf of the French government, and Prefect Chiappe, resplendent in silk hat and white spats, uttered his welcome.

Foreign Minister Stresemann posed for photographers, and then, with police clearing the way, walked outside, where an automobile awaited him.

The German delegate walked past the big pylons of the Gare du Nord, engraved with names of thousands of railroad employés killed during the war, and past a squad of French poilus in tin hats and with rifles, who were en route to the military depots in north France.

Another tremendous roar of cheers broke out as Dr. Stresemann clambered into the automobile, and with a carload of detectives preceding and following him, while gendarmes kept the crowds at the curb, he was whirled to the Germany embassy.

Calls on Briand.

Foreign Minister Stresemann immediately called on Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France. He noted the German republic's flag floating over Quai d'Orsay, the first time a German flag had flown there since 1914. The French foreign minister returned the call at the Germany embassy, near the ministry of war, which was the target of most German air raiders in war time.

Fellow passengers said Dr. Stresemann gazed with interest at the French countryside, most of which was occupied by the kaiser's army during the war. He studied the new houses, farms, and factories which have sprung up in place of the buildings shattered by shells. He noted, besides, the shriveled and splintered trees in forests not yet recovered from the bombardments of the war, and shell-pocked fields and meadows where great battles occurred.

Kellogg and Poincare Talk.

"We had a very enjoyable conversation," was the only comment Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg would make concerning the half hour call he made on Premier Raymond Poincare this afternoon.

"Did you discuss the question of the debt?" the American secretary of state was asked.

"I cannot discuss the topic of the conversation," replied Mr. Kellogg.

A reliable source said the French premier and finance minister outlined to Mr. Kellogg the domestic difficulties over formally ratifying the Berenger-Mellon war debt agreement, but gave assurances that the annuities would be paid unofficially to the United States regularly until expected developments in the reparations question permit parliamentary ratification.

Silent on Anglo-French Entente.

Mr. Kellogg absolutely refused to make any remark concerning the Anglo-French naval compromise.

"I can not and do not intend to make any statement on that matter here, or anywhere abroad," he said.

Asked whether the administration in Washington really was apprehensive over the scope of the Franco-British agreement, he asked, "I do not seem apprehensive, do I?"

Mr. Kellogg was host at an official banquet at the American embassy tonight. The following guests were present:

Ambassador Myron T. Herrick, Parmely Herrick, his son; Mrs. Parmely Herrick, Premier Poincare, Foreign Minister Briand, Lord Cushendun of Great Britain, Foreign Minister Paul Hymans of Belgium, Foreign Minister Eduard Benes of Czecho-Slovakia, State Minister Count Ushida of Japan, Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, President William T. Cosgrave of the Irish Free State, Foreign Minister Count August Zaleski of Poland, Count and Countess Gaetano Manzoni of Italy.

Also Senator and Mrs. McLachlan of Australia, Sir C. V. Parr, high commissioner in London of New Zealand, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Smith, the former the high commissioner in London for South Africa; Ambassador and Mme. Claudel, the British, Belgian, German, and Polish ambassadors, Japanese Ambassador Adacia and his wife, the Czecho-Slovak minister, M. Osukusky, and Mme. Osukusky, the Canadian minister and Mrs. Robert Olds, the chief of the American section of Quai d'Orsay, Victrolles Berthelot and his wife, Chief of Protocol Barocq de Fouquieres, New Zealand Minister of Marine Anderson, George Gordon, Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, M. and Mme. De la Boulaye, M. Briand's secretary, M. Leger, the Quai d'Orsay attachés, Corbin and Grignon, and Spencer Phenix of Washington.

Menu Is Elaborate.

The menu consisted of consomme froid Madrilene, gaufrettes Parisiennes, truite saumonel cardinal, aigulettes boeuf Richelieu, poulards glacé à la Française, salade Mimosa, haricots verts à la Hollandaise, bombe Belusko, gateaux, and café.

The embassy declined to make public the wine list and liqueurs or name the cocktails which were served.

In his discussion of the pact Mr. Kellogg admitted that the whole validity of the treaty depends on the United States senate's ratification, as the fifteen original signatories must ratify before it becomes operative, and the failure of the United States to adopt it wrecks the scheme. This is in marked contrast with the league of nations pact, which became operative through the ratification of the other powers, despite America's refusal to participate.

Mr. Kellogg explained why only six original big powers were selected to draft and sign the treaty first—since expanded to the British dominions. He said it would be impossible to have negotiated the treaty within a reasonable time, dealing with all fifty nations of the globe.

All states except Russia and Afghanistan, which the United States does not recognize, may adhere to the pact whenever they wish, and those two may adhere through some third power with whom they have diplomatic relations.

France is expected to sponsor the adhesion of the soviets and British Afghanistan.

The secretary of state pointed out the impossibility of stipulating when a nation is entitled to go to war through being wantonly attacked by an aggressor, explaining the right of self-defense of states is inherent and does not require being stipulated, and it is up to whatever country considering itself attacked to protect its territory.

Discusses Reservations.

Mr. Kellogg asserted that he does not believe any of the original signatories will ratify with reservations or interpretations, although he admitted that both Great Britain and France, through an interchange of diplomatic correspondence, took official cognizance of a certain explanation he has made in reply to inquiries for precisions.

Thus Great Britain reserves the right to take military measures to safeguard certain undefined spheres of influence, but he pointed out that the United States maintains the right to protect its interests, like the Panama Canal Zone, Hawaii, and the Atlantic island possessions, in addition to the continental homeland.

Will Sign with Regal Pomp.

PARIS, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Briand-Kellogg pact for the renunciation of war will be signed here tomorrow with ceremonies closely akin to regal pomp.

Ushers in gala attire will precede and follow the procession of delegates, one of them carrying an ancient halberd such as kings' minions used to do in royal processions. As they arrive at the Quai d'Orsay the delegates will be received with strict compliacence to the formal by Master of Ceremonies de Fouquieres.

The master of ceremonies will escort the delegates into the presence of Foreign Minister Briand in his private workroom. When all are assembled, the ushers, dressed in blue jackets, red knickerbockers, and white stockings, will lead the procession to the clockroom.

In the clockroom the delegates will take places around a horseshoe table, with M. Briand in the center. At the head of the table will be grouped the principal actors of Locarno and the present anti-war pact negotiations—Stresemann with the other European and Asiatic delegates on Briand's right; Kellogg and the delegates from all the English speaking countries on his left.

KELLOGG PACT FIFTH IN 6 YEARS AIMED AT RENOUNCING OF WAR

PARIS, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Kellogg pact, which is to be signed by 15 nations tomorrow, is the fifth solemn agreement of the kind that has been signed in the last six years.

At Genoa, in May, 1922, 30 nations adopted a resolution whereby they undertook not to commit aggressions upon one another. This failed because of Russian recalcitrance.

At Geneva, in September, 1924, the assembly of the league of nations adopted a protocol which bound the members to substitute arbitration for violence in the settlement of disputes. British refusal to subscribe to the principle of mutual assistance caused this agreement to lapse.

At Locarno, in 1925, France, Belgium, and Germany signed a pact which bound them never to make war upon one another, but settle their controversies by arbitration.

At Havana, in 1927, the Pan-American congress adopted a resolution to taboo war as a means of furthering national policy.

POLICE PUZZLED OVER BOMBING OF NEWSPAPER

Chicago Heights Shaken by Early Morning Blast.

Eighteen hours of investigation by the Chicago Heights police last evening had failed to develop a single clew to the bombing of the offices and plant of the Star, the principal newspaper in the town, early in the morning.

The blast, which was a terrific one, was a mystery in that a motive for it seemed utterly lacking, according to the authorities and the owners, King Williams, its editor, and his brothers, William and Norman, business and advertising managers, respectively.

Tells of Letter Threats.

"The only one I can lay it to is some unknown personal enemy or to someone angered by some news item which has appeared in our paper," King Williams said. He admitted he had received some threatening letters, but they were evidently the work of cranks.

The blast came at 4:20 a. m. The bomb—police believe it was a time contraption—was placed in the doorway of the two story brick building in the heart of Chicago Heights and the explosion, besides wrecking the front end of the structure, broke windows for several blocks around.

Many guests in the Victoria hotel, half a block down the street, were shaken in their beds and a number ran to the street in their night clothes.

Third in Three Months.

The blast was the third in three months and the three were the first in more than five years in the community, the police said. The first, about three months ago, wrecked a model rural home built on a new subdivision near the town; the second wrecked a soft drink parlor and tavern in South Chicago Heights.

The village council during the day authorized a reward of $1,000 for arrest of the bombers or information leading to their arrest.

Farmer-Labor Leader Denies Bolt to Hoover

Motor Boat Upsets, Four Drown in Missouri River

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Four boys drowned in the Missouri river five miles south of here this afternoon when a small motor boat carrying eight persons capsized.

Sessions Start Today

Thousands of colored delegates are arriving in Chicago to attend the 29th annual convention of the Improved Order of Elks of the World, which will open today in Wendell Phillips High school, 39th street and Prairie avenue. Exalted Ruler James C. Martin of Chicago predicts the attendance at 75,000, of whom 25,000 will participate in the parade tomorrow.

Memorial services were held yesterday in the Metropolitan church, 41st street and South Park way, for deceased members of the order.

The finals of the national oratorical contest sponsored by the colored Elks will be held tonight at the Eighth Regiment armory, 35th street and Giles avenue.

Taxicab Stolen, but Police Find It in 20 Minutes

Twenty minutes after it had been stolen from the corner of 18th street and Michigan avenue last night, a taxicab belonging to Sheldon Cohen, 3831 West Van Buren street, was recovered by Sergt. W. J. Byrne and his detective bureau squad. Edward King, 34 years old, of the Mills hotel, 817 West Monroe street, was seized as the thief.

QUITS AS PASTOR OF IMMANUEL BAPTIST CHURCH

Stating that "inasmuch as certain conditions seem to persist, which are not conducive to our necessary well-being and success as pastor and people," the Rev. Robert Van Meigs of Immanuel Baptist church at 2320 Michigan avenue read his resignation from the pulpit to his congregation at yesterday's services.

He asked that it take effect Oct. 1, "or as soon as mutual arrangements may be made."

"There is no ill will or feeling between myself and anybody in the church," the Rev. Mr. Van Meigs said, amplifying his statement. "It is simply that I have failed to see the church develop as I had hoped."

A date will be set by the board of deacons of the church at which the congregation as a whole will vote on the rejection or acceptance of the resignation.

Two Mexican Bandit Chiefs Are Reported Executed

Richly Furred
Taylor Teen Coats
SHOULD BE SELECTED NOW!

Read these seven important reasons why selection now is wise buying:

[1] Now, each coat is individually designed, from the latest Paris fashions.

[2] The variety of individual styles is larger than at any other time of the year.

[3] Only the finest pelts and most carefully blended skins are used in the trimming.... "The Cream of the Furs!"

[5] No mass production. Each model different—none of that large scale manufacture of popular numbers that you find later, resulting in hundreds of coats of the same style.

[6] Greater ease of selection now—no rush—no hurry—and a much wider variety from which to choose!

[7] The coat which you have selected will be carefully kept in our storage vaults free of charge until you are ready for it.

IGOE DEMANDS CONGRESS PROBE DRY SHOOTING

Calls Wounding of Adams an Outrage.

Congressman James T. Igoe of the 6th Illinois district will demand that congress investigate the shooting by dry sleuths of Merle Adams, a salesman, during a raid on an office in the City Hall Square building, he said yesterday.

Adams is in a serious condition at St. Luke's hospital. Arthur R. Franklin, the dry sleuth who shot him on the stairway of the loop building after Adams had fled from the raided office, and Edward Gill, the agent who, witnesses stated, struck him over the head with a blackjack as he lay wounded, are held to the county grand jury on a charge of murderous assault.

Calls It an Outrage.

"To shoot this man was an outrage, but to shoot him, as I'm told, with a dumdum bullet, is infinitely more outrageous," said Congressman Igoe.

When congress convenes in December he will immediately present the facts in the shooting of Adams and demand that high prohibition officials be called upon to explain the "continued indiscriminate shooting of citizens by dry agents, and particularly their use of such terrible missiles as dumdum bullets," Congressman Igoe said.

Enforcement of the liquor laws is under the general supervision of Andrew Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and the congressman intimated Mr. Mellon might be questioned about "various prohibition enforcement methods of which thousands of Americans are becoming tired." For sheer recklessness, said the congressman, the Adams case deserves to be classed with the slaying of Jacob D. Hanson near Niagara Falls, N. Y., who was shot by a dry sleuth as he was driving along a country highway.

Should Bring Showdown.

"I don't believe these agents should be permitted to carry a gun, let alone use dumdum bullets," said Congressman Igoe. "The Adams and the Hanson cases should bring a showdown on such methods, and I'm one of the congressmen who will go after whoever proves responsible for this state of affairs. These agents who rush in any place they please with no warrants and begin shooting are mere political appointees."

Brig. Gen. John V. Clinnin, who was with the A. E. F. in France, was another who had something to say about the use of dumdum bullets.

"If this is actually true that these agents shot Adams with a dumdum bullet, it's the most inhuman thing I ever heard of," he said. "Even in the old pioneer days Americans didn't use such a thing in fighting the savages."

Gen. Clinnin said that not once in the world war did he encounter the use by either side of dumdum bullets, which spread and rend the flesh when they strike.

"Occasionally it was reported that an individual soldier with a murderous mind," he said, "would reverse his bullet, giving it a dumdum effect. But that was rare. A clause in international law forbids their use."

Use of the dumdum bullet by the Russians in the Russo-Japanese war brought from the Japanese a formal protest. This peculiar form of bullet takes its name from the town of Dumdum, in British India, where bullets were creased by the British to meet the onslaughts of fanatical tribesmen, who ignored an ordinary wound as long as they could keep upon their feet.

The government guard placed about Adams' cot at the hospital was withdrawn yesterday, but the hospital was ordered to permit no one to talk to the victim. Mrs. Corinne Adams, his wife, signed the assault warrants against Franklin and Gill.

Assistant State's Attorney Harold L. Levy plans to present the cases before the grand jury this week. He said he might summon a special session of the grand jury early in the week, or else present the case when the grand jurors meet later in the week to prepare their final report.

"I intend hastening this trial as much as possible, because I've always noticed delay benefits these quick trigger dry enforcers," he said.

Prosecutor Levy added that he fully expected the government to take the cases out of state jurisdiction and try the pair, members of George [Hardboiled] Golding's dry squad, in the federal courts. In that event, the defendants will be in position of being prosecuted by the state's attorney's office and defended by the federal district attorney.

Bandits Stagger as They Hold Up 20 and Get $108

Two men who weaved about on their feet and waved revolvers dangerously, early yesterday walked into the T. W. restaurant at 3019 North Clark street, while twenty men were perched up on lunch counter stools, and announced the place was being held up. They left after taking $108 from the cash register.

"I GOTTA DRAG" CLUB IS REPORTED LOSING MEMBERS

Number of Stars Falls Off; One Wearer Arrested.

Popularity of the "I gotta drag" club appeared to be waning yesterday, according to traffic policemen. A tour of Chicago streets showed surprisingly few stars on automobiles, and several policemen remarked that they noticed the absence of the gleaming insignia on big cars which had formerly boasted them.

However, one club member saw his name recorded on a police blotter. He is Norman Schrieber, 30 years old, 6911 Merrill avenue, vice president of the Bankers' State bank, 400 East 47th street, and of the Roosevelt State bank, 3501 Grand boulevard. When questioned by Sergt. Timothy D. Dwyer as to the reason for his presence at 51st street and Michigan avenue at an early hour yesterday morning, Schrieber showed some indignation.

Shows Special Police Star.

He also exhibited a star marked "Special Police—Patrolman 3193" and a certificate issued by former Superintendent of Police Michael Hughes, which gave him permission to wear the star and carry a gun. He said he paid $5 for the certificate, which expired last May 13. The banker talked so vehemently that he was finally taken to the station and charged with disorderly conduct. He was released later on bond.

Those interested in the Star club discovered that taxpayers' money is being expended for handsome bronze and nickle plated stars furnished state legislators. In a recent law passed by the assembly, members and officials of the legislature were ordered furnished with automobile stars. About 300 pairs of these stars have been issued. At [illegible] a pair, the usual price for the stars, the cost of the insignia amounted to approximately $3,000.

"I Gotta Drag" Club.

At Titus Haffe's picnic in Riverview park yesterday afternoon several cars bearing stars marked "Republican Boosters' club" were found parked in a favored spot. One automobile owner apparently thought it unnecessary to obtain state license plates when his car bore this badge of importance. Other owners of automobiles bearing stars, as identified by license numbers, were:

SEWER INSPECTOR—Willis O'Rourke, 1231 Eddy street.

REPUBLICAN BOOSTER CLUB—John C. Schmidt, 1701 Sedgwick street; George Busch, 2549 West Haddon avenue; Andrew Misjukowetz, 32 East 123d street.

SANITARY DISTRICT OF POLICE—D. E. Crowell, 7152 Cornell avenue.

NORTH SHORE PARK DISTRICT OFFICIAL—Edward J. Anderson, 1115 Lunt avenue.

CITY OF CHICAGO OFFICIAL—Southern Illinois Mill and Elevator company, Murphysboro, Ill.

CITY ZONING COMMISSION—Abe Hurwitz, 500 South State street.

Other stars seen on the boulevards, whose inscriptions could not be read because the automobiles were in motion, were on cars owned by Joseph M. Elias, 1703 North Halsted street; Fred• Binder, 1426 Larrabee street; Fred Bayha, 2124 Cuyler avenue; Dr. Snell N. Russell, 2038 Madison street, and Thelma Braun, 1319 Lincoln avenue, Evanston.

"I GOTTA DRAG"

George Busch, 2549 West Haddon avenue, "Republican Boosters' Club."

Southern Illinois Mill & Elevator Co., Murphysboro, Ill., "City of Chicago Official."

Fred L. Boissy, 618 Eastlake terrace, "State of Illinois Department of Trade and Commerce.".

D. E. Crowell, 7152 Cornell avenue, "Sanitary District of Chicago Police."

No state license plate, city license 79-772, "Republican Boosters' Club."

These are a few more members of the "Star league" observed yesterday as they drove or parked their cars with confidence of getting better treatment than the ordinary motorist.

DROPS DEAD AT RAILROAD STATION.

While waiting in the La Salle street station yesterday for a train to take her back to her home at Mokena, Ill., Mrs. Minnie Frehse, 65 years old, dropped dead, apparently of heart disease.

DAYS MAY COME AND DAYS MAY GO, AND SO DOES JOE

Ninety-nine days ago Chicago police began a search for Joe Saltis, beer 99 baron, following refusal of the United States Supreme court to review his gun toting case. Yesterday it was admitted that no positive clew has been procured as to Saltis' whereabouts. Saltis was convicted twenty months ago of the gun charge and sentenced to serve sixty days in the House of Correction by Municipal Judge George A. Curran in South Clark street court.

Saltis is reported to have come and gone at will in his old haunts ever since the police search began.

Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege said yesterday that all his men had received an accurate description of Saltis.

BELIEVE SIX ARE LOST WITH PLANE ON PACIFIC COAST

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Fog hampered the search today for a passenger seaplane which left here yesterday on its regular run to Seattle, Wash., with four passengers and a crew of two. It has not been heard from since.

Seaplanes found no trace of the craft, but on the water opposite Port Townsend, Wash., the searchers observed a large patch of oil. Two hats drifted ashore not far from where the oil was seen. The searchers feared that the ship had fallen and that its passengers and crew had lost their lives.

Aboard the plane when it left Victoria were Thomas E. Lake of California, Dr. D. B. Holden of Victoria, and two others, believed to be Alexander McCallum Scott, British member of parliament, and Mrs. Scott. Harold Walker, veteran air mail pilot, was at the controls. L. Carson of Seattle was co-pilot.

LIQUOR QUESTION PUTS G. O. P. ON THE DEFENSIVE

Dominant Issue in All the Doubtful States.

BY ARTHUR CRAWFORD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Prohibition now looms as the dominant issue in virtually every state in which the outcome in the presidential contest is in doubt. Not only do the Democrats rely upon Al Smith's wet program to carry important eastern and border states, where the principal battlegrounds are centered, but they are prepared to take the aggressive on this issue also in other sections.

Only in the south, where the problem is to keep Democrats in line, will the soft pedal be used on the question.

Republicans on Defensive.

The Republicans find themselves forced to adopt defensive tactics. They recognize that a wave of sentiment against prohibition has swept over the country and that in many Republican states the majority of the voters favor a modification of present laws. Hence their strategy is to hold the wet Republicans for the Hoover-Curtis ticket by advancing the tariff, farm relief and prosperity as overshadowing the liquor question.

In about one-third of the states will prohibition be a dominant issue. These include virtually all of the territory now considered in doubt and will tell the fate of the presidential battle.

That the Democrats have no easy task in normally Republican states on the basis of Smith's prohibition modification program is evident from records of other campaigns.

New York Hopes.

New York has cast its electoral votes for the Republican candidate in every election since 1896 except in the Bull Moose split of 1912. President Coolidge received 864,000 more votes than did John W. Davis in 1924. In the same election, however Smith was elected governor by a margin of 108,000 votes over Theodore Roosevelt Jr. Smith's total was 770,000 greater than that of Davis.

Democrats are now basing their hopes not only on Smith's personal strength in the state but on the fact that in the prohibition referendum in 1926 the vote was 1,763,000 to 598,484 in favor of a modification of the Volstead act to permit the states to determine the alcoholic content of intoxicating beverages.

Wet Sentiment in Bay State.

Massachusetts has a record of having supported Republican presidential candidates in every election since 1872 with the exception of 1912. The Coolidge plurality over Davis in 1924 was 420,000. The present Massachusetts governor is Republican, but one of its senators is Democratic and it has had several Democratic governors. There is pronounced wet sentiment in the state.

Connecticut, like New York, has been consistently Republican nationally since 1896 with the exception of 1912. The Coolidge plurality was 136,000. Here again the wet sentiment, coupled with Smith's personal popularity, is the basis of Democratic hopes. Rhode Island has supported a Democratic presidential candidate but once since 1876, the exception being in 1912. It has, however, twice elected its present Democratic senator, Peter G. Gerry.

New Jersey Extremely Wet.

New Jersey is another state which has been Republican in all presidential elections since 1896 save in 1912. The Coolidge plurality in 1924 was 376,234. The state, however, is regarded as one of the wettest in the union. It has elected Democratic governors and the present Democratic senator, Edward I. Edwards, on wet platforms. The Democrats believe New Jersey is one state that Smith surely can count upon.

Delaware also has a Democratic senator, Thomas F. Bayard, although 1912 was the only year since 1896 that the Democrats won in a presidential contest.

Among the border states Maryland and Missouri have distinguished themselves by being consistently doubtful over a long period of years.

Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, a Democrat and a leading wet, has been elected three times, but both Harding and Coolidge carried the state. The Republicans also won in presidential contests in 1896, 1900, 1904 and 1908. The Democratic presidential candidates were victorious in 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, 1912 and 1916.

The Coolidge margin in 1924 was less than 15,000 and on the strength of a pronounced opposition to prohibition in the state the Democrats believe Smith will beat Hoover.

Missouri a Question Mark.

Missouri was carried by Harding and Coolidge and also by Roosevelt in 1904 and Taft in 1908. Cleveland won it in 1892, Bryan in 1896 and in 1900 and Wilson in 1912 and 1916. The state now has two Democratic senators and a Republican governor. Its present senators are decidedly wet, but drys won the senatorial nomination in both parties in recent primaries.

The wetness of the state is a matter of controversy. A proposal to repeal the state enforcement act in 1926 was defeated, 294,388 to 569,931.

West Virginia has been Republican in presidential contests every year since 1896, except in 1912. Coolidge won by 31.000. It has one Democratic and one Republican senator.

Kentucky has gone Democratic in every presidential year since 1872 except 1896 and 1924. The Coolidge victory has given the Republicans reason to believe that Hoover can win. The Democrats rely on a considerable wet sentiment to win the state's electoral vote for Smith. Coolidge's margin was less than 25,000. The state has one Republican and one Democratic senator.

Wisconsin presents the curious paradox of a state with a Democratic party which has dwindled almost to the vanishing point and yet has excellent chances to win. The reason lies not only in the disposition of La Follette radicals to knife the Republican ticket but in the fact that the state is regarded as overwhelmingly wet.

In a referendum vote on whether congress should modify the Volstead act to allow 2.75 per cent beer, the state voted wet in 1926 by 349,443 to 177,602. Wisconsin's electoral vote has been cast for Republican candidates since 1872 except in 1892 and 1912, when the Democrats won, and in 1924, when the La Follette third party ticket was on top.

Minnesota Is Wabbling.

Reports from Minnesota have indicated that this state, which has supported Republican presidential candidates without a break since 1872, is wabbling this time. The farm issue is partly responsible but the prohibition issue is said to be an even more important factor. Coolidge ran 82,000 votes ahead of La Follette in 1924, with Davis a poor third.

DETAILED PLANS ANNOUNCED FOR 75 STORY TOWER

Building to Be World's Highest—880 Feet.

Detailed building plans for the proposed Chicago Tower—to be the tallest building in the world—have been completed, it was announced yesterday by Walter W. Ahlschlager, architect for the project. It is to be seventy-five stories, or 880 feet high, and it is stated will represent an investment of $45,000,000.

The site for the skyscraper—to be eighty-eight feet taller than the Woolworth Tower—is on Wacker drive, east of Michigan, occupying two square blocks over the Illinois Central tracks.

74,000 Tons of Steel.

Interesting new statistics are revealed in the plans. There will be 74,000 tons of structural steel used for the skeleton and more than 12,000 tons of reinforcing steel will be required to establish resistance to wind pressure.

The normal daytime population of the structure will be 18,000—a number equal to the inhabitants of Bath, Me., or Pomona, Cal. There will be sixty elevators to handle the traffic. Floor area of the Chicago Tower will approximate 3,639,094 square feet, which will be under the 4,000,000 square feet of the Merchandise Mart, now under construction over the Chicago and North Western tracks at the old Wells street station.

Three Types of Buildings.

Although the proposed structure is to be a unit, it will consist of three types of buildings—one containing [illegible] square feet of office space; the Chicago Apparel Mart, with 1,818,168 square feet, devoted to men's apparel and kindred lines, and the Chicago Tower hotel, with 440 rooms, on the east side of the building.

It is stated work is expected to get under way on the structure Feb. 1, [illegible].

TOOMBS TO TELL NEXT CHAPTER OF FINANCING TODAY

Roy C. Toombs, resuming his testimony this morning before Garfield Charles, referee in bankruptcy, will attempt to disclose further assets of Toombs & Daily, which will substantiate his contention that the affairs of that investment house are in "very fair condition," according to Eugene McGarry, his counsel.

The financial strategist, whose affairs in Toombs & Daily, the International Life Insurance company of St. Louis, and the Downers Grove State Bank and Trust company have enmeshed him in court action and threats of criminal procedure, will be examined by Attorney Louis Cohen, who has been engaged in an inspection of the books of Toombs & Daily.

Toombs, through his attorney, issued a lengthy statement yesterday setting forth the negotiations—all of them undertaken in good faith, he says—which have led to his apparent financial debacle. He stated that he was forced into his present situation by a group of business enemies.

BURY U. S. FLAG WITH HANSON, DRY LAW VICTIM

Thousands Pass Bier at Elks' Temple.

worked for this temple where his funeral was held.

The temple was hardly ready for such a ceremony, but by heroic efforts of the workmen and lodge officers, it was made habitable for today.

The lodge room was perfectly arranged. The casket was placed in the center, under a great inverted bowl of rose colored light and a bright star descended from this light on a chain and hung over the body.

Flowers Banked 20 Feet High.

On either side flowers were banked for 20 feet, and glaiolas of purple and white formed a huge background for the ceremony.

The stream of people seemed never ending, like the waters of the blue river that flashed through the trees outside. The officers of the Elks stood vigil all night and all day, dressed in tuxedos, with purple ribbons across their breasts.

They stood by the casket and at all the doors. At 3 o'clock the stream was halted and the funeral services began with a reading and prayer by the Rev. A. S. Bacon of the First Presbyterian church.

The Rev. Mr. Bacon, who has been pastor here for 45 years, went often to the hospital to see Hanson while he was lying there, blinded by the bullet of the coast guardsman, irrational at times. The minister told of his experience then.

"He was such a fair, fine fellow," he said. "I knew he must be all right. He knew my name. We talked. I spoke of the light beyond.

"I asked him if he would like to have me pray, and he said yes, and took my hand.

"Your treasure is the memory of a clean, fine life. Let us be kind and forgiving.

"It is well to stop and ask, is this all? Is this body finally asleep? The question will not die.

"This is the full tide of a summer day. There is Niagara. Her spray is shot with a wonderful rainbow of promise. It is God's promise that this is the beginning of a larger life.

"God is not a great policeman. He loves you.

"The whole country seems touched by this. If you trust the living God no power on earth or in hell can keep you from His love."

Sister and Brother Mourn.

Sitting in a balcony, overlooking this crowded room, were a brother and sister of the dead man. They, too, were sheltered by folds of an American flag. Nine past exalted rulers of the lodge with purple collars and insignia, sat in front of the casket.

When the minister had concluded the Elks service began.

EXALTED RULER—"My brothers, one of the lessons taught by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks is: Do the duty that lies nearest thee. Our present duty, sad though it be, is to pay a just tribute of affection and honor to a brother who has passed through the shadows which curtain the sunlight of eternal morning.

"Upon an occasion of such profound meaning it is meet that we should pause in thoughtful survey of the principles we uphold. The path we follow directs us to live in bonds of charity with all mankind. To do justice to one another raises the standard of human excellence everywhere. Brotherly love is a torch that sheds luster over the whole pathway of life.

"In fraternal recognition of the part borne by our brother in all our work, and bowing to the decree of an all wise providence, I ask you to count in reverent sentiment the mystic hour of eleven, with us the hour of remembrance."

After the chaplain's prayer and the singing of "Lead Kindly Light," the name was called by the secretary:

"Jacob D. Hanson."

In the Name of Charity.

EXALTED RULER—"In vain we call. He has passed into the light which is beyond the valley of the shadow of death; the places that have known him shall know him no more; and again we realize that in the midst of life we are in death."

ESTEEMED LEADING KNIGHT—"Summing up the life work of our departed brother, what record shall be made in the name of charity?"

ESTEEMED LEADING KNIGHT—"I testify to his faithful adherence to the cause of charity."

EXALTED RULER—"Esteemed loyal knight, how shall the devotion to justice be measured?"

ESTEEMED LOYAL KNIGHT—"As the just deserve justice, I declare that he was faithful to justice."

EXALTED RULER—"Esteemed lecturing knight, representing the principle of brotherly love, what is the testimony from your station?"

ESTEEMED LECTURING KNIGHT—"By the fraternal ties that bound him to us, I pronounce him faithful in brotherly love."

EXALTED RULER—"Brother Esquire, what is your tribute to our brother's patriotism?"

BROTHER ESQUIRE, who has been standing immediately beside the altar, now lifted a small American flag reverently from the altar, and holding it before him with both hands, repeated the flag ritual.

Places Flag on Body.

Then he placed the flag on the body. The exalted ruler placed beside it amaranth and ivy, representing immortality and brotherhood, and also a spear of forget-me-nots. He then read the eulogy and the service was closed.

The people, however, were not yet satisfied. They were crowding the stairs and the street outside, waiting for a glimpse of this friend and victim. His death had taken on a significance that was not to be passed lightly. The casket was opened again, and the people filed by until the time to start to the train.

A large number of lodge members accompanied the body to the burial place at Iroquois, Ont., from where Hanson came here as a boy of 16. He was taken across the river at sunset.

BARBER KILLS HIMSELF.

Dominick de Francisco, a barber, 32 years old, committed suicide yesterday by taking poison in his room at 6702 Stony Island avenue.

GUARD OFFICIAL TO SIFT CAUSE OF FIRING ON YACHT

Methods of Lake Erie Rum Chasers Under Fire.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Accuser and accused will face each other tomorrow in a federal investigation of rum chasing methods on Lake Erie, arising from the challenging last Wednesday of the yacht of M. F. Bramley, Cleveland millionaire, off Edgewater beach.

Lieut. Martin W. Rasmussen of Buffalo, commander of the 9th district of the United States coast guards, is here to conduct the investigation.

Bramley said his yacht, the Buddy, was fired on by the coast guard picket boat OG-3321 without warning. The crew said the shot was fired into the air and not at the boat. They followed the Buddy into Rocky river harbor and searched it for liquor, finding none.

Congressman Charles J. Mooney, acting on behalf of Bramley, wired coast guard and prohibition officials at Washington protesting against the incident as an "outrage to liberty and private rights." Cleveland Yacht club members have taken it up.

Rasmussen interrogated three members of the coast guard picket's crew yesterday and then set the hearing for tomorrow morning, asking Bramley to be present. He will report to Admiral Frederick Billard on his findings.

"I don't think the yachtsmen know that according to United States law, in force since 1799, coast guard and border patrol boats are empowered to search any boat at any time," Rasmussen said. "We don't interfere with yachtsmen ordinarily, but there had been reports of a rum runner using a cabin cruiser of Bramley's type. We have sixty coast guard boats to cope with a Canadian fleet of 650 rum runners, and they watch us pretty carefully."

Former G. O. P. Aspirant for Mayor Supports Al

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Henry H. Curran, Republican candidate for mayor in 1921, former president of the borough of Manhattan and once United States commissioner of immigration, announced today he will vote for Gov. Smith. Mr. Curran is president of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

PASTOR DECRIES USE OF PULPIT IN POLITICAL TALKS

Ministers who utilize their pulpits "to discuss politics and other matters foreign to the mission of the church" do so at the cost of the work for the redemption of souls, to which the church is dedicated, the Rev. Louis Seidel, pastor of St. James Evangelical Lutheran church, told his congregation yesterday.

"The principal duty of the church and the ministry is to preach Christ the Savior," the Rev. Mr. Seidel said. "And when this message is crowded out of the book by politics and social matters the church is venturing outside its sphere."

STRATON RENEWS PULPIT CHARGE AGAINST SMITH

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Dr. John Roach Stratton repeated tonight, from the pulpit in Calvary Baptist church, his statement of three weeks ago that he considered Gov. Al Smith, as the Democratic candidate for President, "the deadliest foe in America today of the forces of moral progress and true political wisdom."

An audience which nearly filled the edifice applauded the reaffirmation of the remarks which caused Gov. Smith to demand an opportunity to answer Dr. Straton in his own church.

Dr. Straton tonight predicted overwhelming defeat for Gov. Smith in November and announced that at the request of anti-Smith Democrats in the south he would speak in Raleigh, N. C., Atlanta and in Florida early next month.

There Is But One Answer to Your Fur Coat Buying Problem
. . . FIND THE FUR STORE

THE August Fur Sales are in full swing. Specialty houses, furriers, and department stores are trying to outbid each other for your business. Can every store sell furs at less than every other store? Certainly not.

Women, style conscious, confused amid so many conflicting claims, are asking themselves, "Where SHALL I go for my Fur Coat?"

There is but one answer. Find the fur store that has something back of its claim of low prices, of quality, of style rightness. Get proofs of the claims. You have a right to know.

—find the fur store that makes its fur coats in its own factory, thus saving you at all times, sale or no sale, the middlemen's profits.

—find the fur store that makes its fur coats after imported Parisian models, rather than the fur store which buys coats they believe are Parisian models.

—find the fur store which has a definite, rigid standard to which all fur coats are made, rather than a fur store which only buys what they can sell cheap.

—find the fur store which has the confidence of the fur buying public of Chicago. You'll find this store

HELD AS PROWLER IN AL SMITH'S HOTEL IN JERSEY

Spring Lake, N. J., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Thomas Connahan, 27, is being held in $1,000 bail by police of Freehold, N. J., where he was taken early today after being caught prowling through the corridors of the Monmouth hotel, Gov. Smith's headquarters here, at 1:30 a. m.

The intruder was discovered by Joseph Smith, proprietor of the hotel. His suspicions had been aroused early Saturday afternoon when Connahan made persistent attempts to see the governor, claiming that he was seeking an interview "to see if he is a fit man to be President of the United States."

No weapons were found on Connahan by state troopers who "frisked" him. In an adjoining lot they found his baggage consisting of a typewriter and some fishing tackle. They had misgivings concerning his purpose, however, and took him to Freehold, where he is being held in default of bond.

Gov. Smith occupied himself very little with things political today. Having been assured by Mayor Frank Hague of Jersey City, the "big boss" of the state, that Jersey is safe for the Democrats, the governor indulged in swimming and golf after having attended church.

There was a comparatively large crowd gathered on the lawns surroundig St. Catherine's church when the governor arrived. They received him with a subdued enthusiasm that was in marked contrast with the boisterous celebrations that marked his path Friday and Saturday.

WOMAN DOCTOR RECOVERS FROM EFFECTS OF DRUG

The condition of Dr. Florence S. Brosiloff, prominent west side woman physician, who has been unconscious since Saturday night, when she took an overdose of some drug, was said to be serious last night, although physicians attending her reported a slight improvement and believe that she will recover.

Dr. Brosiloff, who is 53 years old, was found unconscious Saturday in the the apartment adjoining her offices at 3215 West North avenue. An inhalator squad was summoned and after two hours revived her. Squad No. 6, under command of Capt. Roman Billmeister, worked in shifts at her bedside for 24 hours administering oxygen.

It is believed that Dr. Brosiloff, who has been suffering from a weak heart for some time, took the overdose of some remedy by mistake in an effort to relieve the pain.

RESCUE 11 FROM DISABLED PLANE IN N. Y. HARBOR

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Tossing about on the choppy waves of the upper bay in the vicinity of the Statue of Liberty, 11 persons aboard a large seaplane today spent more than two hours vainly signaling for help before they were towed to safety from a gathering storm.

The plane, designed and equipped for the showing of talking movies while in the air, was forced down on the bay by a burned out engine bearing shortly after it had taken off for Atlantic City. A ferry boat finally recognized its distress signals.

In addition to the crew of three, the plane carried Phillips S. Phelps, member of the New York state assembly; Fred Roche, public relations director for First National Pictures; T. D. Juste, president of the Atlantic Airways corporation; a photographer, and a group of newspaper men.

Hunger as the result of a long deferred luncheon was the only ill effect reported by members of the party.

IN ILL HEALTH, HANGS SELF.

Despondent over ill health, Joseph Wunek, 43 years old, of 1616 South Lombard avenue, Berwyn, committed suicide by hanging himself to a tree near the drainage canal at Summit.

Harry Ford Finds that Used Cars Sell Instantly When Advertised in the Tribune

"I recently advertised my old car in the Tribune Want Ad Section and was more than gratified with the results obtained. The car mentioned was sold to the first of the many prospects who called."

OVER PRAISED Y BROOKHART FOR AID TO FARM

diana Talk Deals with War Time.

Point, Ind., Aug. 26.—(AP)— Smith W. Brookhart of Iowa stated at a Republican rally at Lake county fair grounds that ver as President will mean "prosperity for agriculture."

"Herbert Hoover," he said, "has handled two billion dollars' worth of farm surpluses. He did it successfully and to the prosperity of the farmers all through the war and for a year and a half after the war was over. His acceptance speech shows that he knows how to do the same thing in time of peace."

Takes Slap at Peek.

The Iowa senator assailed George N. Peek of Moline, Ill., charging that Peek in "his propaganda had no regard for the truth," and that he "had his misleading statements and half-truths inserted into the Congressional Record."

"Herbert Hoover has been widely denounced as the arch enemy of the farmers of the United States," Senator Brookhart stated. "No conclusion was ever based more completely on falsehood than this. The person most responsible for it is George Peek."

The Democratic platform was "written principally by George N. Peek," the senator said, stating that it denounced the Coolidge policies and then provided as its remedy for farm relief loans to coöperatives, which is the leading Coolidge policy."

"Reserve Bank Ruined Farm."

"In its next paragraph it endorsed the federal reserve banking system which has ruined agriculture, and took glory to the Democratic party for its establishment and action. It promises to do for the farmers what the federal reserve bank has done for the banks. The outstanding fact of this is that many hundred banks have been sent into receiverships, and the federal reserve law by amendment has authorized chain national banks in 23 states.

"If Peek's farm board is to do the same thing for the farmers it is plain that chain ownership of farms means corporation ownership, and the farmer of today will be reduced to the stage of peasantry."

Reviews Record of Hoover.

Senator Brookhart reviewed the record of Hoover, stating that his first fight for the farmers of the country was over wheat prices during the war.

"Mr. Hoover held the price of wheat up with a courage that is unexampled and saved the wheat farmers from disaster," he said.

Brookhart then cited Hoover's actions as head of the food administration, stating that as long as the food administration lasted, which was one year after Hoover retired as head, farm prices were maintained and farm prosperity reached the highest stage it ever enjoyed, notwithstanding the offsets of high war prices it had to pay.

He blames the federal reserve board for the "deflation and destruction" of the farmers after the discontinuance of the food administration in May, 1920.

Ex-Nicaraguan War Chief Pays Bandits $20,000, Freed

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Camilo Castellon, former war minister and wealthy coffee planter, who was captured by bandits last week, has been released after his family paid a ransom of $20,000. A patrol of United States marines which pursued the bandits was unable to get any trace of them.

15 ARE SLAIN AS FEUD FLARES IN MACEDONIA

SOFIA, Bulgaria, Aug. 26.—(AP)—A new feud in the Macedonian revolutionary organization, resulting from the murder of Gen. Alexander Protogheroff by alleged partisans of Ivan Michailoff last month, led to the massacre of 15 Protogheroff followers in a mountain pass near Philippovo last Wednesday, according to a report made public today by the government censor.

The band of Protogheroff followers was lured to the pass, where they were set upon and shot down, only two of 17 escaping. The result of the affray, it is believed, will be to give Michailoff complete control of the revolutionary organization.

Protogheroff and Michailoff, while nominally joint heads of the organization, were bitter personal enemies and headed opposing factions.

WHO ARE THE SCOFFLAWS?

If THE TRIBUNE were as anxious to discredit prohibition as its critics profess to believe it to be, it could conceive of no more effectual means of furthering its purpose than by keeping silent on dry law enforcement methods. But the price is too high.

Citizens are exhorted by prohibitionists to respect the constitution and obey the law, while they support acts which are in defiance of constitutional right and in breach of the law. The 18th amendment did not repeal or, we think, even amend the guaranties of the bill of rights. The Volstead act did not repeal the laws effectuating civil rights, although in one respect at least it evades that of trial by jury. Enforcement methods have therefore raised fundamental issues of American liberty, and if we intend to preserve the constitution or preserve respect for law we must resist them.

THE TRIBUNE is against murder, even when it is committed by agents of government enforcing a great moral experiment. We do not think the sanction of the Anti-Saloon league, the W. C. T. U., or the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, bestowed upon the present dry enforcement régime, authorizes it to execute death sentences. We do not think it strips the citizen of all his rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. We do not think it absolves the agents of dry law enforcement from obedience to the other laws of the nation or from the responsibilities and restraints of civilized humanity. It does not make lawless violence lawful. On the contrary, it makes that violence doubly offensive by its pretense of moral purpose and doubly demoralizing by its show of official authority.

Mr. Justice Holmes has expressed himself upon this subject in a recent case of lawbreaking by federal dry agents, and his words are worthy of public attention. He said:

"Decency, security, and liberty alike demand that government officials shall be subjected to the same rules of conduct that are commands to the citizen. In a government of laws, existence of the government will be imperiled if it fails to observe the law scrupulously. Our government is the potent, the omnipresent, teacher. For good or for ill, it teaches the whole people by its example. Crime is contagious. If the government becomes a lawbreaker it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; it invites anarchy. To declare that in the administration of the criminal law the end justifies the means—to declare that the government may commit crimes in order to secure the conviction of a private criminal—would bring terrible retribution. Against that pernicious doctrine this court should resolutely set its face."

The people of the United States will not accept such a doctrine and will find means of protecting themselves from it.

PAY THE WAR DEBTS.

We are in receipt of a communication from the American Association Favoring Reconsideration of the War Debts, Inc., and an accompanying pamphlet. The letter is signed by Frederick W. Peabody of Massachusetts, one of the most passionate of our apologetic Americans; the pamphlet is by Mr. Henry B. Joy of that ilk, who prefaces his discussion with remarks of which the following is a sample: "Having declared war and joined in the undertaking, our allies might naturally have expected, as, perhaps, did some Americans, that we would promptly participate in the fighting. But for approximately fifteen months we took no material part in the fighting. For fifteen weary months of hell the allies held the Boche while we prepared in safety and prosperity."

With this ineffable tosh no American not afflicted with this sentimental hysteria will trouble himself, but "reconsideration of the war debts" ought not to be discredited by it. We are all for reconsideration of the war debts and their earliest possible payment in full. We favor reconsideration of the war debts so that the nations that contracted them shall meet their obligations and not the people of the United States.

RUSSIA AND THE TREATY.

The liberal minded are perturbed that the soviet government has not been invited to sign Mr. Kellogg's treaty. They say it is inconsistent and that Russia's absence from the pact will destroy or largely diminish its authority. What they really wish is what Mr. Kellogg, doubtless, and the bulk of the American nation wish to avoid, the recognition in effect of the soviet régime as a reputable government deserving admission to the family of civilized nations.

The soviet government deserves no such recognition, and we trust our government will not give it while the soviet, working through its agent, the Communist International, maintains a policy of universal mischief making in the domestic affairs of countries with which it pretends to sustain peaceful relations. The American people and their government have no disposition to dictate to the Russian people what their internal or external institutions or policies shall be. But so long as they support a government which deliberately and persistently carries on subversive propaganda in the internal affairs of other countries, no matter how futile the activity may be in the United States, they are not entitled to recognition by or to friendly relations with the American nation. If the Russian government wants to pursue a course which is intended to be unfriendly, why should America enter into a pretense of friendly relations? If the Russian people wish to maintain a government which makes itself a nuisance to other governments, they must not expect it to be treated as anything but a nuisance.

As for the soviet's signing a treaty to outlaw war, it would be an insolent fraud while the soviet is providing means and trying everywhere to foment a universal communist revolution. There has never in history been a government which has more ruthlessly preached and practiced violence for the imposition of its will and the suppression of liberty than has that of the so-called soviet republic.

If the soviet were to sign, it should sign in blood.

WHEN SIR AUSTEN TRAVELS.

Sir Austen Chamberlain will sail Aug. 30 for California, going by way of the Panama canal. As minister for foreign affairs he will take a look at what the Americans have in the canal. Other people's possessions arouse the intelligent interest of British statesmen, which may be one reason they have so many of their own to administer and do so in such an effective fashion. They make a point of knowing a little more about the other fellow's affairs than he knows about his own, which helps in the breaks.

When an American statesman takes a vacation he goes to Paris and learns something about the American colony there. He may discover that the collection of the debt is unreasonable. He may take a vacation in London and learn that the United States does not need a navy. Almost any place he visits in the ordinary course of his vacation may teach him that the United States has something it does not need, such as the tariff, immigration restriction or fair priced rubber. The British method will get more in the end. They are, indeed, a great little people. Sir Austen in approaching the canal will not discover that the United States ought to have the British West Indies.

DR. TUNNEY.

Mr. Tunney, in Ireland, spent a day in Trinity university astonishing the professors. Dr. Walter Starkie said he had the most amazing knowledge of ancient and modern literature he ever had seen in a young man. Our fellow countryman has stopped the show. It recalls another great astonishment, when Col. Roosevelt on the Nile astonished the Egyptologists, but that was the colonel's daily chore. He knew everything from birds to Betelgeuse, and he could astonish the Egyptologists while he was shaving or choosing his cereal.

Americans forgave that in a President. They were willing even to admire it. They thought it proper that he should be able to tell the kaiser how to run his army, the British how to govern their colonies, and that he should want to make a special trip to the New forest to find an English variety of the yellow breasted chat or of the prothonotary warbler. Mr. Tunney will have a harder time of it here than he will have abroad. This is curious. Here we believe in magic, in the inherent wisdom of the average man and the infallibility of the electorate. Mr. Tunney, physically and mentally, is merely the average American. He should be conceded here and denied in Europe instead of being a washout here and a knockout there. To reverse this is contrary to all our traditions, convictions, and aspirations. It takes the wind out of our national magic and denies our national theory of the American superman. Why shouldn't we produce citizens who can knock both professors and pugilists cold? It may be nothing to put Mr. Tunney's fellow countrymen in a fever, but why should it make them mad?

Editorial of the Day

HOOVER'S MESSAGE.

[Argus-Leader, Sioux Falls, S. D.]

Hoover's speech embraces many subjects, but foremost in interest among these in South Dakota is his discussion of agriculture. The nominee did not hedge on this subject, and his careful treatment of it effectively disarms those who contend that the farmers do not loom prominently on his horizon. Eight thousand words of his address are devoted to farming. He surveys the problem from several angles and convinces the Argus-Leader that the farmers have a real friend in Hoover and one who is capable of making his sympathies something more than a meaningless jumble of words. Hoover's speech reveals a close study of rural ills and a definite desire to alleviate them. He makes specific suggestions that should gladden the heart of every one interested in the welfare of agriculture.

Hoover outlines the cause of agriculture's difficulties with a keen perception. He does not make the mistake so many have made in assuming that the war and the attendant deflation produced the farm troubles. He realizes that the agricultural worries were making their appearance before the war. This is a premise not always properly understood.

The presidential candidate, after displaying a thorough understanding of the situation, comes forth with suggestions for its correction. He first mentions the tariff, declaring that "an adequate tariff is the foundation of farm relief." He makes this pledge: "I would use my office and infuence to give the farmer the full benefit of our historic tariff policy." This is plain and in accord with the views of economists and statisticians. The Argus-Leader recently printed a quotation from the Farm Journal pointing out the many products that come in from other lands, duty free, and sold in this nation in direct competition with the products of the American farmer. Proper tariff adjustments can be extremely helpful to agriculture and it is highly gratifying to know that Hoover understands this. In making these statements he seconds the stand taken by Senators Peter Norbeck and William H. McMaster of South Dakota, who have long held that tariff revision was an important matter in bringing equity to the farmers.

But Hoover does not stop there. He discusses increased transportation charges and frankly urges the development of inland waterways, including the great lakes-Atlantic route. "These improvements," Hoover explains, "would mean so large an increment in farmers' prices as to warrant their construction many times over. There is no more vital method of farm relief."

FIRST AID KITS FOR VACATION.

THE Chicago health department gives the following as the proper contents of a first aid kit for a vacation trip:

One 1 oz. bottle iodine or mercurochrome.
Two 2 oz. bottles spirits of ammonia.
One bottle olive oil.
One 1 oz. bottle essence of peppermint.
One bottle soda mint tablets.
Two dram vial oil of cloves.
Two oz. bottle liniment.
One tube petrolatum.
One bottle cascara sagrada tablets.
Two 1 inch gauze bandages.
Two 2 inch gauze bandages.
Small package sterilized gauze.
One roll adhesive plaster [1 inch by 5 yards].
One pair tweezers.
One dozen safety pins.
Medicine dropper.
Clinical thermometer.
Pair scissors.
One can dusting powder.
One 4 oz. package absorbent cotton.

This they recommend for a long camping trip in the woods. For a short camping trip within reach of a town they recommend that some of this be left behind. For example, the liniment could be left out. Any massage required could be given without the liniment as an excuse. The olive oil could be left behind and petrolatum could be used instead. The oil of cloves could be eliminated, since toothache among adults is not a very common malady. The dropper could be left at home. The surgical equipment could be cut materially.

The kit recommended by the U. S. public health service contains:

Two gauze bandages, 2½ inches wide.
Two cotton bandages, 3 inches wide.
Roll adhesive tape, 1 inch.
One dozen safety pins.
One ounce absorbent cotton.
One yard sterile gauze.
One ounce tincture iodine.
One dozen compound cathartic pills.
Four ounces castor oil [if children are to be in the camp].
Two ounces bicarbonate of soda.
One dram permanganate of potash.
Thermometer.
Hot water bag.

The health service kit provides no scissors on the theory that other parts of the equipment will supply the need. Nor is there a medicine dropper since they recommend no medicine to be dropped. They recommend the application of soda rather than grease as an application to burns. They recommend permanganate for snakebite and insect stings. This recommendation is not in accord with the latest practice. Compound cathartic pills and castor oil as purgatives are not so unobjectionable as the purgative tablets in the Chicago kit.

REMOVAL OF A WART.

M. O. writes: Can you tell me what is good for a wart on the eyelid?

When I was a little girl this wart was a speck, but since I have grown it is awful large and looks horrid.

Can you tell me anything that is good to remove it with? I have tried white iodine, but my eyelid becomes sore. I have also tried putting oil on, as I saw suggested in your column, but this did not help.

REPLY.

In view of the location of the wart, and your lack of success in getting rid of it, I suggest you have a physician remove it with a fulguration spark.

USING WATER HOSE.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Friend of the People.]—At what hours are Chicago property owners allowed to sprinkle their lawns?

Has there been a recent revision in the above regulation? In regard to the above, what is the fine? E. R.

The hose ordinance as amended by the city council on May 14, 1928, provides as follows:

"Regulations for Use of Hose—Penalty. Sections 4125 and 4129 of the Chicago municipal code of 1922, as amended May 14, 1928, provide that any hose which is connected to a pipe having service from or through the Chicago waterworks system shall be turned off and shall not be used for sprinkling, washing windows, walks or other like purposes, except between the hours of 1:30 p. m. and 4 p. m., and between the hours of 9 p. m. and 11 p. m., irrespective of whether the water supply is controlled by meter or not. Each day that water is used through a hose in violation of the foregoing provision shall constitute a distinct and separate offense. Any person, firm, or corporation that shall violate any provision of section 4125 shall be fined not less than $5 nor more than $200 for each offense and the cutting off of the water supply and other penalties provided."

JOSEPH J. WARD,
Superintendent of Water.

HOME BREW.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Will you kindly advise me how many gallons of wine I am allowed to make for my home use? I heard I am allowed to make 200 gallons. E. P.

The prohibition enforcement officers have ruled that a householder who manufactures in his home for home consumption ciders and fruit juices which acquire by fermentation one-half of 1 per cent or more of alcohol by volume, but which are not intoxicating in fact, does not violate the law; but that the law is violated if the fermentation process is allowed to proceed to the point where the beverage becomes intoxicating in fact.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FAMILY DEBTS.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can a board bill that is in arrears for the past six months be collected by law, if the bill is owed by a daughter and husband?

2. Can borrowed money be collected from same? MRS. J. K.

1. If there was an express or implied agreement to pay it can be collected. Ordinarily it is presumed that no charge for board is being made as between close relatives.

2. Yes.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. R.H.L.

WILLIAM CHANGEABOUT WHITE said in Paris that he takes a cocktail now and then, but he doesn't think the rest of us can be trusted with the subtle beverage. That's the trouble with reformers—what's right for them is very wrong for the rest of us. Listen, William, if you want to make your fellow countrymen over here in America stop drinking cocktails stop bragging about 'em. Now, we had tried earnestly to live up to the 18th amendment. We had put cocktails entirely out of our mind. We tore the page out of Noah's w. k. book that said a cocktail (kok-tel, cok-tal), n. U. S., was a short, appetizing drink made generally of spirits mixed with bitters, sugar, appetizing flavoring, and cracked ice. Yessir, we had ripped that page right out. And we wouldn't let our mind harbor the thought of a cocktail. No, sir, not for a second. Then, along you come, William Allen White, and remind us. Remind us that a cocktail, U. S. (lykell, lykell) is a short, appetizing drink made generally of spirits mixed with bitters, sugar, appetizing flavoring, and cracked ice. And you drink 'em yourself, but we can't have 'em! To which we only make the snappy reply, "Iz zat so? Mr. White, iz zat so?"

It's Coming to That.

Dick: The judge who upheld the right of a wife to do outside work to aid in supporting the family only went part way. He should have ruled that it is compulsory. OLD SOAK.

ANYHOW, we, the people of these United States, have a sense of humor and love a good clean joke. Here we are, not knowing what to do with the farm question, torn all to pieces on the subject of hip likker, not able to make the Mississippi river lie down in its little bed and stay there, and yet today we go over to Europe and tell the nations of the world how to keep out of war. All together, har, har, har!

LIFE IS MY LOVER.

INFATUATION.

Life is my lover,
  Winsome and gay.
When she is charming
  She sweeps me away
To wild dreams of love,
  Unknown bliss . . .
On every breeze
  She sends me a kiss.

REALIZATION.

Life is my lover,
  Relentless and cruel.
Her green mocking eyes
  Call me a fool.
She flouts me, ignores me.
  Passionately then . . .
She gives her false kisses
  To other men.

RESIGNATION.

Ah, life is my lover,
  Capricious and vain.
Queen of all courtesans
  She will always remain.
When I say that I'll leave her;
  Bating her breath . . .
She accuses her rival,
  A woman named Death.

KEEPER OF THE STARS.

"AN IDEA of the antiquity of Roquefort cheese may be gained from the fact that it was extolled by Julius Cæsar and Pliny the Elder," says a news filler. My goodness! Whoever wrote that piece bragging about Roquefort cheese being old because it was sampled and extolled by J. Cæsar and Mr. Pliny Sr. should have been at our table on the Montroyal when Sir John Martin-Harvey had his waiter bring on his own especial brand of Stilton cheese. Why, that cheese must have been hundreds of years old when J. Cæsar's and Mr. Pliny's great-grandfathers were in their cradles.

The Front Page.

R. H. L.: After you have been shoved over two more columns, what will be your next move?
INSURANCE EXCHANGE.

COME, CHILDREN, for our study hour today let us turn for comfort to that part of Mr. Hoover's acceptance speech dealing with improved home life in these United States. Now, gather around and listen. He says: "I especially rejoice in the effect of our increased efficiency upon the improvement of the American home." (Laura, put that flask right back in your pocket. That drug store gin will stunt your growth.) "Successful democracy rests wholly upon the moral and spiritual quality of its people." (Shame on you, Algernon! Hand that pint of white mule right over to papa. Of course, you'll get it back. Maybe.) "Our growth in spiritual achievements——" (Boom, BOOM, bam, bam, BAM! Children, get away from the window. Those dry sleuths are a little wild in their shooting and dum-dum bullets in your little tummies will not make you any happier.) "Material prosperity and moral progress must march together." (Boom, boom, BOOM! Bam, bam, BAM!) Oh, children, let us stop reading Mr. Hoover's speech on improved home life. There seems to be so much static in the air.

Lucky Al.

Dick: The Happy Warrior still seems to be getting the breaks. Bruce Barton and Billy Sunday have both come right out in the open for Hoover.
BUD.

YOU'LL THINK it's an earthquake today. But no. It was G. Washington who said, "Beware of foreign entanglements," and so at the exact hour that Mr. Kellogg signs his little peace pact in Paris you'll feel a strange convulsion of the earth. That will be George turning rapidly over in his grave.

Just for That, Toosie Pow, You Do NOT Make the Line.

R. H. L.: You seem to be surprised that a woman out-hog-called the men. Well, why not? Look at the practice she gets—breakfast, dinner, and supper. TOOSIE POW.

BET THOSE WICKED SCOFFLAWS are going to begin calling the drys "dum-dums." Yessir, they'll call 'em dum-dums after the bullets the dry sleuths use. But we trust the scofflaws remember the word is dum-dum and not get into the coarse habit of calling the drys "dumb-dumbs." Oh, please do not call them dumb-dumbs. Please, now, please!

Anyhow, It's the Graduates of the Electoral College Who Count.

Mr. Scout and Spy: And if you listened to Mr. Hoover's "Yes, thank you" speech, you must have heard him say "dooty" and "constitooshion." And he pronounced "rampant" with the accent on the pant! And didn't you ever hear Cal say "deminish"? And who cares how Al pronounces his words? I know a college graduate whose diction and pronunciation are flawless, and who reads Greek as easy as pigs squeal, and who hasn't had a job for three years, and who owes me nine dollars and thirty-five cents—the dirty bum!

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY.

AUGUST 27, 1863.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Richmond Dispatch of Aug. 24, in a dispatch dated Charleston, Aug. 22, says that from 5 a. m. until 7 o'clock p. m. the day before the federal forces threw 923 shells on Fort Sumter, of which 704 struck the fort. The paper also says that an unsigned communication was sent to Gen Beauregard demanding the surrender of Fort Sumter and Morris island, with a notification that Charleston would be shelled if the demand were not complied with. Beauregard was away and Gen. Jordan returned the demand for a signature. Then, the article says, "at 2 o'clock this afternoon the enemy began throwing shells into the city. The transaction is regarded an outrage on civilized warfare, but had the effect of hastening the exodus of noncombatants."

LEAVENWORTH, Kas.—Up to this morning 183 bodies of citizens slain when Quantrell's guerrillas sacked and burned Lawrence had been buried. One hundred and eighty-two buildings were burned, eighty of them of brick. Eighty-five widows and 240 orphans were made by Quantrell's raid. Gen. Lane has returned to Lawrence. Gen. Ewing issued an order directing that all citizens of Jackson, Cass, Bates, and part of Vernon counties, Missouri, except those in Kansas City, the west part of Harrisonville, and Independence, leave the country within fifteen days. Gen. Lane and the people of Kansas are going into Missouri to see that the order is obeyed. One thousand Kansas men will be in Missouri this week. A fearful retribution no doubt awaits Missouri for Quantrell's murders in Lawrence.

MANILA.—There has been a serious clash between the United States soldiers and the insurgents, the riot resulting in the killing of one soldier and the wounding of another. George Hudson, a Utah soldier, had a dispute with a shopkeeper and fearing trouble he fired his revolver to attract attention of his fellow soldiers. A great crowd of natives ran to the scene and began firing, and Hudson was killed.

WASHINGTON.—President McKinley is quoted as saying that an investigation will be made of the alleged mismanagement of the army. It is the general feeling that gross incompetency and mismanagement have marked the conduct of the war.

CHICAGO.—Following the dreary load of the hospital train which drew into Fort Sheridan yesterday, eight other trains are passing through Chicago bearing all the remaining members of Col. E. C. Young's 1st Illinois cavalry which went forth to war in April and which, on the camp grounds at Springfield and Chickamauga, found not war but disease and privation.

CHICAGO.—Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Rich, 6500 Harvard avenue, have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Esther Rich, to Leigh Reilly of the editorial staff of the Times.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMY IN FRANCE.—The German retirement is continuing along many parts of the battle front. The British are overwhelming the enemy's rear guards in heavy fighting. South of the Scarpe the Canadians, driving along the Arras-Albert-Cambrai road have gained more ground and added more than 1,000 to the British total of prisoners.

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE.—Fighting in water up to their waists in the marshes along the Avre and charging the German machine gun crews who served their weapons until killed, the troops of the Third French army took two of the strongest defenses of Roye. They stormed and captured Fresnoy, two and one-half miles north of Roye, where the Germans had restored the old fortification of 1914. Later Gen. Debeney's men took St. Mard, a village south of Roye, after a violent struggle.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt took a smashing wallop at the senatorial aspirations of Mayor Thompson. He branded the mayor as a candidate whose victory "would give satisfaction to Germany and to the pro-German element here. He called on patriotic citizens to rally "behind some one candidate of the 100 per cent type."

GOV. SMITH ON THE RADIO.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Aug. 23.—Last night I tuned in on the big Democratic noise and when the gang hears the referee announce Al Smith they starts trying to impress the nation by yelling their loudest. They don't fool a guy what campaigned with Big Bill. It's either pay roll or nuts and if those Tammany bosses deny they had tax eaters for the admiring throng then judge for yourself who did the cheering.

There was one leather lunged yokel what always started the hollering but he missed his cue when Al promised to free the farmers from all worry. You see this guy whenever he heard Al say New York, he cuts loose his calliope and wakes up his fellow enthüsers, but Al forgot to say New York after his farmer relief spiel and old leather lungs slept peacefully on, leaving the applause to a few hand clappers. Later on he wakes up and watches more careful, and taking it all in all the show was about what you would expect.

Barring old leather lungs and static, the reception was a grand success and foist and last we soitenly should be proud to have a east side univoicity lumnus running for President. To repeat the words of a story in one of the daily papers: "The first words of Al Smith when he steps into the White House after March 4 will be: 'Good morning, President Hoover.'"

THE GOVERNOR'S SPEECH.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—Listening in on Mr. Smith's speech I could say something to the people who have been saying Mr. Smith does not use good grammar. I hope that all of those have heard him and if they can use and pronounce the words he used then they are lucky.

Also why is it after Mr. Smith's speech so many articles have been published against this and that of what he said? Mr. Hoover made a speech and you never, hear anything said against him. THERESA PARKER.

PROSPERITY IN JEOPARDY.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 24.—By way of comment on the acceptance speech of Gov. Smith, it seems to me that the comment on Charles I. applies: "He never said a foolish thing, he never did a wise one." As a Democrat striving to undo the action of a Democratic congress which was responsible for the Volstead act, it looks like a most unwise act to take such a position on the subject when actually there is very little he can do about it.

Would any one be so foolish as to jeopardize present prosperity for the sake of taking a drink when he wants it? Is there not a bigger issue such as the selection of a trained executive to handle the biggest business in the country—the government? C. R. THOMAS.

ADD RUM IRRITATIONS.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Add rum irritations: The subpœnaing of prominent citizens to testify against New York night clubs in injunction proceedings. Everybody knows the injunctions are issued by the courts upon orders from the prohibition department and that taking evidence is only a formality. JUDICIA.

A VISIT TO THE AIRPORT.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—I had heard much of Chicago's airport, of the thousands who flocked to it, of its modernity and equipment. I firmly believed that we had another Croydon, another Littorio, or another Dearborn. I circled the field to behold the marvel for myself, going by the approved Rapid Transit route. It took me nearly two hours. Eventually I landed at the glorified vacant lot which is this proud city's airport.

On the southern boundary I found a few dejected hangars; on the east, four or five more. And the field's best grand stand set the architectural standard for the whole lot. However, most of them did have concrete floors, but even these were cluttered with cinders, blown in from the field's two runways. In front of one hangar a squad of flying students was busy sweeping up the day's accumulation of cinders; in front of another a fifty foot mud puddle invited the fledgling pilot.

I took a hop. The plane was excellent, as airworthy and as well equipped as any anywhere. The pilot knew his job. It was sheer delight to get away from the airport and the dismal scene in which this modern plane was associated. But when the flight was finished we bounced along the cinders, slithered in the mud, and then I came away, hungry but [illegible] refreshments [illegible].

St. Louis has just voted $2,400,000 in bonds to finance the modernization of Lambert field. Kansas City [illegible] another million. And here we [illegible] cinders in our eyes, waiting for some bright day when somebody will do something about giving us a modern, self respecting airport. Aerial traffic moves quickly. And St. Louis is only a few hours away.

CLAYTON WOODS.

SUGGESTION FOR DRY VOTERS.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—We should have [again] a formally organized Prohibition party who have a presidential candidate in the field, a Mr. [illegible], Blarney, or Carney, or some such name. He is willing to accept the presidency of the United States, I [illegible]. Therefore, [illegible] by the 18th amendment support [illegible] candidate, and leave those of us [who] swear at it support the Democratic or Republican candidate.

A. A. ROTHENBERG.

LIMITED BUS SERVICE.

Indiana Harbor, Ind., Aug. 17.—Why doesn't the Greyhound Bus line pick up any passengers through Indiana? Must we, the citizens and taxpayers, let them tear and wear our streets and highways without any accommodation? A few weeks ago I was in Michigan City and asked the ticket agent for a ticket to Chicago or to any point near the state line of Illinois. The ticket agent said he was not allowed to sell tickets in the state of Indiana and directed me to the South Shore line known as the Insull line. L. W. BARR.

MORE MAPS.

Rio, Wis., Aug. 9.—Several months ago you printed "The greatest map of the world." [illegible] of your Sunday paper. It is a beauty, and is hanging on my wall today. Why can't we have more maps? They are so educational and beautiful. Do you think the movie fans would object if you cut out a few of the movie pictures once in a while and gave us a nice map instead?

U. S. DEFICIT OF 94 MILLIONS IS SET BY BUDGET

First Revenue Shortage Since the War.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A treasury deficit of $94,279,346 for this fiscal year is estimated in the annual report of Director Lord of the budget, made public today.

It is the first time since the war the government's estimators definitely have forecast a deficit in their annual reports. They base their contention on an increase in prospective government expenditures, due to increased activities of bureaus during the fiscal year 1929 and to a prospective decrease in revenue.

This switch in estimates has converted the estimated surplus of $252,540,283, figured upon when the 1929 budget first was fixed, into the deficit. The deficit estimate was arrived at by calculations made in June.

Early Estimate To Low.

In the December estimate the cost of operating the government for the year was placed at $3,556,957,031. The estimate of June 30 set probable expenditures at $3,801,780,922 and the probable receipts at $3,707,501,576.

The June 30 estimate of probable revenues was $101,995,738 less than that made last December. Customs receipts in the last estimate were placed at $587,000,000. A decrease of $15,000,000 over the December estimate, while the internal revenue receipts were set at $2,590,000,000, a decrease of $115,545,000. The collections in the last estimate were set at $530,501,576, an increase of $28,549,262 over the previous estimate.

The budget submitted to congress in 1928 for 1929 called for total appropriations of $4,505,793,765 and supplemental estimates brought it up to $3,569,589,295. Congress appropriated a total of $3,563,032,922.

The new estimates show an increase of $137,109,530 in the general expenditures, $44,779,000 in postal deficiency, $10,000,000 for the Panama canal, $27,300,000 for the shipipng board, $13,015,000 for the government life insurance fund, and $25,500,000 for the alien property funds.

Tax Collections Less.

Tax collections by the government were less by $75,147,592 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, than in the year preceding, on the basis of the annual preliminary statement of the internal revenue bureau.

The report, also made public today, shows that in 1928 total tax collections amounted to $2,790,535,537, while the year before the total reached $2,865,683,129. Of the amounts $2,174,573,102 in 1928 were income taxes. In 1927 the income taxes amounted to $2,219,952,443.

The principal increase in revenue from the miscellaneous taxes was that collected from tobacco manufacturers and was due chiefly to more money received from the cigaret tax. The total collected from tobacco manufacturers was $396,450,041, of which cigarets accounted for $301,828,344, an increase of $22,812,788 over that collected in 1927. The tax received from cigars decreased approximately $716,000, while that on manufactured tobacco decreased approximately $2,000,000, but that on snuff increased approximately $654,000.

North Carolina led all the states in the amount of cigaret taxes, paying into the treasury $182,052,000. Virginia was second with $57,793,000.

Pennsylvania paid the largest tax on cigars, it amounting to $6,850,000, while New York, New Jersey, and Florida each paid more than $2,000,000 taxes on cigars manufactured.

There was a decrease of $14,809,651 in collections from tax on automobiles and motorcycles, which amounted to $51,628,265 in 1928, with Michigan leading the states with $37,372,668.

Collections from tax on admissions to theaters and other places of amusement decreased $215,634 to $17,724,952, while the tax on distilled spirits and cereal beverages decreased $5,947,098 to $15,447,064.

During the fiscal year refunds for taxes illegally collected in 1926, 1927, and 1928 and prior years amounting to $142,398,567 were made, while interest allowed on refunds amounted to $28,258,170.

Schooner, Manned by Crew of Boy Sea Scouts, Burned

Manistee, Mich., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The auxiliary schooner Natant, manned by a crew of 14 Grand Rapids Boy Sea Scouts, burned to the water's edge in Lake Michigan off here last night, following an explosion of the craft's gasoline tank. None of the youths was seriously hurt.

ORDER SABOTAGE IN OTHER LANDS TO ENRICH RUSSIA

Red Scheme Aims to Make Capital Go to Soviets.

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune]

RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 26.—A new method of attracting foreign capital to Russia was revealed in a resolution of the sixth congress of the communist international, in session in Moscow. It instructs foreign communist parties energetically to oppose further investments of capital in colonial or half colonial countries.

The resolution classes China, India, Egypt and South Africa as colonial countries. Latin American is classed as half colonial and the order instructs agitators to hinder by all means possible the entrance of capital to such countries.

Through arranging strikes, uprisings, and sabotage, the communists can make these countries appear a poor place to risk money, as compared with bolshevik Russia, which badly needs foreign investments to exploit its "boundless resources."

Calls Russia Only Safe Place.

Russia, according to the Moscow paper Pravda, is the only safe place for the investment of money, in the world today, because the revolution there already has taken place.

"Money invested in Russia is secure, because we guarantee security," says Pravda, which anticipates an avalanche of cash into the soviet republic when revolutions abroad gain more headway.

Another reason for passing the resolution was revealed in the speeches of the many colored delegates, who complained that foreign investments are improving living conditions among the proletariat, making revolutionary propaganda difficult. The populations of these countries are looking upon capitalists with gratitude instead of class hatred. The investor now is viewed as a benefactor instead of an exploiter, they say.

Rebukes Moderate European.

Commissar Bukharin, the new president of the Communist international, who has done most of the talking in the congress, told the delegates in his closing address that the chances for revolutions in the colonial countries are brighter than those in European countries. The seventh congress of the international, he hoped, would welcome proletarian ambassadors from certain countries, instead of delegates.

M. Bukharin rebuked the moderate European delegates, saying such a thing as a mild revolution does not exist. All countries where the proletariat succeeds in grasping the power must pass through a period of red terror, the same as Russia, he said. There must be mass massacres and military communism before entering the period of nep—the new economic policy—he added. Only through the complete extermination of the present bourgeois rulings can a successful revolution be achieved; anything less would mean a compromise, and communism cannot make concessions to the intellectual classes, he said.

Following the failure to sell bonds of the 200,000,000 ruble (about $100,000,000) peasant loan, the soviet commissariat of finance has arranged the flotation of another internal loan which will be sold to city populations. The Moscow committee of the communist party instructed workers in the Moscow industrial district to prepare to surrender a month's wages to the government in exchange for the bonds, the deductions to be made over a period of four months. Protest demonstrations among the workers resulted in the government threatening to use Moscow's 200,000 jobless as strike breakers.

HOOVER TO MAP CAMPAIGN PLAN DURING THE WEEK

Will Decide Program of Addresses.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—After attending Sabbath services in the Old Friends' meeting house on I street this morning, Herbert Hoover retired to the seclusion of his home for one more day of rest. During the week Mr. Hoover must decide where and when his public addresses are to be made, work out itineraries for swings through the eastern, New England, middle western, and so-called border states, and receive a host of Republican leaders.

Tomorrow, or Tuesday, it is hoped, the candidate and his staff can be installed in the new headquarters which are being fitted out in the mansion of the late Representative Frothingham of Massachusetts. The house is only a few doors away from the Hoover home, and it will be possible for Mr. Hoover to leave his own house unobserved and enter the headquarters by a rear entrance.

Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican national committee; Mrs. Alvin T. Hert of Kentucky, vice chairman of the committee, and Representative Franklin Fort [Rep., N. J.], the committee secretary, were luncheon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover today.

Representatives John Q. Tilson [Rep., Conn.] and Walter F. Newton [Rep., Minn.], chairmen of the eastern and western speakers' bureaus, have been summoned to Washington to assist Mr. Hoover in sifting the various invitations received and deciding which of them can be accepted and when the speeches shall be made.

Senator Charles Curtis, the vice presidential candidate, leaves tomorrow morning for Syracuse, N. Y., where he is to deliver an address at the state fair.

KEGEL APPOINTS AID IN FIGHT ON GERM CARRIERS

The appointment of Dr. G. R. Dunlevy of Los Angeles to assist in the health department's new campaign against animals which carry diseases was announced yesterday by Health Commissioner Arnold H. Kegel.

"It has been established," said Dr. Kegel, "that dogs, cats, rats, and squirrels are carriers and spreaders of rabies, as well as other violent diseases. We are going to prevent contagion by eradicating the sources."

The program of the special department, of which Dr. Dunlevy will take charge, includes the extermination of rats, removal of stray dogs and cats from Chicago streets and alleys, and, most important of all, as Dr. Kegel pointed out, the treatment of all victims of animal bites.

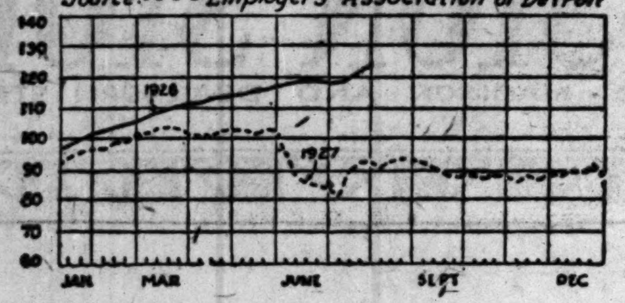
DETROIT'S RISING TIDE OF BUSINESS

INDUSTRIAL giant of the Great Lakes—city of dreaming, daring youth, Detroit is now prosperous beyond all previous bests. Four hundred seventeen thousand workers answering the call of the time clock, the largest employment record in the city's 227 years of history. Four thousand factories are turning out nearly three billion dollars worth of things to sell that go out to the world's four corners.

FACTORY EMPLOYMENT

Source:----Employers Association of Detroit



ONE and a quarter billion (not million) dollars will be spent here in Detroit within the next three years for permanent improvements by the various publfc utility companies, the municipality and the county and other private building enterprises. On top of that, two construction projects alone are involving an expenditure of fifty million dollars—the International Bridge, and the Detroit-Windsor Vehicular tunnel—ready for traffic in 1929.

DEBITS TO INDIVIDUAL ACCOUNTS

AND these are not boom conditions. There is no grinning, vacuous optimism in Detroit—no groups of boosting, "mutual admiration" societies whistling to keep up courage—just stern business-men and women engaged in doing a day's work well and receiving for that work a per capita wage among the world's highest. Detroit has been "front page" news for months, for here men like Walter P. Chrysler, Henry Ford, the Fisher brothers, Alvan Macauley, the Graham brothers, and a host of others are doing things on a tremendous scale, looking to the entire world as their market.

RURAL REVOLT ON VOLSTEADISM IN NORTH DAKOTA

Smith Is Beneficiary of Farmers' Uprising.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Bismarck, N. D., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—A rural revolt against Volsteadism in a state which has been constitutionally bone dry for forty years is the most powerful factor today in North Dakota's politics.

Al Smith is the beneficiary of a swing in the dry regions towards modification. On top of that is loud muttering among the farmers about the tumble in grain prices. In August, Smith is displaying such strength Republicans say that, although the non-partisan league chiefs are working in harmony with the regulars for the national ticket, a prodigious effort will be required to carry the state for Hoover.

Uprising Registered in June.

The uprising of the farmers on the liquor question was registered in June. A proposal was submitted to strike out the bone dry prohibition paragraph which was written into the state constitution back in 1889, the year of statehood. The state, regarded as among the driest in the union, remained dry by a majority of only 6,858 votes. A total of 200,500 votes was cast, more than were polled on President four years ago.

Significant as was the closeness of the vote in this forty year bulwark of prohibition, the figures revealed tendencies of even greater import—a revulsion among old dry elements in old dry regions against Volsteadism and its attendant evils, such as drinking among school children. Politicians here wonder why outside politics, which was busiest in June over the national conventions, has paid so little attention to the inner meanings of the North Dakota vote and what it might mean in November.

Shows New Trend.

It showed a change of direction from the days when the country clamped prohibition upon the industrial centers. In North Dakota the rural vote was predominately wet and the urban vote dry. It showed that in this state, the advent of equal suffrage did not increase the dry vote. In 1889, when women had no vote, the drys had 51.6 per cent of the poll. Last June, with women voting, the drys had 51.7 per cent of the vote—no appreciable difference.

North Dakota is agricultural, with no large cities. When the tabulations are sorted into congressional districts they tell an illuminating story.

The first district went dry by 9,900. This district embraces the eastern third of the state. It is the repository of conservatism, the place where the Republicans get their votes and the area least affected by non-partisan leagueism. It stretches along the Red river valley and contains a large Scandinavian population which votes dry.

The second district went wet by a small margin—it is in the central section and is largely German and Scandinavian.

Favor Canadian Plan.

The third district, out in the western sticks, went wet by 4,000.

With this June background, Smith's utterances on liquor in his acceptance speech got a hand in North Dakota, old haunt of the drys. It is on the Canadian border, and there is more than a casual acquaintance here with the Canadian system of handling the liquor problem. Scouts report that in the farming regions there is widespread belief that the matter of temperance is more advanced in Manitoba than on the American side of the boundary.

The rural revulsion against prohibition appears to have its source in a growing conclusion that it has become a serious social menace in the countryside, as elsewhere. North Dakota in its experimenting went the whole route on prohibition. It was the first state to call a special session of the legislature in 1928 to ratify the eighteenth amendment.

Home Brewing General.

Home brewing is general among those who want it, and plenty of moon is scattered over the state, although here introductions are needed to bootleggers. Good stuff keeps descending in a genial Scotch mist from Canada.

Curiously enough, the drive against the bootlegger has simply served to change his environment. The typical North Dakota bootlegger is a child of the soil, not a white collar attachment of the cities. The urban bootlegger has been pursued by the enforcement agents. But out in the sticks it is a new development.

Before Volstead, under state bone-dryness, standardized liquor was consumed in quantities, coming mostly from outside. Under Volsteadism the home breweries and distilleries started.

In drumming up trade they took less stock of age than most of the saloonkeepers of a bygone age, and the peaceful countryside and the smaller towns have had their share of youthful drinking, something unknown in the old days.

His Five-Room Bungalow Rented Promptly—Once He Used a Tribune Want Ad

"I had a five room bungalow that had been too long vacant, and I was anxious to rent it. I was surprised with the results a Tribune Want Ad brought. I rented the place easily and at once."

R. BLASKE,
2555 West Adams Street.

WITH a five room bungalow on his hands and the "renting season" over, Mr. Blaske had a problem to solve. But a Tribune Want Ad brought prospective tenants aplenty, and a lease was quickly signed. The place had been promptly rented because a Tribune Want Ad was used.

Tribune Want Ads will always rent houses and apartments at a minimum of expense. Their efficiency as the finest of all renting agents is due to the fact prospective tenants depend on the Tribune Want Ad Section to find homes for them . . . and prospective tenants consult them first because of their great variety of offers—88% more "To Rent" advertising than all other Chicago papers COMBINED! In addition, the Tribune's enormous circulation enables those people with places for rent to find more house and apartment seekers than they can with any other newspaper. Its circulation in Chicago and suburbs exceeds that of the second Chicago want ad medium by 59%. Phone—

GAMBLERS SHOT BY MACHINE GUN BANDITS; 4 FALL

Louisville Resort Held Up by Armed Group.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Machine gun bandits turned a stream of lead upon twenty-two gamblers in a fishing camp casino near here early this morning, wounding four men, two critically, and escaping with between $15,000 and $20,000 in cash.

Masked and clad in overalls, the robbers walked into the gambling establishment, known as "Leonard's," and commanded the gamesters to "stick 'em up." One of the five mounted a machine of the Browning type on an elevated table commanding the hall. As several players started for open windows, he opened fire.

Players Subdued.

Four men fell almost simultaneously, and then the gun was directed at the ceiling until the terrorized players were subdued.

Cash from crap, poker and hazard tables was scooped up and the raiding party retreated.

Before leaving, one of the quintet called to James Marneres, known as Jimmie the Greek, who police were told was a patron at the place, and asked for the keys to his automobile, which was parked in front. As they entered Marneres' car the bandits turned their machine gun upon the house, riddling it. A few miles away the car was abandoned and the holdup men took to their own machine.

Before entering the establishment the five men disabled all automobiles parked in front of the place, and the police were called to take the wounded to the city hospital in Louisville.

Two Shot in Abdomen.

Jack Schammehorn, 40, who gave his address as the Chesterfield apartments here, was the most seriously injured. He is suffering from gunshot wounds in the abdomen and little hope is held for his recovery. Others injured were Edward Leonard, alleged proprietor of the casino, wounded also in the abdomen and in a serious condition; George Miller, 51, shot in the right leg, and Herman Degen, 48, also of Louisville, shot in the right hip.

Police of all towns near Louisville were advised to maintain a watch for the five highwaymen.

POLICE FOLLOW WOMAN'S MURDER CLEW IN VAIN

Renewed investigation proved futile last night in solving the slaying of Angeline Zaccard, wife of Angelo Francisco, McHenry bank robber. Her charred body, a bullet hole through the head, was found in a ditch near Crown Point over a week ago. Deputy Police Commissioner John Stege had hoped that the questioning of John Francisco, brother of Angelo, 433 Roslyn place, and John's wife, Marie, would throw light upon the woman's murder, but the pair were unable to give a clew to the identity of the slayers and were released.

The body of Angelo Francisco, who was believed to have been shot and mortally wounded by a vigilante at the time of the bank robbery, was found in the abandoned automobile of the bandits the next day. It is believed that the woman was slain by the other bandits to prevent her revealing their identity. John Francisco and his wife told of Mrs. Zaccard receiving a telephone call shortly after the body of Angelo was found. She left hastily and was never again seen alive, they said.

WOMAN FOUND DEAD IN HOME.

Mrs. Anna Kechane, 35 years old, of 1144 North Franklin street, was found dead in her home yesterday, apparently a victim of heart disease.

Elmer Finds Joy in Works by Massenet

Concert Over W-G-N Is Full of Melody.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Massenet proved to be an ideal composer for one of W-G-N's 9 to 10 summertime series. As a result of this charming concert the radio audience will hereafter turn a more eager and expectant ear when anything by Massenet is announced.

In this concert the W-G-N concert orchestra covered representative Massenet productions. Included were the overture to "Phedre," sections from "Scenes Alsaciennes," extended selections from "Manon," and sections of "Scenes Pittoresques," which latter included the gracious "Angelus." The lengthy "Manon" selections must have won wide approval.

* * *

The vocal portion of the concert was intrusted to Gilbert Ford, tenor, and he did his several numbers very creditably.

In trying to account for the singular charm of this composer it was found that in addition to the natural flow of melody the orchestration everywhere is melodic, harmonious, closely knit, and changes rapidly from one happy expression to another, and all is sincere and free from the sensational and the theatrical.

* * *

The Sunday theater concert from New York, through KYW, 1 to 2 p. m., was attractive and high class—so much so that the saxophone solo sounded cheap and out of place. The German concert from WIBO, 5 to 6, was excellent musically, although I am prejudiced against any program with announcements in a foreign language and the advertising being in English.

* * *

Grieg's String Quartet opus 27, played by the WEBH string quartet, 6:30 to 7, was excellent as to the playing, but Grieg certainly was not in a happy mood when he wrote the first three of the four movements. The male quartet program from New York through W-G-N, 8:15 to 8:45, was slightly above the average as to selections, and the voices blended nicely. Baroness von Tuck-Rohn's operatic ensemble, WJJD, 9 to 10, added considerable vocal brightness to this hour. Their selections were mostly light operatic.

Japanese Students Guests of Vice President Dawes

Twenty Japanese students who are making a tour around the world were the guests yesterday of Vice President Charles G. Dawes in his Evanston home. The group was in charge of Dr. Kaji Nakamura, former member of the Japanese parliament. Their visit to Evanston included a tour of the Northwestern university campus and buildings. Last night they left for Seattle, from where they will embark for home.

Both were taken to a hospital, where their conditions are said to be critical.

MEMORIAL HELD AT CHURCH FOR VICTOR LAWSON

Memorial services for the late Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Daily News, were held yesterday at the New England Congregational church, Dearborn street and Delaware place, commemorating the third anniversary of his death, which occurred Aug. 19, 1925. Civic leaders and many of his former employés were in the large congregation that attended.

Dr. Ozora S. Davis, moderator of the National Council of Congregational Churches and a close friend of Mr. Lawson, delivered the memorial address, in which he recalled the publisher as a newspaper man, as a business man and citizen, as a philanthropist, a husband, and a friend.

The three outstanding achievements of his newspaper career Dr. Davis named as his deveolpment of the Daily News as an instrument for good and especially for the promotion of a greater Chicago; his help in founding the Associated Press, and his development of foreign news service. In the field of philanthropy he cited the Daily News sanitarium and the generous bequests left in Mr. Lawson's will to churches and charities. He closed with a reference to Mrs. Lawson's characterization of her husband as "a Christian gentleman."

Unable to Locate Former Wife of Architect Wright

Efforts to locate Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright, divorced wife of Frank Lloyd Wright, famous architect, proved fruitless yesterday in California where she has been living for some time. Wright, whose divorce decree became final on Saturday, was married on the same day to Mme. Olga Milanoff, mother of his baby daughter, Iovanna. A charge against Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright of having stolen various articles from the bungalow occupied by Wright and Mme. Milanoff when she wrecked furniture there six weeks ago is still pending in a San Diego court.

DURANT OFFERS A $25,000 PRIZE TO AID DRY LAW

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—A prize of $25,000 for "the best and most practicable plan to make the eighteenth amendment effective" has been offered by W. C. Durant, capitalist.

"We are imperiled by the widespread violation of the liquor law embodied in the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States, the highest law of the land," a statement issued from Mr. Durant's office today declared.

"Big business leaders who have the largest stake in law observance, publicly and privately violate this law and countenance its violation by others. Instead of using their wealth and influence to create public opinion demanding law enforcement, our business men of character and position are the chief support of the master criminal class, the bootlegger.

"It is my belief that the majority of our people do not want the eighteenth amendment abandoned. The people want it enforced and obeyed.

"In order to give expression to the soundest thought in the country on the subject, I offer a prize of $25,000 for the best and most practicable plan to make the eighteenth amendment effective."

Competitive offerings must be submitted prior to Dec. 1 of this year.

NEGRO BOY HIDES ON BYRD'S SHIP; BEGS POLE TRIP

ON BOARD THE BYRD FLAGSHIP, CITY OF NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Attempting to equal the record of a fellow of his race who accompanied Admiral Peary to the north pole, Robert White Lanier, a Negro boy of 20, was found late yesterday afternoon as a stowaway on board the City of New York, the flagship of the Byrd antarctic expedition, which sailed from Hoboken en route to the Antarctic.

Lanier was the third stowaway Byrd's crew had located on board. The first two were sent back on a tug.

While stowed away for more than a day under the forecastle head Lanier had withstood the effects of a fumigation of the ship, but capitulated when the aroma of a watermelon from the crew's mess was wafted up the hatch.

Between bites of watermelon, his first food or drink in many hours, he told how he had hired a rowboat, dodged the police patrol, and boarded the ship at night. Lanier begged to be allowed to go with Commander Byrd. No decision was reached.

The Taming of Elizabeth

By WINIFRED BOGGS

SYNOPSIS.

The young Elizabeth is the adored daughter of Tim and Elizabeth Darcy. When she is four years old she runs away from home to avoid punishment for getting into mischief. She is brought home promptly by a neighbor, Miss Smiley.

At twelve Elizabeth runs away again, this time from school and to the home of her aunt Dolly, in London. Dolly, who is almost as flighty as the young Elizabeth, sympathizes with her niece, much to the irritation of her step-son, Stephen Whitby.

After the death of her parents Elizabeth goes to live with her aunt. During the war they keep themselves busy and also amused by performing in amateur theatricals for the benefit of wounded soldiers. Stephen, home on leave, is asked by his mother to bring Mark Lennox, a young playwright, to one of their performances.

Shortly after the end of the war Mrs. Whitby dies suddenly and Elizabeth learns, to her consternation, that her aunt had frittered away the money left her by her husband and had also disposed of some of Stephen's inheritance. Afraid to face Stephen after this revelation, Elizabeth decides to go to Mark Lennox and ask him to get her a job on the stage.

Stephen finds her with Mark and, although his business has failed, he offers to help her. She refuses his help and advice, and takes a part in Mark's new play. On the opening night she gets stage fright and runs off, leaving an understudy to take over her part. Miss Smiley, who happens to be in London visiting her cousin, Mrs. White, sees her on the street and takes her to Mrs. White's house. The latter offers her a job as cook and Elizabeth accepts. But she fails in this job, too, and then lands a post as companion to an old lady in the country. Julian Vesington, the old lady's grandnephew, makes all the arrangements with Elizabeth.

Stephen arranges with his cousin, William Whitby, to take over the management of the latter's business.

Elizabeth grows fond of Mrs. Vesington, who showers attention upon her young companion, but the girl misses youthful companionship and scents a mystery about the house. The atmosphere of the house finally gets on her nerves and she grows restless and morbid. She wants to get away, but Mrs. Vesington will not release her. She realizes she is being held a prisoner. Her letters to Stephen are unanswered.

INSTALLMENT XLIX.

MRS. VESINGTON MAKES A SLIP.

Mrs. Vesington turned scornfully away from Elizabeth.

"I belonged to an age when the words 'temperament' or 'nerves' were never used—and certainly not used as the most fantastic excuses for everything. We possessed neither. But these girls . . . what's come to the present generation? Little bits of thread paper; no flesh, less bone. You remember that last creature? She had been half starved before she came to me, an inadequate salary, slaving at an office, no proper food, no fresh air. I give her all that and more, and what is the result? Hysteria. Imagining this and that, starting when you spoke to her, even affecting terror and dislike of the one person in the world who had stood her friend. I began to fear she would not live to get to the station."

"I wonder what happened to her, my lady?" asked Blossom.

"That does not interest me," returned Mrs. Vesington. "What can happen to these anaemic girls? No money, no friends, no grit. Throws away her one chance of comfort and luxury. Hospital, and then the streets, I suppose. What does it matter—there are so many of them. I can't have any more of these ungrateful, grasping young people. I am sick of all the giving and no getting. Their blood must be on their own head, they will realize their own folly and ingratitude when it is too late." She turned impatiently to the suffering girl. "What a way to behave, Elizabeth! You are making me feel quite upset," and her face grew drawn and pale. "I do so hate illness in any form. You had better lie down in your room."

"Not that room, never that room again . . . where that girl . . . died."

"O, what nonsense! Well, we will change rooms."

"No," said Elizabeth with a shudder. "I—I don't want to change." She could not sleep in the room made foul by a fiend, she would prefer the room of martyrdom. The other Elizabeth might make her frightened, but she could not make her evil as that other might try to do. No, the place was not empty after all, it was full, far too full . . . neither was it silent, for cries and moans echoed in the night time. . . .

That white lacy thing swung there in the gloom, her fingers tapped out their message. "Go, go while there is yet time. Escape before it is too late. . . ."

"When she turns her face . . . then it will be too late," thought Elizabeth. She watched the door between the two rooms fearfully. Suppose that was to open and he was to appear. . . .

When it did open stealthily she remained frozen in terror, but it was only Mrs. Vesington, distressed and very kind. "I thought I heard you tossing about," she said, laying her hand on her shoulder. "Go to sleep, my dear."

Elizabeth looked at the hand that held the candle but she did not speak.

"It is a dead hand," she thought confusedly. "All the people that really live here are dead; soon I, too, shall be dead. . . ."

In the morning she felt better, and even ate a little breakfast. She did not look up when Mrs. Vesington entered with the post-bag. She had given up all hope of ever getting a letter, and when her employer announced playfully, "Here is something for Elizabeth!" she could only clench her hands in a tense expectancy. Stephen had remembered her at last!

The letter was from Miss Smiley, and for a moment the disappointment seemed more than she could bear, and then she opened it eagerly. Even Miss Smiley meant a voice from the living world.

"Dear Elizabeth" (she read):

"I was so glad to hear of your good luck, such a good salary and luxurious home and dear, kind employer. My dear child, I do trust you will stick to this post and do your best to please Mrs. Vesington. I really wrote to tell you some extraordinary news. You will never guess! Emma White is going to be married again, all through that cook you got for her. They found they liked all the same things and as he hasn't much money he's marrying her for her cooking. The letters she writes me, they make me quite sick—all about love and romance and souls that beat as one! Grilled soles I should think, they both adore them and it was the way the cook did them that first won his admiration and envy. She is having a white dress made for the wedding! White! She will look like an albino porpoise. He is like an undertaker, so they'll make a funny pair! I have declined to be present at the disgusting farce. After the way she went on about losing dear John. How could she have married 'darling Willy'—yes, that's what she calls him!—if she hadn't taken good care to lose dear John first! Really one is forever blushing for one's relations; odd other people's never seen quite as bad. Well, I must rush to a meeting, heaps of congratulations on your good luck. I can quite understand how relieved you will be to feel independent of your guardian. I must say he always seemed rather a superior young man to me, if a very handsome one. I suppose he will be very much run after, now he's rich.

"Yours sincerely,

"CLARA SMILEY."

"P. S.—Well, you won't be thinking of running away this time!"

Elizabeth, thinking of Mrs. White's romance, laid down the letter with a giggle. "At her age!" escaped her.

Mrs. Vesington seemed equally amused. "How old is Mrs. White?" she asked.

Elizabeth gaped at her. How could Mrs. Vesington know anything of Mrs. White? She had never mentioned her name. Miss Smiley—yes, "Miss Smiley and a cousin of hers" had been her exact words. But Mrs. Vesington knew. What else did she know; how did she know?

Mrs. Vesington seemed quick to sense the other's thoughts, as quick to answer them. "You told me of your stay with Miss Smiley and her cousin, Mrs. White," she said, carelessly, "and the writing on the envelope made me put two and two together; it was so typical of the woman you described."

"Mrs. White is going to be married again and she's very fat and old," was all she said. "Quite sixty."

"Perfect cooking and sixty may be more of a draw than sixteen and perfect features," said Mrs. Vesington cynically. "Far better make a man comfortable than try to make him happy. It is sometimes impossible to make him happy when you are merely his own wife." Her eyes were dark and brooding.

So Mr. Vesington had not been happy. Yet he had been surrounded by every luxury, adored, wrapped in cotton wool; given everything—or had he only been given everything save the one thing he wanted? "She is kind and sweet and must have been lovely when she was young, and yet, and yet, I don't think I should have liked to have been her husband. It would be too much like selling one's soul. It must have seemed queer to start married life in an old asylum where that awful thing had only just happened; why he might have known the girl. I suppose he used my room as a dressing room, sometimes slept there. He would not have silly fancies, men are not like that."

Without the direction of James Cruze "The Red Mark" would be doomed to the limbo of ordinary ten cent thrillers. At best the plot is comparable only to a yellow backed novel, but those who have a yen for the sinister and unusual will like it.

The setting is a penal island inhabited by French criminals and governed by De Nou, a blood curdling old gentleman who loves his work and is happiest when bringing down the guillotine on one of his victims. De Nou decides to marry Zelie, the orphan daughter of convicts, now living on the island with her aunt, Mother Carron, whose past indiscretions had earned her a long term of servitude. Zelie is also loved by Ribi-Ri, a light fingered youth who has just been given his release and who plans to take Zelie to Paris with him.

De Nou's declaration seems to make the elopement impossible until Mother Carron accidentally discovers that Ribi-Ri's neck is circled by a scarlet birth mark. To tell the significance of this red mark would be to give away the story and the dizzy complications which ensue, so I'll refrain.

The first half of the picture, with it's scenes of the prison and of life in the village of paroled prisoners, has a weird fascination and power which are lost in the later reels when the long arm of coincidence is brought in to do its darndest with the plot. An execution done in black and white shadow scenes is immensely effective.

Gustav von Seyffertitz is convincingly satanic as the bloodthirsty governor and Rose Dione, always a reliable character actress, does splendid work as Mother Carron. Nena Quartaro, a newcomer to the screen, is a pretty and appealing Zelie. The only member of the cast who didn't register with me was Gaston Glass, who muffed a lot of opportunities in the fat rôle of Ribi-Ri.

Field Museum Helps Children in Schools

Information on various phases of natural history is being supplied to every public school in Chicago through the Field museum, it is revealed in a booklet to be issued today by the museum. Through the Norman Wait Harris public school extension department, supplementary activities of the Field museum include two traveling exhibits, placed in the 386 schools, and changed every two weeks during the school year.

More than 1,000 of the cases, containing botanical, geological, zoölogical, and economic specimens, are circulated by the museum. All of the subjects represented pertain to the minerals, plants, fossils, animals and industries of the Chicago region.

Free moving pictures, lantern slides, illustrated lectures, guide lecture tours and other educational features are also provided for the nearly 600,000 school children, through the James Nelson and Anna Louise Raymond lecture division.

Evanston Schools Use and Like Books Barred by Chicago

American history textbooks taken out of Chicago's public schools by the Thompson board of education last week may be found in use in the classrooms and school libraries in Evanston and other suburbs where politics has not invaded the realm of education, it was disclosed yesterday.

Furthermore, so far as Evanston is concerned, the decision of the Thompson board that the books are un-American or pro-British will make no difference and the children will be encouraged to study them, David E. Walker, an assistant district superintendent said.

The unexpurgated textbooks now in general use in Evanston include "The Story of Our Country," by West and West, and "An American History," by David Saville Muzzey. Both of these were put on the blacklist by the Chicago school board.

Muzzey is the historian who has sued former Congressman John J. Gorman, who criticised his book, for $100,000 damages, charging slander.

Four other books—there were six in all—ordered out of Chicago's schools, while not in constant use in the schoolrooms, may be found in the school libraries for reference in Evanston. These are "Modern History," by Moon and Hayes; "Founders of Freedom in America," by Corson and Cornish; "A History of the American People," by McLaughlin, and "A School History of the United States," by Hart.

Mr. Walker, acting as spokesman for Evanston's educational system, said Evanston has adopted the "library" method of teaching history and gives assignments by topics rather than rote learning from textbook pages. Every student is expected to absorb as much as possible about the assigned topic out of both textbooks and reference histories from the library.

Mr. Walker was asked whether the America First book problem has ever furnished a subject for discussion in Evanston's civic and educational groups.

"No," he replied. "Only material for jokes."

British Yell of Nudity, Scribe Seeks It in Vain

Lightly Clad Bathers Only Among 6 Year Olds.

BY WAVERLY LEWIS ROOT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The heat wave that held London in its grip for three weeks has passed, but one of its consequnces has not. The wave of criticism which greeted the light clothing which English girls thought suitable for the hot spell still continues, and now that the period of near nudity is all over, the reformers are doing their best to have something done about it.

Complaints emanate from two main sources—the Thames, where boating costumes have been frowned upon, and the beaches, where, if reports of local gossips are to be believed, there was often enough not sufficient costume to support a frown.

Two days spent in investigating the lurid tales of utterly lacking modesty revealed that there is no foundation for them whatsoever.

One of the two days was spent on the Thames, where I took a canoe at Eton and started up the river. Nowhere were any of the scantily clad girls, who are pictured as typical of the Thames river traffic, to be seen. Most of the boats passed were large punts, which are about as stable as the Mauretania, and bathing costumes are hardly necessary garb. In fact, there wasn't even any excuse for bathing suits in the canoes.

Girl boaters were annoyed last Sunday as a result of the puritan agitation when lockkeepers refused to let fair boaters in bathing suits pass through the locks, according to orders issued to them. What right the lockkeeper has to forbid any one free passage, and why a lockkeeper should be considered fitted to pass on propriety of costume is a question that has been agitating the press for the last week as a result of Sunday's action. There appears to be no question of the completeness of the bathing attire, but the English Mrs. Grundys have decided that beach garb, which is perfectly proper for swimming, becomes improper when it is moved into a boat.

The reporter next visited Southend, whence fearsome reports had come to the effect that young ladies were coming to the beach, changing from street garb to bathing suits in full view, without benefit of shelter or clergy, and then plunging gaily into the waves. This also turned out to be a libel.

Southend is somewhat like Newport beach—the public beach, of course, not aristocratic Bailey's—except that it is rowdier, more crowded, and extends much farther. Most of the bathing seems to be done by the children, probably for the reason that the tide goes out so far that no one but children have energy enough to look around the beach for the sea.

As a matter of fact, the reporter did observe three cases of young ladies changing attire on the beach. The first two observed appeared to be about five and six years of age respectively, and they were so carefully shielded by their sisters and their cousins and their aunts that there wasn't the slightest chance that any young gentleman of four would have his morals corrupted. Example number three was about twelve, but her family had erected a sort of tent around her for shelter.

Southend is the beach closest to London. Hence it is the most crowded. At times its beach may harbor half a million persons desirous of bathing, but there cannot be more than a thousand bath houses. Making liberal allowances for residents who dress at home and those who change in closed motor cars, there is still plenty of excuse for persons who let their children undress on the beach. They might otherwise never get into the water at all.

Often the protests are simply mercenary in their origin. At many beaches persons driving up in bathing costume or coming from their cottages on the sea have been stopped by beach officers and informed that they are not permitted to come to the beach in bathing costume, but must hire beach tents to change in.

Sometimes, when this step has been taken, they are informed that since they hold tents, they may then come from their homes or cars already attired for bathing if they wish. The objection is raised simply by the company that has the concession of letting the tents, which does not wish to let a single customer escape.

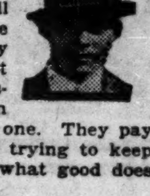
The Question.

What do you think of the use of dum dum bullets by prohibition agents?

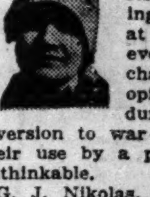
The Answers.

C. W. Flick, Kankakee, Ill., salesman—I was surprised to learn they were using bullets of that kind. They tell me dum dum bullets were under the ban during the war. It is certainly inexcusable to use them in this country in peace time, whether by prohibition agents or any other officers.

Mrs. S. E. Thompson, 325 North Austin avenue, housewife—I understand dum dum bullets were invented for big game hunting. It seems to me that prohibition agents in taking the law in their own hands are taking too much for granted. I don't believe in shooting a man in the back anyhow. The whole prohibition law is bad for the country.



Iver Gunnarson, Madison, Wis., hotel worker.—It is ridiculous. A lot of the prohibition officials ought to be put in jail with the rest of the liquor violators. They have no right to shoot a man who is suspected of having taken a drink, or for selling one. They pay out millions of dollars trying to keep the country dry, and what good does it do?



Miss Mirtrell George, 1350 North Dearborn street, mail order business—It's terrible. We were talking about that matter at the club the other evening and I had a chance to express my opinion. The use of dum dum bullets is a reversion to war time cruelties, and their use by a prohibition officer is unthinkable.

G. J. Nikolas, 707 Junior terrace, manufacturer—It is an outrage. I don't believe any civilized country would stand for it. Prohibition agents should be forbidden to carry arms. The people who are backing prohibition are displacing the commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," with the 18th amendment.

Victoria Falls Rendezvous for Jungle-Weary

Luxuries of Civilization Beckon to Traveler.

BY W. J. MAKIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICTORIA FALLS, South Africa, Aug. 26.—It has been said that Picadilly circus is the great meeting place of the world. Each country, however, has its own meeting place, and the Victoria falls in the middle of Africa is the spectacular rendezvous of this continent.

"I'll meet you at the Victoria falls. We'll have a few cocktails and dinner." Such is the casual invitation of one man to another before journeying into the wilds between the cape and the Zambesi. And, weeks later, at a spot where Livingstone once trod, you will find them shaking hands. Both, perhaps, are a little more sunburned than at their first meeting, and a yellowish tinge at the edge of the eyes tells of days of fever. But there is hospitality and, above all, a glimpse of civilization at the falls.

There are contrasts, ironical and startling, to be found here. Not more than a mile from where the Zambesi flings itself with a deafening roar and a blinding curtain of spray into a chasm which suggests the edge of the earth, and then boils tumultuously into rapids hurtling towards the sea, one may step into a spacious hotel lounge. There it is possible to meet cool, self-possessed women in crêpe de chine and young men wearing suits with the stamp of Savile row.

To a man who has spent weeks in the wilds, it is a sudden glimpse of paradise. Pioneers who have come from "out of the blue" are seized with a berserker enthusiasm for civilization after their first eight course dinner and a bottle of Veuve Clicquot. They discover old friends and make new ones.

But it is not only men who meet at the falls. Big game hunters are met by hunters in ravishing evening frocks who have trained themselves to listen to a lion story without yawning. Women seeking husbands in Africa know the stunning effect of the falls and its luxuries upon men who have spent lonely nights in the wilds sentimentalizing by a camp fire. These cool, clinging women lead their capture from the terrace of the hotel towards the most glorious view in the world—the falls at moonlight.

A lunar rainbow arches across the chasm. The leaping spray is like a ghostly cloud. The moon romanticises everything. The effect is devastating. A proposal is sure to follow, and the captured big game hunter is led triumphantly back to the hotel. Champagne to celebrate the news appears with such mysterious promptitude that I suspect the cynics who serve this hotel keep a special supply ready for such regular occasions.

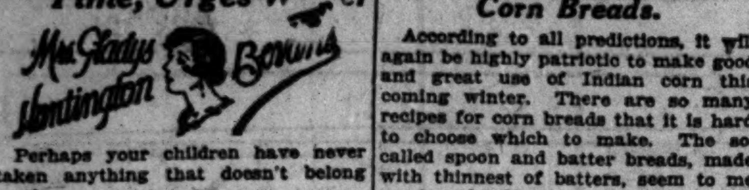
Women who are seeking divorce relieve the short tedium of waiting by visiting the falls. There, ironically enough, they may watch the beautiful absorption of honeymoon couples from the cape and Johannesburg. The falls has become a fashionable place for the honeymoon in Africa.

It is a cosmopolitan crowd that meets at the falls. It includes Jewish financiers from Johannesburg who have heard of some new development scheme, and mining engineers rhapsodizing about the copper that is to be found north of the Zambesi. There are cattle runners, tough little men who smuggle herds of native beasts across closed frontiers. There are young men in shorts and tarai hats who spend months in the wilds recruiting natives for work in the gold mines of Joannesburg. They send big black cargoes south. There is the British official, an assistant secretary, aloof in exquisite white ducks and monocle. He is on his way south to board the mail boat at Cape Town. A few Belgians from the Congo and a group of Portuguese mix in this cosmopolitan cocktail.

Finally, there is the feminine novelist whose crooked pince-nez views all at the falls in a romantic and immoral light. The sins and lapses of the humans of this spectacular rendezvous will soon be blazoned on the wrappers of a novel which will excite the torpid minds of library subscribers in England.

Meanwhile, the Zambesi hurtles into the chasm with a thunderous roar that can be heard twelve miles away. It cares nothing for the little puppet show that is enacted on the edge of the falls.

Catch a Serious Offense the First Time, Urges Writer



Perhaps your children have never taken anything that doesn't belong to them.

Perhaps mine haven't.

Perhaps our neighbors' haven't. That is, after they've passed babyhood and gotten to be 9, or 11, or 13—when they've reached an age at which they realize they shouldn't, and know the act as one called stealing.

But remote though such a tendency of children may seem to us, it is a fault which does frequently crop up in children normal in other ways.

First and most emphatically—save yourself and your child much harm and unhappiness by not letting the first offense slide. When the act becomes a habit, then heartache and struggle are apt to lie in wait for you. Prevent a repetition.

When your boy or your girl first takes what is not his, set to work at once. The big thing is not to let him do the thing a second time—or, at most, a third.

Find out why he stole. Usually at these ages money is what children take. Gently, kindly, as his friend, get at the cause. There is some reason—often an obvious one.

Find out his motive and then talk it over with him seriously—not in anger, but so that he feels it is important and that you are trying to help him. Get him to talk to you about it. Bring it all out in the open. To you the reason may not seem sufficient for stealing, but to him it may loom large on the horizon.

So find the reason and deal with it intelligently, meeting him half way on friendly ground. Scolding, punishment, corporal or otherwise, will do no good. They have been tried and have always been found wanting.

Once again, in the blackest of ink, let me say: When your child, past the unrealizing years of 4, and 5, and 6, takes things not his own—Stop, Look, and Listen the FIRST TIME.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Corn Breads.

According to all predictions, it will again be highly patriotic to make good and great use of Indian corn this coming winter. There are so many recipes for corn breads that it is hard to choose which to make. The so-called spoon and batter breads, made with thinnest of batters, seem to me most palatable both hot and cold. When cold they may be used with sugar and cream for a dessert.

We can get the crispest crusted corn breads when we use some flour, and we may increase varieties no end by using rice, rye, and other cereals. Perhaps the most universal of all the all corn breads is made by that standard among the recipes which have come down to us under various names, but which is best known as "Spider Corn Bread." It is excellent split and used for a vegetable shortcake.

Dry Part—One and one-half cups of yellow corn meal, one level teaspoon of soda, one teaspoon of salt—mix these together and sift. Wet Part—Two eggs, two cups sour milk, two tablespoons of shortening. Beat the eggs well. Beat the sour milk until it is as smooth as sweet milk. Beat the egg and milk together. Combine the dry and wet parts. Melt the two tablespoons in a short-handled frying pan or "spider" in which the bread is to be baked, turning and shuffling it about so as to oil the pan well, then turn all the excess of melted fat into the batter and beat it well into it. Bacon fat or salt pork fat may either of them be used for a hearty bread. Have the spider hot when the batter is pured into it, and bake twenty or thirty minutes—according to size of pan or the thickness of the batter—in an oven which is at least to 400 degrees hot and may be a little hotter.

If this bread is to be used for a shortcake it may be split with a hot knife as soon as it is done, and buttered, putting in it and over it the creamed vegetable mixture of celery, onions, carrot and green peppers or red.

An all corn meal pound cake [ancient recipe] turned out well when tested not long since, but we have it in mind to fix it up with fruit before printing it.

Mrs. Grace Cramer and Francis V. Lloyd to Be Wed on Sept. 22

BY THALIA

The wedding of Mrs. Grace Murray Meeker Cramer to Francis V. Lloyd in Santa Barbara on Sept. 22 is to be solemnized at Mrs. Cramer's residence there with only members of Mr. Lloyd's and Mrs. Cramer's families present. After the ceremony there will be a reception on the lawn, to which all of their California friends are to be invited. Neither Mrs. Cramer nor Mr. Lloyd will be attended, according to present plans, at the services.

Mr. Lloyd and his bride will have a fortnight's wedding trip, and are then to be in California until Nov. 1, when they plan to come east by way of the Panama canal. They will go to Philadelphia, which is Mr. Lloyd's home town, for a stay, and then they plan to come to Chicago to be here for some of the season's formal entertaining around Christmas time.

Mrs. Cramer's mother, Mrs. Arthur Meeker, is planning to go to California quite soon, and the other members of the family, Mr. Meeker, Miss Mary Meeker, and Arthur Jr., who was to have sailed from Europe on Saturday after a summer abroad, will go out in time for the wedding. Mrs. Robert M. Curtis, who has been visiting Mrs. Cramer this summer, tells me that she isn't planning to go to the wedding, although she may decide at the last moment to make the trip. She traveled by air the last time she went west and enjoyed it so thoroughly that she is now an aviation enthusiast.

When Miss Anne Steinwedell, daughter of W. E. Steinwedell of Cleveland, O., and Elliott Donnelley, son of the Thomas E. Donnelleys of Lake Forest, pledge their vows on Sept. 12, they will have a sizable group of attendants. Mrs. L. F. Cody, the bride's sister, will be matron of honor and the bridesmaids will include Mrs. C. C. Haffner Jr. of Lake Forest, a sister of Mr. Donnelley; Miss Edith Louise Newcomet, Miss Margaret Halle, Miss Katherine Phillips, Miss Catherine Cowin of West Newton, Mass.; Miss Frances Reed of Denver, Colo., and Mrs. Louis Gillespie of Morristown, N. J. Little Jane Cody, a niece of Miss Steinwedell, and Suzanne Smith, a cousin, will be the flower girls.

James Beach Clow of Lake Forest will be best man for Mr. Donnelley. The ushers will be Gaylord Donnelley, Charles C. Haffner Jr., Harrid Wilder, and Byron Schaffer, all of Lake Forest; Richard R. Donnelley II. of Evanston, Arthur Bissell and Alexander Knott of Chicago, John Drum of Detroit, William Steinwedell, a brother of the bride; Louis Cody and William Shackleton of Cleveland.

The service will be read at 5 o'clock in the afternoon at Trinity cathedral in Cleveland by the Rev. Dean Francis White. A reception at the Mayfield Country club will follow the ceremony.

The opera box committee of the Friends of Opera is to resume its weekly sessions with a luncheon meeting on Sept. 5 at Mrs. Rockefeller McCormick's residence at 1000 Lake Shore drive.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Curtis of Lake Forest are taking a motor trip this week to northern Michigan. They plan to spend two days at Harbor Point as the guests of Mrs. Russell [illegible] and the Edward P. Russells, who are passing the summer there, and will then go on to be with Mrs. John L. Cochran at Mackinac island.

Mrs. Cochran has had with her Mrs. Ellicott Evans, Mr. Cochran's mother, for the last month. The summer place that the Cochrans occupy at Mackinac, a large, comfortable house, looking out over the lake, formerly belonged to Mrs. Evans, who has been residing in Santa Barbara for the last few years, where her residence, formerly the Robert Louis Stevenson home, is one of the show places.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Odell Jr. of Lake Forest are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son at the Alice Home hospital in Lake Forest on Aug. 19. Mrs. Odell was Miss Frances Robbins before her marriage. The new baby is the Odells' second child.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison Jr. of Lake Forest and their daughter, Miss Lucy Harrison, have motored east to visit friends in New England. Miss Edith Harrison, who is at a girls' camp near Boston, will join them for the return trip, which they plan to make by way of Canada.

WEDDINGS

The wedding of Miss Dorothy C. Bostelman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. A. Bostelman of 1376 Greenleaf avenue, to Carl N. Warren, took place Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the residence of the bride's parents. After a honeymoon to Colorado, Mr. Warren and his bride will reside at 240 East Delaware place. Miss Bostelman was graduated from Northwestern university in 1926, and was a member of Phi Omega Pi sorority. Mr. Warren was also graduated from Northwestern in 1926. He is on the reportorial staff of THE TRIBUNE.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Campe of 5715 Ridge avenue announce the marriage last Tuesday of their daughter, Florence, to Reginald Stark Byleth.

The wedding of Miss Helen Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Smith of Evanston, and John Harold Carr of Saratoga Springs, N. Y., will take place next Saturday at the Smith summer residence, Grandview farm, Macedon, N. Y. Miss Anderson will be attended by Miss Virginia Rucker of Skaneateles, N. Y., and W. Rowland Carr will be his brother's best man. Both Miss Anderson and Mr. Carr are graduates of Syracuse university.

From Back o' Yards to Algonquin Is Trail of Real Adventure

Hitting the trail from a west side or a back o' the yards tenement to the green spaces of beautiful Camp Algonquin, on the banks of the Fox river, includes more of real adventure than the older and more blasé generation could well credit. As the season draws to a close and more and more of the vacationers return to their homes, the list of novelties grows longer and more exciting.

To about ninety-nine per cent of the youngsters the trip is the first ever made anywhere farther from home than the corner grocery, and to practically every one of them their quarters at the camp are far and away superior to any they have ever known.

Single beds are a luxury, knives and forks a novelty, and tooth paste and tooth brushes classify as curiosities. Many of them insist on regarding the tooth paste as a confection, to be nibbled at between meals.

But when it comes to the strange trees and flowers, rocks and pebbles, to the nests of birds and the holes of ground squirrels and similar small creatures, their wonder and interest never cease. Leaves and flowers and bits of stone are carefully saved from week to week, and on the day when a representative of the Field museum arrives to tell them interesting facts about the life they find around them, she is literally swamped with the specimens as the barefoot boys and girls crowd around her.

"Tell us what this is"—"what sort of a tree did this leaf come from"—"I gotta bird's nest"—"I found this on the beach"—"is this a real piece o' agate?"

It won't be long now until the last question will have been answered and the last of the children returned to town for the long winter days ahead. But they will be heavier, and browner, and healthier than when they went to camp, and better prepared to withstand the rigors of bitter weather.

Checks to assist in financing the last few weeks of the camp season may be mailed to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE at Tribune Tower.

Ravinia Gives Day to Swedish Music

Julia Claussen was doubly in service at Ravinia yesterday, being one of the soloists in the afternoon concert and one of the principals in the evening opera. A fine artist she is, and fully deserving of all the acclaim she gets here and wherever else her professional duties call her.

The concert was dedicated to the Swedish National society of Chicago. Mme. Claussen sang a group of songs and took by unanimous consent her customary two encores. Alfred Wallenstein, the other soloist, played a group of pieces for cello and took by unanimous consent his customary two encores.

The Chicago Symphony orchestra, directed by Eric DeLamarter, played a program which, if not entirely Swedish, at least classified as Scandinavian, the Alfven symphony, the "Midsummer Wake," by the same composer, and other works by Grieg, Svendsen, and Sodermann. During the intermission a brief address was made by Charles S. Peterson, chairman of the Swedish National society.

The evening performance was a repetition of "Aida," with Mme. Claussen as Amneris, Elisabeth Rethberg as Aida, Edward Johnson as Rhadames, Mario Basiola as Amonasro, Virgilio Lazzari as Ramfis, and Paolo Ananian as the king. Gennaro Papi conducted.

Girdle and Scarf Create Lovely Lines

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—What was it that Mercutio said—"He jests at scars who never felt a wound?" Well, we might transpose this today into terms of modern fashion by saying, "She jests at scarfs who never felt the need to be chic." For so well established is the scarf in our present day idiom of dress that we can hardly conceive a model which can dispense with this accessory.

Today's gown, a delightful dinner dress designed by Vionnet, offers only one more testimony to this truism. Made of gray crêpe back satin with exploitation of the shiny surface, this simple yet effective frock throws new light upon what the scarf may do in achieving a model distinguished by not one touch of outside trimming. Without the graceful femininity of this scarf trailing its long ends in the back, our model would be undistinguished. With it, we may say in one deep breath, "How perfect!"

This scarf is attached to the left shoulder and is then thrown back over the opposite shoulder to fall in the back below the hem of the frock. This bestows part of that precious irregularity of hem line which is elsewhere enunciated in a girdle that draws the front folds of the skirts to a point higher than the surrounding territory. This girdle in itself is exceedingly interesting, for it is in one with the frock and by that simple knotting at the front it communicates the same effect of lines radiating from the center over corsage and skirt which has made so much of Vionnet's fame.

Survived Marriage.

The manager's wife had just left the office after a short visit, and we remarked to the manager what a sweet wife he had. While talking, he mentioned they had been married about fifteen years.

Meaning to say that I thought she was as sweet now as she must have been when first married, I blurted out, "And to think that she is still sweet after being married to you for fifteen years."

I still blush whenever I see her.

The neighbors make a great fuss over Jimmie, who is 3 years old, and give him ice cream cones on hot days. I had told him he couldn't have ice cream when it was cool.

One day our next door neighbor remarked that the weather was cool indeed, so Jimmie, who was standing by, piped up excitedly, "But mama, ME hot."

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Comfort for Old Couple.

"I am a poor man, 73 years of age, and a cripple. My wife is 66 years of age and for years has had spine trouble. I am asking for two easy, comfortable rockers—I don't care how old they are—that will be soothing to the back and limbs. We would be so thankful for this great favor. T.S."

It's not a great deal to ask and, when you think of the comfort such chairs would bring to this old couple, I know you'll not mind donating one or two that you no longer need. Let me hear from you, won't you?

Well Groomed Look Is Great Big Asset in Landing That Job

Glancing casually through the classified want-ad section of the Sunday paper my eye was arrested at the Help Wanted Female department. Almost every position open to young women distinctly specified a clause about the personal appearance of the applicant. "Of good appearance." "Girl with personality," "attractive young woman," etcetera, etcetera. Whether $21, $22, $25 or $45 a week was the provision the employed allotted for the upkeep of appearance—the demand was there.

I have interviewed employment bureau heads on the subject of woman and her job. One head of an organization which places thousands of girls yearly gave appearance a 50 per cent estimate in the list of desirable qualities.

A young worker may wonder just what this good appearance is comprised of in the eyes and minds of employers.

Speaking for the latter, after some years spent observing the fair sex, their progress in work and its relation to their personal upkeep, I feel qualified to say that ravishing beauty isn't required. Sometimes, because of its devastating influence, it is greatly preferred behind the footlights, where it belongs.

To be concrete, let us sum beauty up today as it is accepted outside of show girl and beauty contest circles.

First, a girl must be reasonably slender, graceful and well groomed.

The first and last named assets, of course, you are familiar with. Maybe you ask what grace has to do with getting out a form letter, selling a bolt of ribbon, or telling the caller that Mr. Brown is in conference.

Here again, the ethereal qualities of a Pavlova are modified for practical business. It's the lack of awkward gestures, awkward mannerisms, awkward expressions that consciously or unconsciously register for one's benefit.

It's meticulousness about every small personal detail, however, that counts the highest rating for the employed girl. There must be that engaging sparkle of hair, complexion, hands, teeth, that just speak out efficiency in personal management of time in relation to self.

FARM AND GARDEN

BY FRANK RIDGWAY

Garden club workers and horticulturists who are looking for an educational project to be carried on in connection with flower shows may find it worth while to study the lawn making exhibit which is being displayed at the New York State fair this month by the Geneva station lawn specialists.

M. T. Munn of Cornell, a seed analyst, says the exhibit will include various types of grasses and combinations suitable for lawn making under different conditions, and will be supplemented by information on lawn making and on the care of the lawn after it is established. There will be shown actual specimens of lawns with typical weeds that infest the turf.

The New York station experts have learned that good seed is half the battle in making a lawn. To aid the home owner in selecting his grass seed there will be an extensive collection of commercial lawn mixtures on sale in the state of New York in packages with information setting forth their desirable or undesirable features. And the specimen lawns to be displayed will show just what may be expected from the use of the various grass seeds and lawn mixtures.

After seeing this exhibit an amateur lawn maker is expected to be able to identify most of the worst and most troublesome lawn weeds. Dandelion, plantain and other obnoxious pests will be shown, and instructions will be given on how to get rid of them.

With the aid of the state seed analyst at Springfield, Ill., the lawn making experts at the agricultural college at Urbana, Ill., and local seedsmen's organizations interested in home beautification in Illinois should be able to work up valuable educational exhibits, similar to the New York display, for use at the county, community, and district shows.

CONNALLY WINS OVER MAYFIELD IN TEXAS RACE

Sure to Get Seat in U. S. Senate.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Congressman Tom Connally of Texas will return to Washington at the expiration of his term as Senator Tom Connally. The voters of the state gave him the Democratic nomination to the upper house of congress in the run-off primary yesterday, wiping the name of his opponent, Senator Earle B. Mayfield, off the senate rolls by a majority of more than 50,000 votes. The Democratic nomination in Texas is considered equivalent to election.

Mayfield's defeat bends Texas political alignments into another one of the curious convolutions which have marked them since the family of former Gov. James E. Ferguson first became prominent in politics.

Mayfield was nominated six years ago, defeating James E. Ferguson, who charged at the time that Mayfield was the Ku Klux Klan candidate. In the July primary this year Ferguson supported Col. Alvin Owsley, past national commander of the American Legion, for the senatorial nomination, but Ousley failed to poll enough votes to enter the run-off yesterday. Ferguson then threw his support to Mayfield, his old enemy.

R. Q. Lee of Cisco won the congressional seat now occupied by Congressman Tom Blanton of Texas in the only other race of national interest. Blanton, with Connally, Mayfield, and three others, entered the senatorial race, but was eliminated in the July primary. Lee was leading his opponent, Oscar Calloway of Commanche, by approximately 5,000 votes.

Mississippi Sheriff Speeds Negro Slayer to Louisiana

Bay St. Louis, Miss., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Silas Richardson, Negro, who escaped recently from the Bay St. Louis city jail after killing one man and seriously wounding the chief of police, was captured at his home here today and a few hours later was taken to New Orleans by Sheriff Jones for safe keeping. High feeling against the Negro caused the transfer of the prisoner.

THREE BILLIONS MOVED; NOT MAN OR DOLLAR LOST

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Without the loss of a single penny, and so unobtrusively that all the bustling streets of the financial district were unaware, more than three billion dollars in cash and securities were moved by the Chase National bank from its old quarters, 57 Broadway, to its new building at Pine, Nassau and Cedar streets, it was disclosed today. The work was completed in three weeks, ending today.

All the work was done in open daylight, with an intricate system of safeguarding the moving treasure The transfer was the largest ever undertaken by a private institution and involved elaborate precautions.

Eighteen armored trucks were used and the streets through which they passed were heavily guarded. During the personnel transfer the work of 2,000 employés was not disturbed.

Passer-by, Hurt by Bricks in Gas Explosion, Is Dead

John Bedall, colored, 24 years old, of 5928 Lafayette avenue, died at the county hospital last night from injuries received early yesterday when an explosion of gas in a vacant building at 1300 West Grand avenue, which he was passing at the time, showered parts of a brick wall on him. The fire which followed caused considerable damage to the building.

JONES BREAKS COURSE RECORD IN CUP DRILL

Whips British Aces with 68 Score.

BY HARLAND ROHM.

With two members of the British Walker cup delegation playing along with him at the Chicago Golf club, Bobby Jones yesterday gave the invaders an idea of what they might expect next Thursday and Friday in their match with the United States team when he shot a 35—33—68 for a new course record and was easily the star of the practice field.

BOBBY JONES.

Only once was Bobby in trouble. At the seventh he got into a trap and lost a stroke. Otherwise his work was simply immense.

Accompanying Bobby in his foursome was Tony Torrance and Capt. E. F. Storey of the British team and Bob Gardner of Onwentsia. Torrance finished with a 74 and Storey with 76. Gardner got a 72, one over par. Jack Drucker, pro at Chicago Golf, set the former record of 69 a year ago. Bobby's card with par:

Par—Out ....543 544 344—36
Jones—Out ....443 444 444—35
Par—In ....344 344 544—35—71
Jones—In ....343 344 543—33—68

Hope Best of British.

Nearly all members of the British and American Walker cup teams were out for practice. The best card turned in by the invaders was by W. L. Hope, the British amateur champion, who shot a 35—37—72 in a twosome with T. H. Hardman, who turned in 37—37—74. Hope's card:

Out ....455 534 333—35
In ....[illegible] 354 644—37—72

Harrison Johnston of White Bear, St. Paul, Minn., didn't throw any enthusiasm into the visiting golfers when he came in late in the afternoon with a 34—36—70, one under par. In fact, all of the Americans' scores were as a whole much lower than that of the visitors.

Perkins Shoots a 73.

Besides Torrance and Storey, Hardman and Hope, T. P. Perkins had a 36—37—73, and Capt. Tweddell, 40—35—75. The others said their round was satisfactory but no cards were turned in. Capt. Storey in an early morning round had even par, 36—35—71, to his credit.

Francis Ouimet shot a 42—34—76; Chick Evans had 42—35—77; Jess Sweetser, 38—45—83; Roland MacKenzie, 38—35—73, and Watts Gunn, 35—39—74.

PLAY STARTS THURSDAY

While Chicago has its usual group of local golf tournaments scheduled for this week, they are overshadowed by the Walker cup matches at the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton Thursday and Friday. Not only for Chicago but for the world these matches, the fifth in the series, are the center of interest this week, for they are to golf what the Olympic games are to the track athletes.

The one point which may detract some of the interest is the almost sure victory of the American team for the fifth successive time. In the two prior series in the United States, the Americans have won by wide margins, while in the two held in the British Isles the Americans have had to fight for the vitcories and won by the margin of only one match.

Jones, Gunn Arrive.

The British team, which has been here a week, lacks three of Great Britain's strongest golfers—Cyril Tolley, Roger Wethered, and Ernest Holderness—and, with no slur intended at the team which is here, there is slight chance they will be able to defeat or even win a third of their matches against Jones, Von Elm, Evans, Johnston, Ouimet, Sweetser, Mackenzie, and Gunn.

All of them and perhaps the British Walker cup players are expected to compete in the Warren K. Wood memorial tournament at Flossmoor tomorrow. This will be the first tournament in memory of one of Chicago's finest young golfers when this city was famed for a group of the best in the nation. Wood was contemporary with Chick Evans at his greatest; Mason Phelps, Ned Sawyer, E. Hoover Bankard, Robert Gardner and a dozen others which made the Chicago delegation a group to be feared in any tournament. It will be 18 holes scratch, with one of the cups Wood won as the permanent trophy.

Caddies Play Today.

Today the annual caddie tournament of the Chicago district will be held at Ridgemoor, which now holds both the individual and team championships. Twenty clubs have entered teams of four caddies each, the total score on the first 18 holes to determine the team championship. The low individual caddies who score the lowest on the 18 will play nine additional holes in the afternoon for the individual caddy championship. Incidently there will be a caddy master tournament in the afternoon, with cash prizes, but only caddy masters

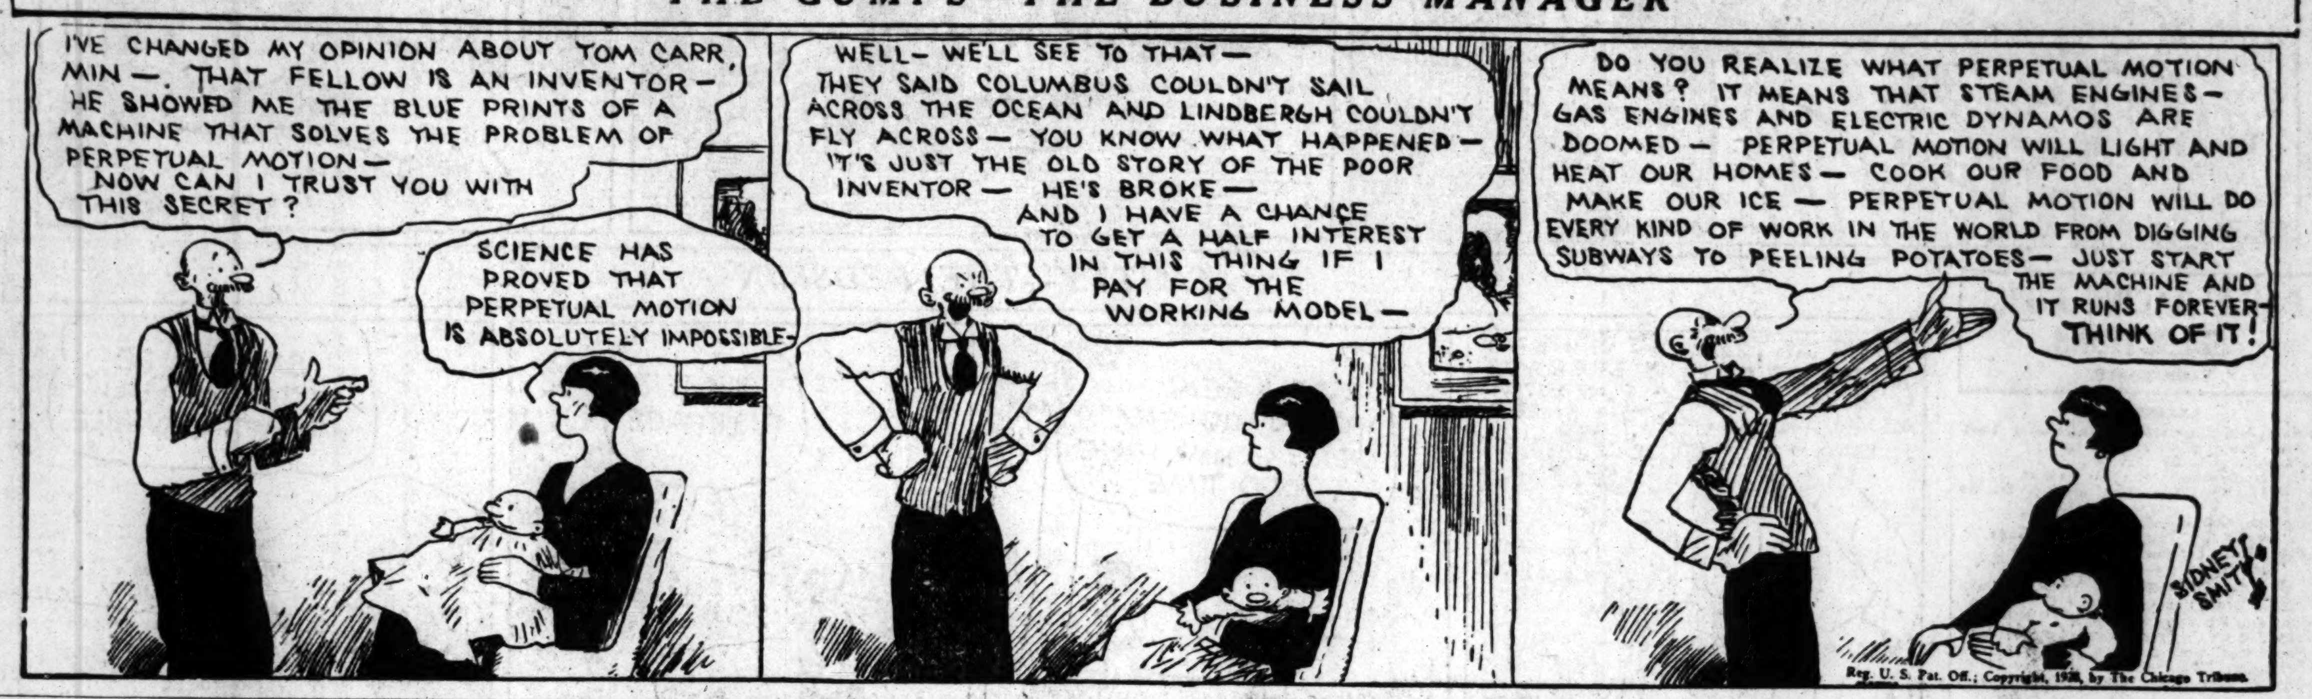
THE GUMPS—THE BUSINESS MANAGER



I'VE CHANGED MY OPINION ABOUT TOM CARR, MIN—. THAT FELLOW IS AN INVENTOR—HE SHOWED ME THE BLUE PRINTS OF A MACHINE THAT SOLVES THE PROBLEM OF PERPETUAL MOTION—NOW CAN I TRUST YOU WITH THIS SECRET?
SCIENCE HAS PROVED THAT PERPETUAL MOTION IS ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE—
WELL—WE'LL SEE TO THAT—THEY SAID COLUMBUS COULDN'T SAIL ACROSS THE OCEAN AND LINDBERGH COULDN'T FLY ACROSS—YOU KNOW WHAT HAPPENED—IT'S JUST THE OLD STORY OF THE POOR INVENTOR—HE'S BROKE—AND I HAVE A CHANCE TO GET A HALF INTEREST IN THIS THING IF I PAY FOR THE WORKING MODEL—
DO YOU REALIZE WHAT PERPETUAL MOTION MEANS? IT MEANS THAT STEAM ENGINES—GAS ENGINES AND ELECTRIC DYNAMOS ARE DOOMED—PERPETUAL MOTION WILL LIGHT AND HEAT OUR HOMES—COOK OUR FOOD AND MAKE OUR ICE—PERPETUAL MOTION WILL DO EVERY KIND OF WORK IN THE WORLD FROM DIGGING SUBWAYS TO PEELING POTATOES—JUST START THE MACHINE AND IT RUNS FOREVER—THINK OF IT!

Blues Defeat Whites, 10-9, at Oak Brook

Brilliant riding by Maxwell Corpening, playing at No. 2, enabled the Blues to defeat the Whites, 10 to 9, in yesterday's polo match at Oak Brook field. Corpening's five goals made him high scorer of the game.

The lead shifted several times. The Whites were out in front, 4 to 3, at the end of the fourth chukker, but the Blues, with Corpening at the helm, scored three goals in the next period to regain the lead. The Blues were trailing by one goal when the final chukker opened. Lineups:

HITCHCOCK FOUR WINS.

Sands Point, L. I., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Apparently despairing of finding a day with decent weather, the candidates for the United States polo team which is to meet Argentina for the championship of the Americas on Sept. 8 and 12 rode in the rain here this afternoon.

Starting and finishing in a steady downpour that made the field little more than a quagmire, the white shirted team, headed by Thomas Hitchcock Jr., which has come to be regarded as the unofficial United States side, had the fight of its life to stand off a high goal blue combination and won out in the last period by the margin of a single goal. The score was 9 to 8. Lineup:

WHITES [9].		BLUES [8].
W. A. Harriman	No. 1	S. Sanford
T. Hitchcock Jr.	No. 2	Capt. C. Roark
M. Stevenson	No. 3	J. W. Webb

MATHER, COACH OF MICHIGAN'S CAGE TEAM, DIES

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Edward Mather, assistant athletic director in charge of basketball at the University of Michigan, died here tonight of cancer after a long illness.

Mr. Mather, a native of Ottumwa, Ia., and a graduate of Lake Forest, Ill., academy, came to Michigan in 1919 as basketball coach. He twice piloted the team to ties for the western conference championship, and into the first division during most of the remainder of the period.

Mather was named all western football end in 1909, when captain of the Lake Forest team.

Mr. Mather virtually ended his coaching with the winning of the Big Ten basket ball championship for the 1926-'27 season. A few weeks after it ended he went to the operating table for the serious operation from which he failed to recover.

CARDINALS WHIP PHILS, 6-1; LEAD BY 3½ GAMES

Giants Lose to Robins in Tenth, 4-3.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Continuing the process of regaining their National league lead recently lost, the St. Louis Cardinals won another contest from the Phillies today, 6 to 1. With the Giants still in a losing slump, the Red Birds increased their advantage to 3½ games.

The victory showed that the Cardinals are again hitting, while the hurlers seem to have regained their cunning on the mound. Sherdel won his sixteenth victory, while his team mates collected ten safeties off three Philadelphia hurlers. Jim Bottomley celebrated his return to the lineup after an illness, by getting two hits, one a triple. Score:

ADKINS TAKES MOUND TODAY AGAINST MACKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—Philadelphia's Athletics and Chicago's White Sox will resume their series tomorrow afternoon, all hands being quite rested, thanks to rain. Connie Mack had scheduled exhibitions for two squads and the Sox management for the third successive year made a vain effort to stage a game in Allentown. But it rained and the ball players and attaches relaxed.

The White Sox have announced that inasmuch as they showed their integrity by beating the Yanks four out of the last six games played, they are free to declare they are pulling for said Yanks to cop.

Grady Adkins will oppose the fine patriarch, Jack Quinn, in the resumption of things tomorrow. Tommy Thomas will take his turn Tuesday and Ted Lyons is slated for mound duty Wednesday.

Pirates Recall Comorosky, Fielder, from Indianapolis

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Outfielder Adam Comorosky, who was farmed by the Pittsburgh Nationals to the Indianapolis American association team early this year, has been recalled and will report to Manager Donie Bush here tomorrow.

BRUINS DO BRISK BUSINESS AT BAT; COLLECT 13 HITS

Carlson Stops Foes on Five Blows.

Victory over the Phillies while the Giants were taking it on the chin from the Robins yesterday increased the lead of the Cardinals to three and one-half games in the National league race. The defeat of the Giants, coupled with the victory of the Cubs over Boston, also brought McGraw's men back into an actual second place tie with Chicago, but because of the difference in the number of games played the New Yorkers have a percentage advantage. The Reds held their four and one-half lap interval by stopping the Pirates, who now are six and one-half games from the leaders.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

With thirteen assorted smacks off Kent Greenfield and with Hal Carlson hurling five hit ball, business was brisk for the Cubs yesterday at Wrigley field. They turned loose their blows in such timely fashion that run getting was comparatively simple, so they made a sweep of the Braves' series by taking the fourth to the count of 6 to 3, before a crowd of 30,000. That sent the Boston boys away from here with a record of one victory for the season.

HAL CARLSON.

Although clouts were plentiful, most of them were cornered by a select few and such able gentlemen as Riggs Stephenson and Wilson the Hack did not profit in any way. Three of the taps were the work of English, the same number as well as a stolen base and a pass fell to Cuyler's credit, and several fellows had two apiece. But for timeliness and effectiveness, Capt. Grimm carried off the heavy honors by cleaning up a full house with a double, thus starting his gang on the way to victory.

Errors Rob Carlson of Shutout.

Carlson's flinging was of such a finished nature that without cracks in his defense he might have produced a shutout. The usually steady Maguire made a slip between a couple hits in the third that led to two runs. These and one more were promptly retrieved in the home third on Grimm's clean-up double. More runs were picked up in the fourth, fifth, and seventh, so when the Braves registered once on a bum chuck to third by Hartnett in the eighth there was no reason to worry.

The Braves started to get unruly in the third when Taylor led off with a single to right. Greenfield forced him on a bounder to Grimm, Richbourg grounded to Maguire, and there might have been a double play if Molly hadn't fumbled. A pass to Jack Smith loaded the corners. Then, with the infield drawn in, Sisler pushed a single between English and McMillan, sending Greenfield and Richbourg home.

Grimm's Double Clears Bases.

English started to make the home third worth while by singling past third. Smith raced back to the wall to pull in Maguire's long drive, but Cuyler followed with a single that put English on third. Wilson refused to bite on badly pitched balls, so walked, cramming the bases. After Stephenson had hoisted to right, Grimm sailed a liner to left center and it fell off the tip of Smith's glove for a double, English, Cuyler and Wilson racing over the plate.

Cuyler also figured in a run picked up in the fourth. McMillan opened with a single and English scratched a hit to Sisler, after which Kiki beat out a slow roller to third, McMillan scoring. A triple by Hartnett and hit to deep shot by McMillan added one more in the fifth. Hartnett also scored the last Cub run in the seventh on his own double and a single by Carlson.

In the Braves' eighth Richbourgh and J. Smith opened with hits and the former tallied when Hartnett made a low throw trying to catch him off third.

17 DAY PROGRAM OPENS TODAY AT ARLINGTON TRACK

Huge Plant Ready; 1,200 Horses Moved.

BY FRENCH LANE.

FRANK BRUEN.

New scenery will greet the Chicago turf crowd today when it assembles for the call of boots and saddles at 2:15 o'clock. Over the weekend the racing scene shifted from Hawthorne on the west side to Arlington Park out north, where a late summer season of seventeen days starts this afternoon.

An opening program that compares with the best offered in Chicago this year will be the attraction. And there will be many strange faces filling the various official positions. Practically all those who will be in charge of the conduct of the sport are new to Arlington patrons, for there was a complete shakeup from the post of presiding steward down following the spring meeting. Many believe the changes will work for better racing.

Plant in Readiness.

The huge plant—the largest in America—was in complete readiness yesterday for the beginning of the new meeting. It was also alive with turf activity, while the job of transferring some 1,200 horses from Hawthorne and Lincoln Fields to Arlington was under way. There are a few additions to the local horse colony, a number of stables having arrived from points in Canada and New York.

The Inaugural handicap has attracted a field of fleet sprinters, headed by Senator Camden's Dark Phantom, the Shady Brook stable's Cayuga, Gracious Gift, Torchilla, and other fast steppers. But there is another race on the card, a six furlong dash for 2 year olds, that will hold just as much interest as the carded feature.

In this event, Voltear, the star juvenile from the Nevada Stock Farm stable, will get an opportunity to prove if his defeat a week ago in the Hawthorne Juvenile stakes was in the nature of a fluke or if he has really lost the brilliant form that marked his racing on Chicago tracks earlier in the season. Such stars as Clyde Van Dusen, Vermajo, Double Heart, and War Buddy are tossed in against him. They are among the best youngsters here and if Voltear trims them he will no doubt become the favorite for the rich American National Futurity to be run at Arlington on Sept. 8.

Is Chicago Institution.

Practically all the handicaps Arlington has faced since the track was constructed have been removed during the summer. The magnificent plant, intended as a playground for horse lovers along the north shore, has become almost strictly a Chicago institution, owned by Chicagoans, many of whom will race their own horses there.

The numerous changes made both in ownership and the direction of the track have served to inspire much confidence in the track among patrons and horsemen. It is expected some of the gayest and most representative racing crowds of the year in Chicago will assemble at Arlington during the next three weeks.

General Manager Frank J. Bruen has promised to speed up the programs and have them run off in time to get the crowds back to the loop before 6 o'clock each night.

Jones Breaks Chicago Golf Club Record

who have refereed a foursome in the morning will be eligible to compete.

Starting this morning the Illinois Women's championship will begin at Lincoln park. There will be an 18 hole qualifying round today, with match play starting tomorrow and continuing through the week.

Wednesday the Western Women's Golf association will begin the third and last of their series of two day match play events, Edgewater will hold its annual locker room championship and the service clubs will hold a tournament at Gleneagles. In addition to the individual prizes there will be low gross and low net competitions for twenty-man teams of the Kiwanis, Lions, Rotary, Optimist, Co-Operative, Prosperity and Exchange clubs.

Title Golf at Detroit.

Thursday and Friday are the Walker cup matches, of course, and Saturday Johnny Farrell and Walter Hagen will continue their long distance duel with 36 holes at Ridgemoor. This will be the second of their series of five 36 hole matches to determine the "championship of the world." The first will be played at the Western club in Detroit, Wednesday, the second here, the third at Philmont, Philadelphia, Sept. 8 or 9, the fourth probably at Baltimore or Pittsburgh and the fifth, Sept. 16, at Siwanoy, N. Y.

GEORGE DAWSON WINS GOTHAM AMATEUR GOLF

Rye, N. Y., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—After a year's interval the New York state amateur golf championship is again held by a player from the metropolitan district. Arthur (Ducky) Yates of Rochester tried to set a new record in winning this title for the second consecutive year, but he could not match the steady, consistent golf of George Dawson of the Westchester Biltmore club, and lost in a 36 hole final by 4 and 3.

Dawson is one of the new golfing residents of the year, having come here about four months ago from Chicago, and this was his first venture in this competition.

WIGGINS WINS 40 MILE ROBY RACE; SIX CARS IN SPILL

Charles Wiggins of Indianapolis won the 40 mile national dirt track colored championship in a thrilling race with Bill Carson of Chicago yesterday at the Roby Speedway. Of the six that started only two finished, the others spilling during the race.

Bill Jeffries of Chicago was the favorite when the six lined up for the start. He took an early lead and held his advantage until the 24th lap when a blowout threw his car into the ditch and fractured his left leg at the knee. Rodney Morris, also of Chicago, was another accident victim when his Fronty Ford left the track on the twelfth lap.

Carson and Wiggins staged a spectacular race in the last five miles. Wiggins' time for the 40 miles was 35:32 1-5. About 5,000 saw the race.

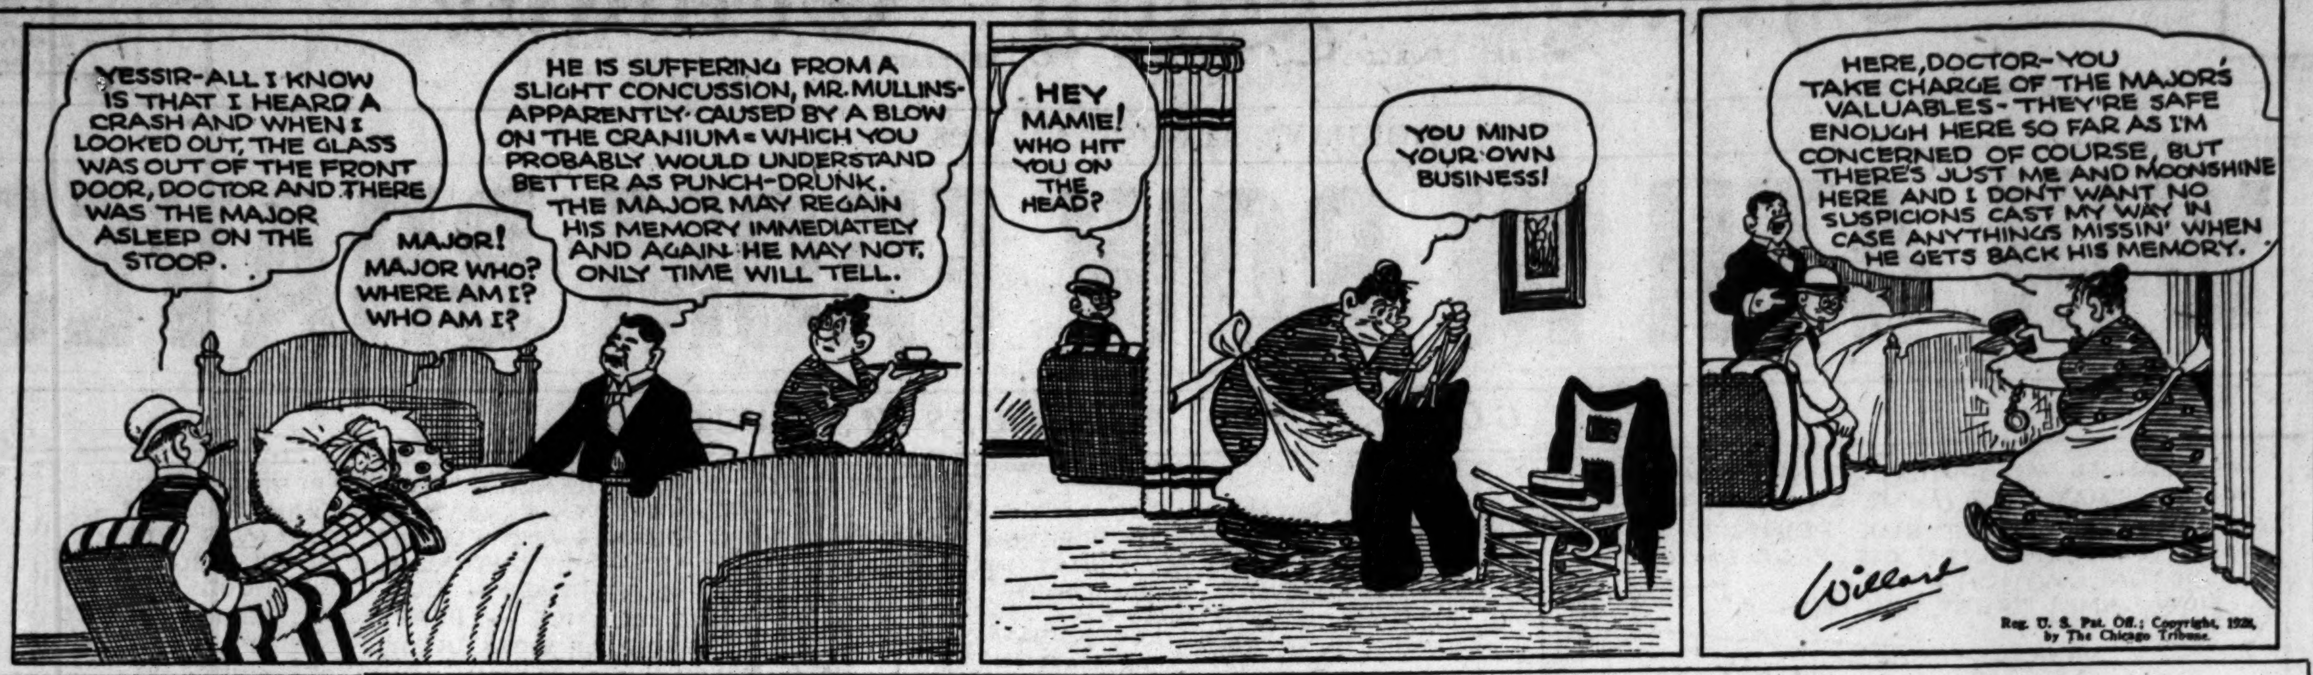
MOON MULLINS—THE TRUE MULLINS SPIRIT



YESSIR—ALL I KNOW IS THAT I HEARD A CRASH AND WHEN I LOOKED OUT, THE GLASS WAS OUT OF THE FRONT DOOR, DOCTOR AND THERE WAS THE MAJOR ASLEEP ON THE STOOP.
MAJOR! MAJOR WHO? WHERE AM I? WHO AM I?
HE IS SUFFERING FROM A SLIGHT CONCUSSION, MR. MULLINS—APPARENTLY CAUSED BY A BLOW ON THE CRANIUM—WHICH YOU PROBABLY WOULD UNDERSTAND BETTER AS PUNCH-DRUNK. THE MAJOR MAY REGAIN HIS MEMORY IMMEDIATELY AND AGAIN HE MAY NOT. ONLY TIME WILL TELL.
HEY MAMIE! WHO HIT YOU ON THE HEAD?
YOU MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS!
HERE, DOCTOR—YOU TAKE CHARGE OF THE MAJOR'S VALUABLES—THEY'RE SAFE ENOUGH HERE SO FAR AS I'M CONCERNED OF COURSE, BUT THERE'S JUST ME AND MOONSHINE HERE AND I DON'T WANT NO SUSPICIONS CAST MY WAY IN CASE ANYTHING'S MISSIN' WHEN HE GETS BACK HIS MEMORY.

Becker Tells What to Do if Lost in Woods

BY BOB BECKER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lake Gogebic, Upper Peninsula of Michigan, Aug. 26.—An illustration of how to keep your head when you are lost in the woods, how to make yourself comfortable overnight in a bivouac camp and how to find your way out of the woods by the use of well known landmarks was given up here a few days ago, when Ben Crissey, grandson of Forrest Crissey, the well known writer, Burt Hargraves, a resident of Lake Gogebic, and a local guide walked into the "bush" near the head of the Union river and, due to faulty directions of a their giude, were obliged to stay out all night without camping equipment.

This party, along with Forrest Crissey and George R. Cotton of Chicago, started into the woods in the afternoon to make a short cut to the lovely spring which forms the head of the Union river, but only Ben Crissey, Hargraves and the pseudo guide pushed on to find the spring. The leader proved to be a dud and night found the party crashing through a swamp with only an approximate idea of where they were and with no food and no shelter. There was nothing to do but make a bivouac camp until morning and then Hargraves, who is familiar with nearly all this Lake Gogebic and Porcupine mountain country, could pick up a landmark and by means of it, steer the party back to civilization.

They had matches, knives and compasses [these articles which no hiker should travel without up here] so a fire was started, firewood for the night collected, and comfortable bough beds made so every one slept warm and rested during the night. Fortunately, no rain fell, so shelters were unnecessary.

As soon as daylight came, Hargraves utilized high ground [this Lake Superior country is quite hilly], picked up two familiar landmarks, one stream and a range of hills, and with these as guideposts, the three hiked nine miles to a main traveled highway, thus giving a pretty good demonstration of how to use your head when you lose your way and stay all night in the woods.

HELEN MAKES BID FOR TWO TENNIS CROWNS TODAY

HELEN WILLS.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—It will be California day tomorrow afternoon in the stadium of the West Side Tennis club at Forest Hills when Miss Helen Wills plays Miss Helen Jacobs in the finals of the national championship singles and Miss Wills and Mrs. George W. Wightman oppose Miss Edith Cross and Mrs. Lawrence A. Harper for the doubles honors.

All of these players are residents of California with the exception of Mrs. Wightman, and she, too, lived on the coast when she was winning national titles.

Today before a gallery of approximately 300 spectators who remained in spite of the rain, Miss Wills and Mrs. Wightman vanquished Mrs. Charlotte Hosmer Chapin of Springfield, Mass., and Miss Penelope Anderson of Richmond, Va., 6-0, 6-2. In the other semi-final Miss Cross and Mrs. Harper distinguished themselves by decisively defeating Miss Jacobs and Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, 6-3, 6-2.

Helen Excels at Net.

Because of the inclement weather, which has interfered with the play on three days, both semi-finals were put on at the same time rather than take a chance with the rain.

Miss Wills was the outstanding figure on the court when she and Mrs. Wightman defeated Mrs. Chapin and Miss Anderson. The champion's volleying was even more effective than her driving, and many of the rallies found her picking the ball off her feet with half volleys and smashing overhead in deadly fashion. Mrs. Wightman's short cross-court returns and close order work also stood out, and both she and Miss Wills used the lob and drop shot combination with damaging effect.

Mrs. Chapin and Miss Anderson expected to make about an even fight of it, but they always were kept on the defensive. The Californians ran eight games from the start before Mrs. Chapin and Miss Anderson broke through Mrs. Wightman in the third game of the second set.

Miss Wills Heavy Favorite.

Mrs. Harper and Miss Cross did not cause any great surprise in defeating Mrs. Bundy and Miss Jacobs. The former team rates highly in the doubles.

Miss Wills is the decided favorite over Miss Jacobs in the singles final tomorrow afternoon. In their last meeting, the Easthampton final, the champion won in overwhelming fashion. Miss Jacobs is playing much better tennis now than she did on that occasion and should make a better showing, but there appears to be little likelihood that she can beat the player who has not lost a set all year.

Griffith Hopes to Add White to His K. O. Victims

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Tuffy Griffith of Sioux City, Ia., and K. O. White, colored light heavyweight of New Orleans, will meet in the feature bout of Promoter Mique Malloy's boxing show tonight at the Midway Gardens, 60th street and Cottage Grove avenue. They will box eight rounds to a decision.

Since he left the middleweight division Griffith has fought twice in the light heavyweight class, winning both by knockouts. He stopped Del Fontaine of Canada in two rounds and Tony Marullo of New Orleans in one session. Tuffy has developed a stinging punch in his right hand. White's claims to recognition are a knockout over Wolcott Langford and a decision over Red Uhlan.

Ernie Owens, California heavyweight, and Tom Williams of Kansas City will be the principals in another eight rounder. Both have appeared in local rings. Jack McCarthy, west side welterweight, and Louie La Velle of Anderson, Ind., will clash in another match of six rounds. McCarthy is a boxer and La Velle a fighter.

The other fights will bring together Sandy Garrison of California and Norman Brown of the south side, Paul Pantaleo, former Tilden High school football player, and Tim O'Keefe of South Chicago and Bagpipe McNulty and Sam Adduci, south side lightweights. The show will open at 8:15 o'clock.

◆

Promoter Clarence McFarland has completed the supporting card of fights to the ten round decision contest between Joe Dundee, world's welterweight champion, and Young Jack Thompson at the White Sox park on Wednesday night. Owen Phelps, Phoenix, Ariz., middleweight, will meet Eddie ["Kid"] Palmer of St. Paul in the eight round semi-windup. The other fights will bring together Larry Johnson and Jimmy Mahoney, Herb Peterson and Lou Freedman, Prince Saunders and Sonny Lloyd, and Willie Pelligrini and Jack Hanley.

Dundee's title will not be at stake, as the weight agreed upon is 148 pounds, one pound over the championship limit. Both fighters will complete the harder part of training today.

◆

Rene DeVos of Belgium and Cowboy Jack Willis of San Francisco, two of the outstanding challengers for Mickey Walker's middleweight title, will settle down to the final lap of training today for their ten round clash at Mills' stadium on Thursday night. DeVos recently won a decision over Dave Shade in the east and Willis has met such fighters as Mike McTigue, Bert Colima, Del Fontaine, and Dude Martinez. Promoter Mullen will try to match the winner with Walker for one of his indoor shows this fall or winter. The promoter will announce the supporting card tomorrow.

SHAW INVITES GENE TO BE HIS GUEST IN LONDON

[Copyright: 1928: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Gene Tunney who, upon his arrival in England, expressed a desire to meet George Bernard Shaw, will have his wish granted on Sept. 15. The Irish playwright extended an invitation in a telegram which Tunney received during the Leopardstown races in Dublin, where he and John McCormack were seeing McCormack's filly, Golden Lullaby, win.

It was learned tonight in London that Shaw is cutting short a vacation at Juanles Pins on the Riviera particularly to return to London while Tunney is here. Tunney is due to return here from Dublin tomorrow and will be lionized by two parties of London literary folk during the week.

Sparta Soccer Team Upsets Detroit, 3 to 2

Mainly because of the individual efforts of Joe Kratochvil, speedy inside left, Sparta defeated the Holley Carburetors, 3 to 2, yesterday at Sparta field and sent the Detroit eleven away with an even break in its two game invasion of Chicago soccer fields. Kratochvil scored all of the west siders' goals, which gave his team a victory by the same score as the visitors won from the Brickies Saturday.

The winning goal came with about two minutes of play remaining and was made when the Spartas had only ten men on the field. Lada Matus had been forced out with an injured leg.

Sparta started the game with many of last year's men missing and was forced to use Nudera and Mrnka of the second squad. The youngsters did nobly, and at half time the Bohemians were leading, 1 to 0.

The Holleys, who displayed clever team work, knotted the count after seven minutes' play in the second stanza, Gerritt Visser, the big Dutch center, scoring from 15 yards out. Play continued on even terms for about 20 minutes and then Sparta forged to the front again when "Khatcho" scored after Vondracek had placed the ball in front of the Holley goal. Two minutes later Webster placed the ball in the net for Detroit.

Both teams fought hard for the winning marker, but it didn't come until Tomek, from a corner, booted the ball to Fencl, who headed goalward for Kratochvil, who hustled the ball over the line. Lineup:

WEISSMULLER AND RUDDY SHATTER SWIM RECORDS

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Two world's swimming records were broken today in the special Olympic meet held at the Ostend Surf club at Far Rockaway. Johnny Weissmuller, Illinois A. C. swimmer, shattered the world's 125 yard free style mark by negotiating the distance in 1:07 3-5, eclipsing the former record made by Duke Kahanamoku in Honolulu in 1927 by slightly less than five seconds. Kahanamoku's previous record for the distance was 1:12 2-5.

Although losing the 600 yard event to Edward Lee of the New York A. C., Ray Ruddy, a club mate, broke the world's record for this distance in a handicap race, bettering the mark held by Arne Borg of 7:17 3-5, established last year. Ruddy starting from scratch finished in the remarkable fast time of 7:06 4-5, nearly 11 seconds better than the former mark.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—There are many indications at present that business and industry generally will establish better records in the second half of the year than in the first. Thus it appears that when the entire year's commercial experience is tabulated it will make a moderately better showing, in point of volume turnover at least, than 1927.

Competition between company and company in important industries is much keener than a year ago. This has brought about a succession of mergers, improved methods of manufacture and distribution and a general tightening of the overhead.

Better Than Year Ago.

There is no reason to believe, however, that these considerations seriously will affect corporate profits for the entire year. A survey of 145 industrial concerns, whose income accounts for the first and second quarters have been published, shows first quarter earnings 8 per cent ahead of those of a year ago and second quarter earnings 15.6 per cent better than for the second quarter last year. Very likely the third quarter earnings, in view of the present acceleration will make a relatively better showing.

Autumn buying is reaching its full stride. In some lines, notably iron, steel and motors expectations have been exceeded. Industry has had the impetus of what may be termed a "flying start" as the seasons near a change.

Price Level More Stable.

This was largely because of the fact that the summer let down was less pronounced than usual. There apparently is no serious oversupply of raw or finished materials and the price level seems well stabilized with an upward trend in some directions already noted. The fears of commercial stagnation during the "presidential year" have disappeared entirely.

Probably the most important single factor in bringing about a change in the business attitude is the practical assurance of a record outturn of agricultural commodities this year.

Weather conditions between this time and the completion of the harvest, of course, will have a great deal to do with the final yield and the prices wheat, corn, cotton, hogs, and cattle will bring in the open market. Retail trade throughout the agricultural districts has shown rather a remarkable expansion in the last few weeks, a situation which may be traced directly back to promising crop prospects and gains are now to be noted in practically all lines of merchandising and in almost all sections of the country.

Higher Money an Obstacle.

The money situation continues the "fly in the ointment." There is no evidence whatever that the policy of the federal reserve banks toward the money markets has changed. The task ahead, and on which the banking authorities have been at work for several weeks, is to so balance the supply of available funds that there will be no strain on the markets when the peak demand for the year is reached, about Oct. 1. Extraordinarily high rates continue for loans on securities. There are no signs of relaxation in that direction. On the other hand, even the high rates have not had the effect of stampeding the stock market. Trading last week was on a big and broad scale, with fluctuations in most representative shares reflecting a sharp upward trend. An unexpected decrease of $22,000,000 in brokers' loans, when a sharp increase had been anticipated further heightened confidence. Two theories were advanced about this curious effect of loans on securities. One is that bonds which have been on dealers' shelves for several weeks or even months and which have figured in brokers' loans have been liquidated; the other, that the outside public has not yet come back into the stock market and that it is merely a process of stock going in one door and out the other without distribution to ultimate holders.

MANY PROBLEMS LINE LAKES TO OCEAN SHIPWAY

BY HARPER LEECH.

The prominence of the question of opening the great lakes to the sea in the utterances of the two candidates for President indicates how important that will become in the next administration. But it is by no means certain that the next administration will settle the question.

Any one who has observed how the conflicting interests of seven commonwealths and certain private interests in the waters of the Colorado river—and a possible 550,000 horsepower of energy to be derived therefrom—can prolong and complicate an engineering question for seven years with the end nowhere in sight, can have little optimism about a quick compromise of the greater conflicting interests latent in the seaway question.

Two great nations, two great valleys, scores of cities, several states and provinces and numerous private interests, industrial, utility and transport have special interests in the potential traffic from the heart of America to the sea, and in 5,000,000 horsepower of energy which would be developed as a partial byproduct of what probably is the most feasible navigation project.

When one gets into the great lakes to the sea project, the number of conflicting interests which suggest themselves is bewildering. Only a few have been much discussed. The opposition of the ports of Montreal and New York has received most attention. Here in the midwest we have regarded New York advocacy of an "all American" ship canal across that state as primarily an obstructionist tactic to any water route to the sea.

On the face of things that view has been plausible. Why should New York City really want any through route, if equally shrewd Montreal has opposed the St. Lawrence seaway because she has feared that the ships that now stop at her docks would sail past her into the hinterland? Looking at Galveston and Liverpool flanked respectively by the Houston ship channel and the Manchester ship canal gives us little information as to what effect a seaway would have on Montreal or New York.

Neither Galveston nor Liverpool can be proved to have lost more than they have gained since they became "side tracks" on the main waterways—and navigation by ship to the heart of North America would place Montreal or New York on a new highway of ship traffic and possibly develop new traffic and new industries in their environs which are not foreseen now.

In view of all the complications which it appears may now arise, it is not impossible that from the standpoint of American interests as a whole, we may be very glad that for purposes of negotiation at any rate, there does exist the alternative of a ship channel to the sea from the lakes across American territory.

A SINKING FUND IS PROVIDED SUFFICIENT TO RETIRE THIS ENTIRE ISSUE BY MATURITY

Mr. Clyde Perry, President of Tampa Union Terminal Company, summarizes his letter to us as follows:

Property: Tampa Union Terminal Company owns in fee approximately 9⅔ acres of valuable real estate in Tampa, Florida, bordered on one side by a deep water channel and on the opposite side by a 100 foot street, along which runs the City Belt Line Railroad. The Company is now constructing on this property a 620 foot reinforced concrete dock and transit shed, a modern eight-story fireproof reinforced concrete dry and cold storage warehouse, a citrus fruit packing and pre-cooling plant, power house, and complete mechanical equipment for loading and unloading ships, cars and motor trucks.

Business and Management: The Company will acquire all of the public cold storage business and good-will of Hamlett & Perry Bros., Inc., which has for fifteen years successfully operated the only public cold storage warehouse in Tampa. This, together with assurances already obtained from certain citrus fruit growers, should use over one-half of the Company's fruit packing and pre-cooling facilities. A contract has also been made with Lykes Bros. Steamship Company, one of the largest operating companies in American Marine Commerce, whereby that Company will close its present inadequate terminals and transfer its business to the new wharf and transit shed.

A fleet of trucks, owned and operated by the Company for the delivery and collection of merchandise for manufacturers, growers and distributors in the Tampa trade territory, will enable the Company to render a complete and efficient service for handling rail and water shipments; pre-cooling, packing and shipping of citrus fruits and perishable vegetables; general warehousing and cold storage and general merchandise distribution for all points within a radius of 100 miles of Tampa.

The directorate of the Company will include substantial business and professional men who have had years of experience in industries closely identified with that of the present Company, many of whom also have a substantial investment in the securities of the Company junior to these Bonds.

Need for Tampa Union Terminal: Recent surveys by independent engineers reveal the fact that Tampa has (1) no modern commercial wharfage and dockage facilities for general merchandise; (2) inadequate modern dry and cold storage space; (3) no facilities whatever for pre-cooling of citrus fruits (there is no marine terminal pre-cooling plant in Florida). The Tampa Union Terminal Company will provide these facilities and the management expects that the Company will use 70% of its facilities in the first year of operation and 80% to 85%, its practicable operating limit, in the second year and thereafter.

Security and Valuation: These bonds will be a direct obligation of Tampa Union Terminal Company and will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed first mortgage on the Company's real estate, warehouses, docks, buildings, machinery and equipment. They will represent less than a 43% mortgage on the appraised value of the properties as determined by Messrs. Parsons, Klapp, Brinckerhoff & Douglas, Engineers, of New York City. These engineers have determined the going concern value of the Company's completed properties, when improved according to plans and specifications, and accepting the valuation of $1,079,388.90 placed on the land by the Tampa Real Estate Board, to be $3,308,350. The appraisal of the Tampa Real Estate Board of $1,079,388.90 for the land alone represents over 77% of the total issue of First Mortgage 6½% Bonds.

The completion of the construction work is guaranteed by a bond written by the Maryland Casualty Company. Title insurance in favor of the Trustee will be furnished by the North American Title Guaranty Company.

Earnings: Messrs. Parsons, Klapp, Brinckerhoff & Douglas, Engineers, estimate annual net earnings, under normal operating conditions, from the following operations to be: water terminal $97,950; warehouse (cold and dry storage) $167,700; citrus fruit packing, pre-cooling and car icing $127,000. Net earnings from these sources total $392,650. Local taxes are estimated at $15,000, leaving a balance available for interest, depreciation, and Federal taxes of $377,650. This is more than 4.00 times maximum annual interest requirements on the Company's First Mortgage Bonds.

Tampa: Tampa, usually referred to as Florida's greatest industrial city, is also known as the "Gateway to the Panama Canal." The population in 1927 according to R. L. Polk was 166,270, showing steady and rapid growth since 1900 at which time the federal census showed only 15,839. In 1910 the population was 37,782; in 1920—51,608. Because of its natural harbor and strategic geographical position as the nearest port of importance in the United States to the Panama Canal, Tampa's tonnage by water has shown a remarkable growth from 1,525,000 tons in 1910 to 2,149,000 tons in 1920 and to 4,170,262 tons in 1927. Customs receipts have increased from $957,071 in 1920 to $2,630,554 in 1927.

Tampa leads the world in the manufacture of cigars and also in the shipment of phosphate. The majority of the world's supply of this mineral lies within a 75-mile radius of the city. The City is served by the Atlantic Coast Line and the Seaboard Air Line Railroads and during 1927 nearly 2900 vessels entered and cleared this port.

Application will be made to list these bonds on the Baltimore Stock Exchange.

Price 100 and Accrued Interest, to Yield 6.50%

These bonds are offered if, as and when issued and received by us and subject to the approval of all legal matters by Messrs. McKay, Withers & Ramsey, Attorneys-at-Law, of Tampa, for the Company, and by Messrs. Semmes, Bowen & Semmes, Attorneys-at-Law, of Baltimore, for the Bankers. Definitive Bonds, it is expected, will be ready for delivery on or about September sixth.

$5,000,000
Public Service Company of Oklahoma
First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds, Series D
Due May 1, 1957
Price 96 and Interest, Yielding 5.27%

The following is summarized from a letter of Mr. Martin J. Insull, Vice President of the Public Service Company of Oklahoma:

Business: The Public Service Company of Oklahoma, upon completion of present financing, will supply electricity without competition in Tulsa, Okmulgee, and McAlester and 99 other Oklahoma communities. The Company will also supply ice to 16 communities, natural gas to 3, and water to 1 community. The population of the communities to be served is approximately 326,000.

Property: The properties of the Company include electrical generating stations with a combined capacity of 71,120 KW; over 1,000 miles of high tension transmission lines and adequate distribution lines. The Company's ice plants are 16 in number and have a daily manufacturing capacity of 744 tons.

There was recently constructed a modern steam generating station at Weleetka, designed for an ultimate capacity of 45,000 KW. The first unit of 15,000 KW is completed and in operation. This plant is designed to meet the increased demand for electric service in the territory to the north and south and east of Weleetka, and to supply the Tulsa area with additional service.

Purpose: The proceeds of these Bonds will be applied toward acquisition of additional property including Oklahoma properties of Southwest Power Company and for other corporate purposes.

Security: These Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, are secured by a first mortgage on all of the fixed properties, rights and franchises of the Company, now owned, and on all such property hereafter acquired against which any Bonds can be issued under the Mortgage.

Earnings: The earnings of the Company, as it will be constituted upon completion of the present financing, were as follows:

Operating Expenses, Maintenance and Taxes	2,991,946.75	3,208,594.64
Net Earnings before Depreciation	$2,490,721.43	$2,987,188.64
Annual interest on the First Mortgage Gold Bonds to be outstanding requires		$912,500.00

For the twelve months ended June 30, 1928, over 78.7% of gross earnings and 81.8% of net earnings were derived from the sale of electricity.

Management: The Company is controlled, through the Central and South West Utilities Company, by the Middle West Utilities Company. The management is in the hands of experienced public utility men whose ability as economical and efficient operators has been thoroughly demonstrated.

TOPICS OF FINANCE, TRADE AND INDUSTRY

New York, Aug. 26.—(AP)—F. R. Henderson, president of the rubber exchange of New York, states that the present price of rubber, around 19 cents, will discourage any increase in production. The last census of crude rubber stocks in Malaya showing an increase in July is misleading, he declares, in that it takes into account dealers' stocks, which he classes as practically rubber in process of shipment.

The California oil industry is in a satisfactory condition and is showing constant improvement, says James A. Talbot, president of the Richfield Oil company. He predicts that gasoline production and consumption will break all records in the state, and looks for an increase in gasoline prices in keeping with the recent crude prices.

Peoples Drug Stores, Inc., have opened their 79th store in Hagerstown, Md. Since Jan. 1 thirty-one stores have been added to the chain, including the acquisition of the Day system of 21 stores in Akron, O.

Edward A. Brennan, formerly of the United States Steel corporation, has been appointed secretary of the new national metal exchange.

Utilities Power and Light corporation, a holding company with subsidiaries in 20 states, reports net income of $2,973,459 in the year ended June 30, an increase of $338,455 over the year ended Dec. 31.

General Gas and Electric corporation, controlling public utilities in New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Maryland, and Florida, reports net earnings for the year ended July 31 of $3,463,201, an increase of 15 per cent over the previous year.

The New York Central railroad has purchased 30 of the latest type of passenger locomotives and 25 heavy freight locomotives from the American Locomotive company for about $5,000,000.

PRICE OF WHEAT RESTS ON MANY MOVING FACTORS

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Wheat prices for the present and immediate future are said to depend largely on weather conditions in the American and Canadian northwest, export buying and the price to be paid farmers for their grain by the Canadian wheat pool.

Indications are that the Canadian price which is to be set today, or within a few days, will be 85c and possibly only 80c. It is assumed by traders here that Canadian farmers will sell freely regardless of price, owing to their record crop. They also are confronted with an unusual situation. In addition to the large crop and carryover, the United States and Canada have less wheat sold for export than at this time in recent years.

Foreign Crops Fair.

This should place foreigners in a position where they will have to buy more freely than in others years, but there is a fair crop abroad. Knowing there is an unusually large supply in North America, with a promise of a good sized harvest in the southern hemisphere, the foreigners probably will buy wheat as required for consumption, having supplies running steadily rather than amassing the buying in any one period for fear that prices will go still higher. Any decided change in South America might alter this position.

At present the wheat trade is in a position where the big run of winter wheat is over. Still the movement continues to be of fair size. The movement of spring wheat in the northwest is getting under way. After the beginning of September, weather conditions permitting, a free movement always is under way for the next few months. This wheat will be taken by millers, carriers, and investors, and hedged by sales of futures. That will require an enlarged buying power to sustain values.

Wheat Prices for Week.

Prices had a range of over 5c for the week, and closed with net losses on futures of ⅝@1½c. Cash premiums on hard winters which were down close to September early in the week were advanced at the close to 1½@2c for No. 1, and ½@1½c over for No. 2. A few of the receiving houses express the belief that the rush of wheat from the middle west is over as the result of the light crop. Prices for the week follow:

September Corn Nervous.

A nervous situation exists in September corn. It is difficult to trade at times without changing prices sharply. It is said to be selling too low, compared with the cash grain.

Leading holders of cash corn say there will be no cash deliveries on September contracts, and that they are disposing of their grain as rapidly as they expected a month ago. Indications are that Chicago stocks will show a large decrease for this week, but will not be affected by the large charters which are to load today.

Reports as to supplies of old corn back in the country are varied. There are a few spots in Iowa that have fair supplies. With present crop prospects, it is regarded as good judgment to sell the old corn.

There are a few spots in Nebraska where it has been too hot and dry, so corn has deteriorated. Most of the crop has reached the denting stage and is regarded as likely to be out of the way of frost inside of 20 to 30 days.

September corn closed Saturday at 90⅝@91c; December, 73@73⅛c, and March, 75⅝@75⅝c, showing September 1⅜c higher, and other months, ⅛@⅛c lower. Prices follow:

Oat Prices Are Low.

With a big crop, oat prices are low which encourages domestic consumption and export business. The latter is said to be absorbing a liberal percentage of arrivals at a few of the leading markets, while consumption on farms is larger, particularly in the dairy districts. Threshings are said to be nearly completed and yields satisfactory. At the close September was 37⅜@37⅛c, December, 40½c; March, 42⅞c; and May, 44⅝c, with net gains of 1⅛@1⅛c. Prices follow:

Rye Prices Lower.

Northwestern and local interests are selling rye and trade with the seaboard is light. There is enough pressure, however, to carry prices down and making prices ½@2½c lower, with distant futures leading, September being 96¼c, December 96⅞c, and March 98⅞c.

LARD TRADE IMPROVED

Domestic trade in lard has enlarged of late, while the speculative interest remains moderate. Large holders have been liquidating for several weeks with their offerings well taken and the close Saturday was at net gains of 7½@10c. Stocks are large, and the make is moderate.

Fresh meat trade is taking a large percentage of the hog receipts and pork loins have advanced 1@4c of late. Hog prices are around the highest of the season, and with better grades of beef rather scarce and high, consumption is turning more to hog products. Despite these conditions meat prices closed lower, ribs being unchanged to 15c, and bellies 2½@5c lower than a week ago. Prices follow:

National Food Products.

C. M., Rock Falls, Ill.—National Food Products corporation reported net income of $237,832 for 1927, as compared with $234,178 for 1926.

This was equal to $3.17 a share on the 75,000 shares of class A stock in 1927, against $3.12 a share in 1926 (before giving consideration to the participation features).

Surplus stood at $1,181,520 at the end of 1927, compared with $1,281,024 at the end of 1926.

A new high record of sales was expected to be shown for the first quarter of 1928.

Class A stock is entitled to receive a preferential dividend at the annual rate of $2.50 and to participate with class B to the extent of $1 per annum. After it has received a total of $3.50 in any year all further dividends belong to class B stock for that year.

We cannot predict the course of the market.

The corporation holds substantial investments in chain store systems and other food companies, also dairy and ice companies, operating more than 5,000 stores in various parts of the country.

FOREIGN BUYERS PUT APPROVAL ON CHICAGO MARKET

BY CHARLES BARTON.

Visitors from foreign countries last week expressed their satisfaction with the reasonable prices that wholesale dealers ask for their product in Chicago.

Ernest Axon from Douglas, Isle of Man, visited the American Furniture Mart, 666 Lake Shore drive, where he selected a stock for his store. He said that not only had he found the best furniture bargains in Chicago, but that clothing and other items purchased were most attractive in quality and price. A. Germer of Manila, Philippine islands, likewise said he was favorably impressed with Chicago as a market.

Wide sheetings, sheets, pillow cases, tubings and narrow muslins, along with some tickings, bear the brunt of recent advances in Chicago wholesale hands, according to C. J. Newton of the Dry Goods Reporter. These advances follow the general strengthening of the cotton market.

Prospects in the agricultural west for a large crop form the basis for justified optimism regarding fall business, it was said. Initial showings of fall merchandise are now on display, and as buying has not been for more than immediate needs, reorders are expected as soon as a brisk demand starts. An early, cool fall will accomplish a great deal towards hastening this movement, it is believed.

In the ready to wear center some factors dealing in better grade frocks are said to have been complaining some about business. Wash frock lines, however, among them several of the old established firms, have been doing the largest business in their history.

Decline in Employment Reported for Last Month

Last month showed the customary decline in industrial employment in the middle west, according to the monthly review of the Chicago federal reserve bank. Vacation periods and inventory taking effected a reduction in the number of workers as well as in the amount of pay rolls.

All groups showed smaller pay rolls, even those registering a gain in the volume of employment. Losses of 0.6 per cent in men and 6.1 per cent in pay were reported for the period June 15 to July 15 by plants with an employment of 342,000 people.

Savings deposits show a decline on Aug. 1 of 0.5 per cent in number of accounts, 1.1 per cent in average amount, and 1.15 per cent in total deposits, compared with the end of June, but respective gains of 0.9, 1.6, and 2.5 per cent were recorded over a year ago.

Illinois Central Reports Decrease in July Income

The net operating income of the Illinois Central system for July and the first seven months of this year both show decreases compared to corresponding periods of last year, a financial statement issued yesterday shows. The net operating income for July was $1,662,697, a decrease of $413,775, and the net income for the first seven months of this year was $14,011,962, or a decrease of $1,490,104. A decrease of $753,600 is noted in the railway operating revenue for July, which was $13,974,381.43. Total operating revenue for the first seven months this year, $101,535,857, is $3,122,919 less than for the corresponding period last year.

Frisco Operating Revenue Shows Increase for July

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Total operating revenue of the St. Louis and San Francisco railway for the first seven months of 1928 was $47,300,035, says a statement made public here tonight. A decrease of $3,194,735 under the revenue of the similar period of 1927 was shown. Operating expenses were $34,350,777, or $2,232,339 less than for the first seven months of 1927. July, 1928, operating revenue was $7,132,523, an increase of $19,195 over July, 1927, while operating expenses were $5,107,143, or $139,389 less than in the same month of 1927.

Salesmen!!!

Part Time Salesmen!!!

HERE'S ELECTRIC NEWS FOR R. E. MEN AND WOMEN. BIGGEST SINCE THE ARMISTICE. Advance notices of pre-opening of the most beautiful $3,000,000 development in CHICAGO, [at 6800 North] and due west of the great DEVON-WESTERN DISTRICT.

YOUR SHIP COMES IN.

Here is the rainbow of hope for real estate men and women — the means of ending all your troubles and FINANCIAL WORRIES. Here is the kind of a deal you have hoped for—wished for—yes, even prayed for, during the last two years. If you want money—need money—will work for money—THEN READ ON.

BACK TO CHICAGO.

My development represents a brand new field of operation in the choicest boom spot in America — C-H-I-C-A-G-O — backed up with millions of dollars and override for quick and very easy selling.

YOU NEED A BOOM SPOT.

You need a boom spot now for subdivision selling and CHICAGO is that boom spot. I have money, and I am known as a man who spends big money to do big things. I have one of the largest and best equipped real estate offices in the Loop. I am going to take in some good men and women with me and make them rich, as I have made others who associated with me during the past ten years. FIRST COME, FIRST SERVED —with the best I have to offer.

PERMANENT BEAUTY.

Over 1,000 BEAUTIFUL TREES and 10,000 SHRUBS to be planted immediately, and every square foot of the entire 175 acre development to be landscaped and seeded with LAWN GRASS [no unsightly weeds]. Property to be maintained and cared for for FIVE YEARS. I don't forget my salesmen's customers.

$250,000 Opening Sales.

The first units are SOLD OUT. The second units of this gigantic development open August 30, but already A LARGE AMOUNT OF RESERVATIONS have been made. Imagine apartment lots at $995, overlooking a 960 ACRE PUBLIC PARK [AS LARGE AS LINCOLN PARK] AND 18 HOLE PUBLIC GOLF COURSE. No objectionable surroundings to kill your sales. EVERY SALE MULTIPLIES ITSELF.

10% Down—Comm. Paid.

Apartment lots $995.00—$99 cash. Business lots of $1,995—$199 cash. Don't stand in the way of your success. Only cowards say: "I had no opportunity." Break loose from the tough, hard selling, FAR OUT, too high priced subdivisions, at half cash and DOUBLE fare to loop, hard as nails to sell, and you know it.

I AM READY FOR YOU.

Come and see me sure Monday or Tuesday evening, Aug. 27 or 28, at 8 p. m. sharp AND GET ALL THE FACTS. Be on time. Come with the expectation of hearing the BIGGEST NEWS SINCE THE ARMISTICE. The men and women who will join with me at once will make BIG MONEY IMMEDIATELY. They will represent the HIGHEST PAID salespeople in CHICAGO. Monday or Tuesday I will show you how to earn a year's salary within the next 90 days. You will not take $1,000 FOR MY PLAN OF QUICK AND EASY SELLING.

SALESMEN.

This Is Easy to Take.

So sure am I that I have a proposition unequaled by any other firm operating in the Chicago area that I will make any salesman that I take out to see our new townsite development, Cumberland, a present of $5 if, after seeing it and hearing my story, he decides not to grasp the opportunity of joining our organization and getting his share of the big money our men are making.

There are no strings to this offer. If you can afford to turn down the greatest selling opportunity of 1928 after seeing it I can afford to give you $5.00. That's fair, isn't it?

MEN.

ARE YOU EARNING $50 PER WEEK?

There are hundreds of men in Chicago who are not.

If you are one of the above group I want to talk to you.

It will cost you nothing to hear what I have to say.

It may mean money in your pocket.

It may mean more comfort for your family.

It has meant these things to a great many men.

Many men who answered this ad 1 year ago own their own homes, have bank accounts and drive their own automobiles.

Come in and meet these men. Talk to them and hear what they have to say—men that a year ago were NOT making $50 per week, are today making far more than this and above all are on the road to success.

The only requirements that I ask of you are earnesty, good appearance, and a desire to earn at least $50 per week.

THIS IS NOT REAL ESTATE, STOCKS, BONDS, or BRUSHES, and would prefer men who are not interested in house to house selling.

PERSONNEL DIRECTOR,

Suite 2107-19 Transportation Bldg., 608 S. Dearborn.

MEN—If you are a worker and want to make a living wage right from the start with real opportunity for advancement, be at 203 N. Wabash, Room 2118 Monday. Experience unnecessary. No capital required.

Between the ages of 17 and 21, for pleasant outdoor work. Neat appearing, high school graduates intending to enter college next year, or college men unable to go back this fall preferred.

REAL ESTATE LOANS.

SECOND MORTGAGE LOANS

The cost of money broowed for a necessity should be no greater than the cost of money borrowed for convenience sake nor for an opportunity.

We would never encourage a home owner to obtain funds on his home for use in a speculative venture, but where it is convenient or necessary or where there is an opportunity to use funds for a constructive purpose it is sometimes advisable to borrow money on a second mortgage.

Where there is need and when the time comes the average home owner does not know where to go.

Whatever the need The Chicago Morris Plan Bank, acting as agent for a substantial loan fund, has money to loan and facilities to offer to home owners whereby they can arrange for a second mortgage at a reasonable cost and upon convenient terms.

We make loans for a period of one to three years, with interest at 6% per annum and a commission of 3½% for one year, 6½% for two years and 9% for three years, and the monthly payments may be as low as 2% plus accrued interest each month.

The entire plan developed by The Chicago Morris Plan Bank as agent for the handling of second mortgages is geared down to meet the requirements of the home owner of this vicinity. We will be glad to have you come in and find out all about the proposition which we are offering in this direction.
